TRANSLATOR'S PREFACE.

THE present volume fulfils the promise which was made in the Second Series of the Lyra Germanica, that the hymns contained there should be brought out in another edition, accompanied by their proper tunes. It constitutes, however, at the same time, an independent work, with an object different from that of the two preceding volumes of translations from the German hymnology. The Lyra Germanica was intended chiefly for use as a work of private devotion; the Chorale Book for England is intended primarily for use in united worship in the church and family, as also in meetings for the practice of church music. This aim has throughout governed the choice of the hymns and tunes, and the form given to them; many beautiful hymns contained in the Lyra Germanica have thus been excluded, because their length or their purely reflective character rendered them ill-adapted for congregational finging, while a large number of new translations-about onethird of the whole-have been introduced, either for the fake of their tunes, or to supply necessary requirements of our services. These have been selected from various fources, chiefly from fome very early German hymn-books, from the collections of Tucher and Wackernagel, from the new Bavarian hymnbook of the Lutheran Church, and from the Evangelisches Kirchengesangbuch, Stuttgart, 1855, published by the Church Conference held in Eisenach in 1853.

With regard to the form of the hymns, confiderable difficulty has arisen on two points;—the great length of many of them, and the peculiarity of their metres involving the constant use of dissyllable rhymes. It has seemed best, in many cases, considerably to curtail the longer hymns, to bring them within limits which, though they may still appear long to those accustomed to the English allowance of four verses only, may yet, it is thought, be used without inconvenience. The hymn may frequently be found in its complete form in the Lyra Germanica. This course has, however, been deemed inad-miffible, where the hymn was very well known, or its meaning would have been feriously injured by abbreviation, and it has then been omitted altogether, or given at full length, as is the case with Luther's version of the Lord's Prayer, his Christmas Carol, and the fine old hymn on the Seven Words of our Lord on the Cross, here assigned to Good Friday.

As a rule, the hymn and tune have been confidered as one and indivisible, and the original metres therefore strictly preserved for the sake of the tunes, which would not admit of any deviation without detriment to their characteristic beauty. This has necessitated the frequent use of the double rhymes, which the structure of the German language renders as common, and indeed inevitable, in German, as monofyllabic rhymes are with us. The comparatively fmall number of the former in our language presents a serious obstacle to rendering the German hymns into English with the force and simplicity they possess in their own tongue, and without which they cannot become truly naturalized among us; yet it is one which must be encountered if the tunes also are to be introduced with them, as they ought to be, and in their proper form. In this work the question has been dealt with in detail, according to the special character of each hymn and tune; in some few instances, mostly of comparatively modern date, where the tune admitted without injury of adaptation to fingle rhymes, it has been thus arranged; in the greater number, the versions previously given in the Lyra Germanica have been remodelled to suit the music. Apart from the rhymes, it will be observed that these hymns posfels a great variety of metres, some of which will at first, no doubt, strike an English ear as strange. But it must be remembered that by far the greater part of these hymns and tunes date from the earlier ages of German hymnology, when hymns were always written to be fung, not read; for this reason the long and monotonous lines which mark the compositions of a later period and of a more didactic character, were instinctively avoided, and metres of more complex movement, and capable of conveying more variety of fentiment, were These metres will be found to follow a strict rule of their own, both in the varying number of feet, and the frequent alternation of Trochaic and Iambic lines; and it is believed that when the ear has once learnt to perceive this, and to affociate them with the appropriate rhythm of their tune, there is no reason why they should not become naturalized in England. few, included here for the fake of the tunes only, may probably always retain an alien found to us; but these are very few indeed, and, in general, it would certainly be greatly to the advantage of our hymn-books if we could widen the range both of form and thought which is now given to this class of compositions.

At the present time, when the whole subject of church music and congregational finging is receiving far more attention than ever before, it seems peculiarly desirable to seize the opportunity to enrich our own hymnology from the stores of a country so pre-eminently distinguished in this way. That these hymns and tunes first sprang up on a foreign soil is no reason why they should not take root among us; all who use our Common Prayer know well how the unity of Christian sentiment is selt to swallow up all diversity of national origin. In truth, any embodiment of Christian experience and devotion, whether in the form of hymn or prayer or meditation, or whatever shape art may give it, if it do but go to the heart of our common faith, becomes at once the rightful and most precious inheritance of the whole Christian Church. Much more, then, where the country is so nearly akin to our own, may we feel that it is at once our privilege and our duty to appropriate all that she can bestow on us, and to hope that her gifts will find a welcome and a home here.

C. W.

Clifton, September, 1862.

In laying before the public the "Chorale Book for England," the Editors defire that it should be accompanied by some observations explanatory of its contents, and also of the principles by which they have been guided in its compilation.

This work is based upon the translation of German hymns by Miss C. Winkworth, well known under the title of "Lyra Germanica," and contains hymns and tunes chiefly of German origin, and belonging more especially to the 16th and two following centuries. Had the "Chorale Book" however been restricted to a republication of the "Lyra Germanica" with music, it would not have comprised all that is requisite to illustrate the beauty of German Hymnology and to fit the work for use in the Church of England. It will be found therefore that, in addition to the principal contents of the "Lyra Germanica," much fresh matter has been brought forward.

Though the "Chorale Book" contains hymns for all the festivals and services of the Church of England, the Editors have abstained, with one exception, from inserting either hymns or tunes of English origin: to do so would have detracted from the special character which they believe the work to possess, as the first introduction into England of all that ranks as the essence of German Hymnology in words and music united.

During the 16th and 17th centuries Hymnology was in its height in Germany, and bore its most precious blossoms; hymn and tune were then justly considered indivisible, and, though the beauty and popularity of a tune would cause fresh hymns to be written for it, the tune still continued to be known by the name of the original hymn with which it was associated.

Whenever in this work the term hymn occurs, it is applied to the words as distinguished from the music.

In accordance with this precedent, the fame original connection between hymn and tune has—with few exceptions—been maintained in this book.

Many hymns rightly forming part of a German hymn-book, which in a great measure takes the place in Germany of the Book of Common Prayer in England, have for obvious reasons been excluded from this compilation, and the Editors have thus been enabled to limit the number to two hundred, believing, at the same time, that none have been omitted which are essential to the purpose in view.

While the "Chorale Book" contains no English tunes, it nevertheless includes some already well known in this country, such as the "Old Hundredth," the "Veni Creator," that called "Luther's Hymn," and others. The origin of every tune, as far as it can be traced, as also the names of the authors of the hymns, are given in the various Indexes at the end of the work, to which the reader is referred. It may however be desirable to give here a short sketch of the growth of hymnology on the continent, and more particularly in Germany, since the Reformation.

When Luther took up the cause of the Reformation, and had to remodel the services of the Church, he believed he could not better enhance their beauty than by appealing to his nation's love for song, and softering the practice of congregational singing (Gemeinbegesang). With this view he made translations from the Latin hymns previously in use in the Church, paraphrased several of the Psalms and Canticles of Holy Scripture, himself wrote many new hymns, and requested his friends to contribute others. As to music, he availed himself in many cases of tunes already existing in the Church, which he sparingly modified to suit his new metres; of other tunes the origin is unknown, and of those ascribed to Luther, three only can be traced with any certainty to him as the composer; two of which have been received into this work, No. 124, and No. vi. in the Appendix.

The first important German hymn-book, preceded in the same year by

In these cases the term Original Tune is used, with the quotation of the first line of the corresponding hymn in German above it; whenever the same tune appears in the book again, it is quoted with the first line of the English translation. In the sew exceptional cases alluded to, the German name of the tune has been given, and the Psalms of Goudimel have been quoted as they stand in his edition.

feveral smaller books, published under the name of "Enchiridion," Erfurt, &c. &c., appeared under the auspices of Luther in the year 1524. It was edited by his friend, Johann Walther, and was accompanied by a preface from the pen of Luther himself.

Walther's work (printed with the music for five voices, the melody in the Tenor, as usual at that time), with successive additions, went through several editions (1537 and 1551), and was followed in rapid sequence by numerous similar works, of which those published at Wittenberg, Nürnberg, and Strasburg, are the most important.² Every new book brought fresh additions, and by the end of the 16th century the number of hymns introduced into the Church was counted by hundreds. Among the tunes of this century and the early part of the next, the Editors would especially name v, x111, xxv1, xxx1x, cv1, cxv11.

The first metrical versions of the Psalms were published in France and Switzerland about the same period. Among the best known, though not the earliest in appearance, is that edited (with the music for sour voices) by Goudimel (1565). This work was introduced into Germany by Dr Lobwasser—the Psalms metrically translated by him—in 1573, and its contents soon found their way as a whole or in parts into the Lutheran Church.

Several of Goudimel's Psalm tunes are believed to be of secular origin, and the same should be stated with regard to some among the finest tunes of the 16th century appropriated to the Lutheran service. It speaks well for the character of the secular music of that period, that any of its melodies should have taken a place in the Church, and should have retained it undisputed to the present day. (See xI, XL, LXXXV.)

As another fource from which the Lutheran Church gladly drew, the Editors must name the rich store of the early Moravian hymn-books; specimens from which, as well as tunes from Goudimel's edition of the Psalms, will be found in this work.

About the same time Lutheran hymn-books were introduced into Scandinavia, where, especially in Sweden, the hymns and tunes of Germany, with numerous additions of home growth, have remained up to the present time the stock of the national hymn-book. Courland, Livonia, and Finland also received these facred strains into their service, and still retain them, and it should be mentioned here that a Lutheran hymn-book was printed and published in the Icelandic language at Skalholt in Iceland, in the year 1594, of which a fixth edition appeared in 1691.

Towards the middle of the following century (the 17th) Music enters into a new phase. Until then its sole purpose was to serve the Church, through the medium of the human voice and the organ. But now instrumental music, though at first subordinate, begins to make its appearance. Secular Cantatas, forerunners of the Opera, are produced on sessions at the courts, particularly of Italy; and German musicians, like those of other countries, who had gone to Italy for study or other purposes, on their return spread the influence which they had themselves received.

In Protestant Germany, Church music gradually became less an object of ambition to composers; sewer tunes, and most of them inferior in quality and vigour to those of the first century after the Reformation, sprung up; nor did the nation at large any longer set its seal upon them by adopting or rejecting them, as before. In the hymn-books of the latter part of the 17th and beginning of the 18th century we also find some of the best old tunes omitted, others deprived of the triple time $(\frac{3}{2})$ peculiar to them, others again without their distinct rhythm, all levelled to a general standard of lifeless uniformity.

Before passing on to the last period which calls for notice in this place, the Editors would direct the attention of readers to the most prominent tune-composer of the 17th century, Johann Crüger (1598—1662), of whose writing many specimens will be found in this work; also to the tunes composed by Schein, H. Albert, and Schop, and lastly to the celebrated hymn and tune of G. Neumark,² "Wer nur den lieben Gott läßt walten" (No. 134).

In the beginning of the 18th century, Freylinghausen of Halle published a hymn-book which soon became widely circulated. Further reference being made to it in another place, sew words respecting it will suffice here. Among the numerous tunes published for the first time in that work, and of which the individual authors are not known, some are very sine, though differing in character from those of an earlier date.

Winterfeld, "Bur Geschichte heitiger Tonfunft." Vol. 11.

² The tune became so popular, that within 100 years after its appearance no less than 400 hymns had been written to be sung to it.

With the exception of one or two tunes most probably composed by Bach, one by Kühnau, one by Layriz 1 of a still more recent date, and some few others, which need not be specified, Freylinghausen's work in its several enlarged editions is the latest source from which materials for the "Chorale Book for England" have been drawn; nor could it be otherwise, as from that time facred tunes of real worth rarely make their appearance; and with the diminished interest which Religion commanded in Germany towards the close of the 18th century, the distinctive outward feature of its Church, the hymn-book, also decays. The old standard hymns are improved, as it is termed, by recasting them; the tunes disappear from the hymn-books and are collected feparately for the use of the organist, and, the control of the congregation having thus ceased, it is with the organist and the precentor alone that the refponsibility for their correct performance rests in future.2 If we further remember the many Principalities of which Germany is made up, each with fovereign authority in Church as well as State, and each possessing its own distinct hymn-book, we can hardly wonder at the unfettled and unfatisfactory state into which the congregational finging of Germany fell.

Of late years however Christian men interested in the services of the Church have raised their voices, trying to revive the interest of the Protestant part of the German nation in their congregational music, and urging a complete revision of the existing hymn-books. Recent publications, the result of these efforts, clearly show, that owing to the desire to see these tunes re-introduced with their exact rhythm and harmony as originally composed, too little allowance is made either for the progress of music or for the musical feelings prevalent in our own time. Much however had to be remedied, and these praiseworthy endeavours have not only already borne fruit, but will doubtless continue to do so.

In this sketch, some brief mention of John Sebastian Bach, the great master, whose name, in the minds of all interested in the subject, is so closely associated with the Chorales of Germany, must necessarily find a place.

While during the 17th century the strictly congregational Church music

1 Kühnau and Layriz have both compiled very good Chorale books.

² One of the immediate consequences was the predominance of the organ in the service at the expense of the singing of the congregation. This led eventually to a practice in every respect to be deprecated, and which we still find all over Germany, that of introducing between every line of the hymn an Interlude performed by the organist.

declined, the facred Cantata (subsequently expanding into the Oratorio) arose; not only did the solemn festival of the Passion offer the opportunity for cultivating it, as we find from Bach's "Passionsmusik," the text of which, with slight modifications, was set to music by his predecessors and contemporaries, Keyser, Mattheson, and Handel; but the other sestivals also recommended themselves to Bach for the exercise of his great powers, and Cantatas of his composition exist for nearly every Sunday in the year, many of which in all probability were performed during or after the evening service, from the Organ gallery of St Thomas's, Leipzic, by an orchestra and choir under his direction.

Bach, fully alive to the beauty of the tunes and hymns of his country, adopted the practice, in which he was followed by his fucceffors, Mendelssohn and others, of introducing Chorales into all his numerous facred works, either to their own words or to new ones suiting better the subject of the Cantata, thereby doubtless bringing it more readily home to the appreciation of the congregation, well acquainted with the old familiar tunes.

How Bach harmonized these Chorales is well known, and need not be dwelt upon here, but his introduction of them in the manner described has much contributed to the confusion of the titles of hymns, which has continued to the present time.

After J. S. Bach's death, his fon, Ph. E. Bach, undertook to extract the Chorales from his father's work, and to publish them in a separate collection. One hundred of these, edited by him, appeared in 1765. A second volume containing another hundred was published in 1769 (though not with Ph. E. Bach's name as editor). Then followed in 1784 an edition compiled by Kirnberger, and subsequently several others, all with the title, "Joh. Seb. Bach's Vierstimmige Choralgesange."

They are well known, and the impression generally prevails that Bach is the author of the tunes, which is not surprising, considering the manner in which these compilations, with the single exception of the most recent one by Erck, have been published. After what has been stated, this erroneous belief requires no further resutation, but it should be mentioned, that a few tunes, probably justly ascribed to Bach, and contained in the "Choralgesange," have been inserted by the Editors in the "Chorale Book."

Under the circumstances the correctness of the version of the tunes given in the following work must not be judged of from a comparison with those in Bach's works, or elsewhere in the compositions of Mendelssohn and other great masters. These masters could handle such Chorales freely for their own purposes, but the Editors were bound to go back to the sources, from which their melodies might be obtained not only most accurately, but also in the form most suitable for their object. They have therefore drawn either from the works in which the tunes originally appeared, or from those of Winterfeld, Tucher, and others of high standing into which they had been literally copied.

In determining the form in which to admit these tunes, the Editors were naturally beset with doubts, in consequence of the unsettled state of hymnology in Germany at the present moment. For while one party there insists on retaining the tunes even more than the hymns in the state of lifeless uniformity into which they have fallen, the other calls for their complete restitution to their original form.

Without going into detail, the Editors wish to state that they deemed it best to select the middle path. They have treated the tunes individually, not collectively; those written in \(\frac{3}{2}\) time (as, for example, v, Lx, LxII, LXXXII, CXV, etc.) they have seen no right or reason to change, and in every case they have endeavoured to give the tune as nearly as possible according to its original version, and in a shape which might at the same time justify the hope of its being accepted by the English public. This however refers only to the rhythmical flow of the tune, not to the melody itself, which in no instance has been touched by the Editors, but is given according to the best-authenticated versions.\(^1\)

A few words have still to be said respecting the harmonization of the tunes in this work. The Editors have in many cases retained the harmonies of the authors of the tunes, and in general have striven to preserve as far as possible the character belonging to the period of their composition; thus the melodies of the 16th and 18th century called for different styles of harmony, clearly indicated by their different flow in respect of distances. In all cases, however, the Editors have endeavoured to combine solemnity with simplicity, and to give harmonies, which, though offering no difficulty in execution, should yet approach the strength and purity peculiar to the best Church music of all times.

The Editors cannot bring this Preface to a close without pointing to the names of the meritorious inquirers into the interesting subject of Hymnology, who have of late years appeared in Germany, and without whose writings they believe no satisfactory hymn-book of modern times could be compiled; they mean G. von Tucher, P. Wackernagel, Layriz, and others, but particularly C. von Winterfeld, who, in his remarkable work on the "Evangelische Rirchengesang,"* and other smaller writings, has vindicated the real importance of this facred branch of music, and shown its historical basis and development in a manner at once to raise it in general estimation and to guide all who follow him in this difficult path. To his memory the grateful thanks of the Editors are due, and from his works, as well as from those previously named, they have drawn freely—as was their duty—and as seemed best for this work.

That the "Chorale Book for England" may be received into the new sphere for which it is intended, and that its facred strains may contribute to the comfort of the troubled soul, the sanctification of home, and the glory of God's name in His Church on earth, is the earnest prayer of those who compiled it.

We praise, we worship Thee, we trust,
And give Thee thanks for ever,
O Father, that Thy rule is just
And wise, and changes never:
Thy boundless power o'er all things reigns,
Done is whate'er Thy will ordains;
Well for us that Thou rulest!

O Jesu Christ, our God and Lord,
Son of Thy heavenly Father,
O Thou who hast our peace restored
And the lost sheep dost gather,
Thou Lamb of God, to Thee on high
From out our depths we sinners cry,
Have mercy on us, Jesus!

4

O Holy Ghost, Thou precious Gift,
Thou Comforter unfailing,
O'er Satan's snares our souls uplift,
And let Thy power availing
Avert our woes and calm our dread,
For us the Saviour's blood was shed,
We trust in Thee to save us!

The host of heaven thy praises tell,

All powers and thrones bow down to Thee,
And all who in Thy shadow dwell,

Alike in earth and air and sea,

Declare and laud their Maker's might,

Whose wisdom orders all things right:

Give glory then to Him, our God!

3

And for the creatures He hath made,
Our God will ceaselessly provide,
His grace will be their constant aid,
And guard them round on every side;
His kingdom ye may surely trust,
There all is equal, all is just;
Give glory then to Him, our God!

4

I fought Him in my hour of need,

I cried,—Lord God, now hear my prayer!

For death He gave me life indeed,

And hope and comfort for despair;

For this my thanks shall endless be,

O thank Him, thank Him too with me;

Give glory now to Him, our God!

5

The Lord is never far away,

Is never fundered from His flock,

He is their refuge and their stay,

He is their peace, their trust, their rock;

And with a mother's watchful love

He guides them wheresoe'er they rove:

Give glory then to Him, our God!

6

Ah yes! till life hath reached its bound,
My faithful God, I'll worship Thee!
The chorus of Thy praise shall sound
From henceforth over land and sea.
Oh soul and body, now rejoice,
My heart, send forth a gladsome voice;
Give glory now to Him, our God!

7

All ye who name Christ's holy name,
Give all the glory to our God!
Ye who the Father's power proclaim,
Give all the glory to our God!
All idols under foot be trod,
The Lord is God, the Lord is God!
Give glory evermore to Him!

Whom the Highest counts His friend,
Cannot perish in the end.

5.

Original Tune.

2

O all ye powers that He implanted,
Arise, keep silence thus no more,
Put forth the strength that He hath granted,
Your noblest work is to adore;
O soul and body, make ye meet
With heartfelt praise your Lord to greet.

3

Ye forest leaves so green and tender,
That dance for joy in summer air;
Ye meadow grasses bright and slender,
Ye slowers so wondrous sweet and fair;
Ye live to show His praise alone,
Help me to make His glory known.

4

O all things that have breath and motion,
That throng with life earth, sea, and sky,
Now join me in my heart's devotion,
Help me to raise His praises high,
My utmost powers can ne'er aright
Declare the wonders of His might.

5

But I will tell, while I am living,
His goodness forth with every breath,
And greet each morning with thanksgiving,
Until my heart is still in death,
Nay, when at last my lips grow cold,
His praise shall in my sighs be told.

6

O Father, deign Thou, I beseech Thee,
To listen to my earthly lays;
A nobler strain in heaven shall reach Thee,
When I with angels hymn Thy praise,
And learn amid their choirs to sing
Loud hallelujahs to my King.

Tune .- "Oh would, my God, that I could praise Thee."

2

I praise Thee, Saviour, whose compassion

Hath brought Thee down to succour me;

Thy pitying heart sought my salvation,

Though keenest woes were heaped on Thee,

Wrought me from bondage full release,

Made me Thine own, and gave me peace.

3

Thee too I praise, O Holy Spirit,

By whose deep teachings I am made

A heavenly kingdom to inherit,

Who art my Comforter, my aid;

Whate'er of good by me is done

Is of Thy grace and light alone.

4

And as my life is onward gliding,

With each fresh scene anew I mark

How Thou art holding me and guiding,

Where all seems troubled, strange, and dark;

When cares oppress and hopes depart,

Thy light hath never failed my heart.

5

Shall I not then be filled with gladness,
Shall I not praise Thee evermore?

And triumph o'er all fears and sadness,
E'en when my cup of woe runs o'er?

Though heaven and earth may pass away,
I know Thy word stands fast for aye.

(LXXIV-, Mun lob' mein' Seel' ben Berren.")

7.

Original Tune.

2

He shows to man His treasure
Of judgment, truth, and righteousness,
His love beyond our measure,
His yearning pity o'er distress;
Nor treats us as we merit,
But lays His anger by,
The humble contrite spirit
Finds His compassions nigh;
And high as heaven above us,
As break from close of day,
So far, since He doth love us,
He puts our sins away.

3

For as a tender father

Hath pity on his children here,
He in His arms will gather

All who are His in childlike fear;
He knows how frail our powers,
Who but from dust are made,
We flourish as the flowers,
And even so we fade,

A storm-wind o'er them passes,
And all their bloom is o'er,—
We wither like the grasses,
Our place knows us no more.

His grace alone endureth,

And children's children yet shall prove
How God with strength assureth

The hearts of all that seek His love.
In heaven is fixed His dwelling,
His rule is over all,
Angels in might excelling,
Bright hosts, before Him fall!

Praise Him who ever reigneth,
All ye who hear His word;

Nor our poor hymns disdaineth,—
My soul, O praise the Lord!

Tell me, if no dread e'er seizes

You, who lean on some frail man?

Can you build on waves and breezes?

Dare you trust your wisest plan?

Soon 'tis past, cannot last,

Nought that earth has standeth fast.

3

But His goodness still shall slourish

Evermore, nought changes here;

Man and beast His hand doth nourish

Day by day through all the year;

Morn and eve, doth He give

All they need to all that live.

4

Are we not by gifts furrounded

More than we dare ask of good?

For His mercies are unbounded,

Flowing like a mighty flood;

Earth and air to us bear

Tokens of His loving care.

5

Let not then His gifts upbraid us,

Who His very Son hath given;

Thank, O thank Him who hath made us

From the dust, yet heirs of heaven.

God is our shield and tower,

Great in wisdom, love, and power.

2

Praise to the Lord! who o'er all things so wondrously reigneth, Shelters thee under His wings, yea so gently sustaineth;

Hast thou not seen

How thy defires have been Granted in what He ordaineth?

3

Praise to the Lord! who doth prosper thy work and defend thee, Surely His goodness and mercy here daily attend thee;

Ponder anew

What the Almighty can do,

If with His love He befriend thee!

4

Praise to the Lord! Oh let all that is in me adore Him!

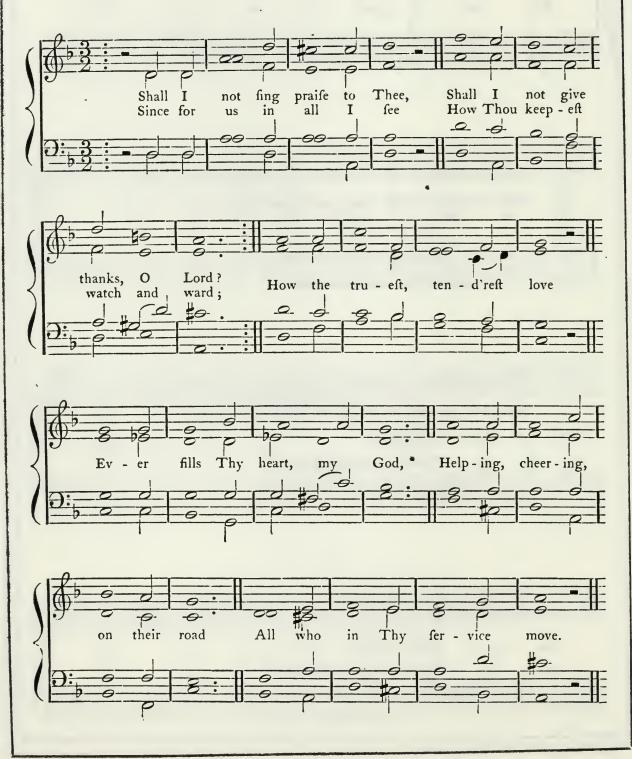

All that hath life and breath, come now with praises before Him!

Let the Amen

Sound from His people again, Gladly for aye we adore Him!

IO.

As the eagle o'er her nest
Spreads her sheltering wings abroad,
So from all that would molest
Doth Thine arm defend me, Lord;
From my youth up e'en till now
Of the being Thou didst give,
And the earthly life I live,
Faithful Guardian still wert Thou.
All things else have but their day,
God's love only lasts for aye.

3

When I fleep my Guardian wakes,
And revives my wearied mind;
Every morning on me breaks
With fome mark of love most kind;
Had my God not stood my Friend,
Had His countenance not been
Here my guide, I had not seen
Many a trial reach its end.
All things else have but their day,
God's love only lasts for aye.

4

As a father ne'er withdraws
From a child his all of love,
Though it often break his laws,
Though it careless, wilful, prove:
Even so my loving Lord
Doth my faults with pity see;
With His rod He chastens me,
Not avenging with His sword.
All things else have but their day,
God's love only lasts for aye.

5

When His strokes upon me light,
Bitterly I feel their smart,
Yet are they, if seen aright,
Tokens that my Father's heart
Yearns to bring me back again
Through these crosses to His fold,
From the world that sain would hold
Soul and body in its chain.
All things else have but their day,
God's love only lasts for aye.

6

All my life I still have found,
And I will forget it never,
Every forrow hath its bound,
And no cross endures for ever.
After all the winter's snows
Comes sweet summer back again;
Patient souls ne'er wait in vain,
Joy is given for all their woes.
All things else have but their day,
God's love only lasts for aye.

7

Since then neither change nor end
In Thy love can e'er have place,
Father! I beseech Thee send
Unto me Thy loving grace.
Help Thy feeble child, and give
Strength to serve Thee day and night,
Loving Thee with all my might,
While on earth I yet must live;
So shall I, when Time is o'er,
Praise and love Thee evermore.

Original Tune.

Oh may this bounteous God
Through all our life be near us,
With ever joyful hearts
And bleffed peace to cheer us;
And keep us in His grace,
And guide us when perplex'd,
And free us from all ills
In this world and the next.

All praise and thanks to God
The Father now be given,
The Son, and Him who reigns
With them in highest heaven,
The One eternal God,
Whom earth and heaven adore,
For thus it was, is now,
And shall be evermore!

Original Tune.

All our knowledge, sense, and sight
Lie in deepest darkness shrouded,
Till Thy Spirit breaks our night
With the beams of truth unclouded;
Thou alone to God canst win us,
Thou must work all good within us.

Glorious Lord, Thyfelf impart!

Light of light from God proceeding, Open Thou our ears and heart,

Help us by Thy Spirit's pleading, Hear the cry Thy people raises, Hear, and bless our prayers and praises!

Original Tune.

Open our lips to fing Thy praise, Our hearts in true devotion raise, Strengthen our faith, increase our light, That we may know Thy name aright: Until we join the host that cry
"Holy, Holy art Thou most High,"
And 'mid the light of that blest place
Shall gaze upon Thee face to face.

Glory to God, the Father, Son, And Holy Spirit, Three in One! To Thee, O bleffed Trinity, Be praise throughout eternity!

Tune.—" Now that the fun doth shine no more."

2

Abide among us with Thy word, Redeemer whom we love, Thy help and mercy here afford, And life with Thee above.

3

Abide among us with Thy ray,
O Light that lighten'st all,
And let Thy truth preserve our way,
Nor suffer us to fall.

4

Abide with us to bless us still,
O bounteous Lord of peace;
With grace and power our souls fulfill,
Our faith and love increase.

5

Abide among us as our shield,
O Captain of Thy host;
That to the world we may not yield,
Nor e'er forsake our post.

6

Abide with us in faithful love,
Our God and Saviour be,
Thy help at need, Oh let us prove,
And keep us true to Thee.

15.

- Yes, my God, I come before Thee,
 Come Thou also down to me;
 Where we find Thee and adore Thee
 There a heaven on earth must be.
 To my heart oh enter Thou,
 Let it be Thy temple now.
- 3 Here Thy praise is gladly chanted, Here Thy seed is duly sown, Let my soul where it is planted, Bring forth precious sheaves alone, So that all I hear may be Fruitful unto life in me.
- 4 Thou my faith increase and quicken,
 Let me keep Thy gift divine
 Howsoe'er temptations thicken;
 May Thy word still o'er me shine,
 As my pole-star through my life,
 As my comfort in my strife.
- 5 Speak, O God, and I will hear Thee,
 Let Thy will be done indeed;
 May I undisturbed draw near Thee
 While Thou dost Thy people feed;
 Here of Life the Fountain flows,
 Here is balin for all our woes.

Tune .- "O bleft the house, whate'er befall."

The Lord, the Maker, with us dwell, In foul and body shield us well, And guard us with His sleepless might From every ill by day and night!

The Lord, the Saviour, Light Divine, Now cause His face on us to shine, That seeing Him, with perfect faith We trust His love for life and death! The Lord, the Comforter, be near, Imprint His image deeply here, From bonds of fin and dread release, And give us His unchanging peace!

O Triune God! Thou vast abyss!
Thou ever-flowing Fount of bliss,
Flow through us, heart and soul and will
With endless praise and blessing fill!

- 2 To Him let us together pray
 With all our heart and foul to-day,
 That He would keep us in His love,
 And all our guilt and fin remove.
- 3 Eternal God! Almighty Friend,
 Whose deep compassions have no end,
 Whose never-failing strength and might
 Have kept us safely through the night:
- 4 Now fend us from Thy heavenly throne Thy grace and help through Christ Thy Son, That with Thy strength our hearts may glow, And fear nor man nor ghostly foe.
- 5 Lord God! oh, hear us, we implore! Be Thou our Guardian evermore, Our mighty Champion and our Shield That goeth with us to the field.
- 6 We offer up ourselves to Thee,
 That heart and word and deed may be
 In all things guided by Thy mind,
 And in Thine eyes acceptance find.

18.

Original Tune.

In these dark days that yet remain,
May we Thy Sacraments maintain,
And keep Thy Word still free and pure,
And steadsast in the faith endure.

(LXVII.—,, Meinen Jesum lass ich nicht.")

2

Fount of all our joy and peace,

To Thy living waters lead me,

Thou from earth my foul release

And with grace and mercy feed me;

Bless Thy word that it may prove

Rich in fruits that Thou dost love.

3

Kindle Thou the facrifice
That upon my lips is lying;
Clear the shadows from mine eyes,
That, from every error flying,
No strange fire may in me glow
That Thine altar doth not know.

4

Let me with my heart to-day,
Holy, Holy, Holy, finging,
Rapt awhile from earth away,
All my foul to Thee upfpringing,
Have a foretaste inly given
How they worship Thee in Heaven.

5

Rest in me and I in Thee,

Build a Paradise within me;

Oh reveal Thyself to me,

Blessed Love, who diedst to win me;

Fed from Thine exhaustless urn,

Pure and bright my lamp shall burn.

6

Hence all care, all vanity,
For the day to God is holy;
Come, Thou glorious Majesty,
Deign to fill this temple lowly;
Nought to-day my foul shall move,
Simply resting in Thy love.

Tune.—" From heaven above to earth I come."

O living Sun, with joy break forth, And pierce the gloomy clefts of earth; Behold, the mountains melt away Like wax beneath Thine ardent ray!

O Life-dew of the Churches, come, And bid this arid defert bloom! The forrows of Thy people see, And take our human slesh on Thee. Refresh the parch'd and drooping mind, The broken limb in mercy bind, Us sinners from our guilt release, And fill us with Thy heavenly peace.

O wonder! night no more is night!
Comes then at last the long'd-for light?
Al yes, Thou shinest, O true Sun,
In whom are God and man made one!

21.

Original Tune.

Thy Zion strews before Thee
Her fairest buds and palms,
And I too will adore Thee
With sweetest songs and pfalms;
My soul breaks forth in slowers
Rejoicing in Thy same,
And summons all her powers
To honour Jesus' name.

3

Nought, nought, dear Lord, could move Thee
To leave Thy rightful place
Save love, for which I love Thee;
A love that could embrace
A world where forrow dwelleth,
Which fin and fuffering fill,
More than the tongue e'er telleth;
Yet Thou couldst love it still!

4

O ye fad hearts that sicken
With hope deferred, and see
The gloom around you thicken,
The joys ye hoped for slee,—
Despair not, He is near you,
Yea, at the very door,
Who best can help and cheer you,
He will not linger more.

5

Nor fin shall make you fearful,
Assumed to see His face,
The contrite heart and tearful
He covers with His grace;
He comes to heal the spirit
That mourneth sin-oppressed,
And raise us to inherit
With Him our proper rest.

6

He comes to judge the nations,
A terror to His foes,
A light of confolations
And bleffed hope to those Who love the Lord's appearing:
O glorious Sun, now come,
Send forth Thy beams of cheering
And guide us safely home!

Tune.-" My inmost heart now raises."

Look up, ye drooping hearts, to-day!

The King is very near,

Oh cast your griefs and fears away,

For lo! your Help is here;

And comfort rich and sweet

In many a place for us is stored,

Where in His sacraments and word

Our Saviour we can meet.

3

Look up, ye fouls weigh'd down with care!

The Sovereign is not far;

Look up, faint hearts, from your despair,

Behold the Morning Star!

The Lord is with us now,

Who shall the sinking spirit feed

With strength and comfort at its need,

To whom e'en Death shall bow.

4

Hope, O ye broken hearts, at last!

The King comes on in might,

He loved us in the ages past

When we sat wrapp'd in night;

Now are our forrows o'er,

And fear and wrath to joy give place,

Since God hath made us in His grace

His children evermore.

5

O rich the gifts Thou bringest us,

Thyself made poor and weak;
O love beyond compare that thus

Can foes and sinners seek!

For this to Thee alone

We raise on high a gladsome voice,

And evermore with thanks rejoice

Before Thy glorious throne.

Welcome, O my Saviour, now!
Hail! my portion, Lord, art Thou!
Here too in my heart, I pray,
Oh prepare Thyself a way.

Enter, King of Glory, in!
Purify the wastes of sin
As Thou hast so often done;
It belongs to Thee alone.

As Thy coming was in peace, Noiseless, full of gentleness, Let the same mind dwell in me That was ever found in Thee.

Bruise for me the serpent's head,
That, set free from doubt and dread,
I may cleave to Thee in faith,
Safely kept through life and death:

And when Thou dost come again As a glorious King to reign, I with joy may see Thy face, Freely ransom'd by Thy grace.

The Lord is just, a Helper tried,
Mercy is ever at His side,
His kingly crown is holiness,
His sceptre, pity in distress,
The end of all our woe He brings;
Wherefore the earth is glad and sings:
We praise Thee, Saviour, now,
Mighty in deed art Thou!

3

Oh blest the land, the city blest,
Where Christ the Ruler is confest!
Oh happy hearts and happy homes
To whom this King in triumph comes!
The cloudless Sun of joy He is,
Who bringeth pure delight and bliss:
O Comforter Divine,
What boundless grace is Thine!

4

Fling wide the portals of your heart,
Make it a temple fet apart
From earthly use for Heaven's employ,
Adorn'd with prayer and love and joy;
So shall your Sovereign enter in,
And new and nobler life begin:
To Thee, O God, be praise,
For word and deed and grace!

5

Redeemer, come! I open wide

My heart to Thee,—here, Lord, abide!

Let me Thy inner presence feel,

Thy grace and love in me reveal,

Thy Holy Spirit guide us on Until our glorious goal is won!

Eternal praise and fame

We offer to Thy name.

Still He comes within us, Still His voice would win us From the fins that hurt us; Would to Truth convert us From our foolish errors, Ere He comes in terrors.

3

Thus if thou hast known Him,
Not ashamed to own Him,
Nor dost love Him coldly,
But wilt trust Him boldly,
He will now receive thee,
Heal thee, and forgive thee.

4

But through many a trial,
Deepest self-derial,
Long and brave endurance,
Must thou win assurance
That His own He makes thee,
And no more forsakes thee.

5

He who thus endureth
Bright reward secureth;
Come then, O Lord Jesus,
From our sins release us.
Let us here confess Thee,
Till in heaven we bless Thee.

- Awake! thou careless world, awake!

 For none can tell how soon our God may please
 That suddenly that day should break,

 No human wisdom fathoms depths like these:
 O slee earth's base delights and pride,
 For as the bird is in the snare,
 Or ever of its soe aware,
 So comes that day so long denied.
- Yet He in love delayeth long
 That awful day, and grants the sinner space
 To turn away from sin and wrong,
 And mourning seek in time His love and grace.
 He holdeth back that best of days
 Until the righteous shall approve
 Their faith and hope, their constant love;
 So gentle us-ward are His ways!
- And those found faithful then shall see
 That glorious morning dawn in love and joy,
 Their Saviour comes to set them free,
 Their Judge Himself shall all their bonds destroy;
 He the true Joshua then shall bring
 His people with a mighty hand
 Into their promised fatherland,
 Where songs of victory they shall sing.
- Arise, and let us night and day
 Watch for our Lord, and study o'er His word,
 And in the Spirit ever pray,
 That we be ready when His call is heard;

For thinking on that found

That once shall pierce the ground

And make its slumb'rers tremble,—

"Arise! the Day of Doom

Is come at last,—is come!

Before the Judge assemble!"

3

Ah God! no tempest's shock.

That cleaves the solid rock

Could make my spirit shiver

As doth that awful tone;

Were my heart steel or stone

'T would hear that voice and quiver.

4

I eat, or wake, or fleep,

I talk, or fmile, or weep,

Yet still that voice of thunder

Is founding through my heart,—

"Forget not what thou art,

The doom thou liest under!"

5

For daily do I see

How many deaths there be,

How swiftly all things wither;

How sickness fills the grave,

Or fire, or sword, or wave

Is sweeping thousands thither.

6

My turn will foon be here,
The end is drawing near,
I hear its warning plainly;
Death knocketh at my door
And tells me all is o'er,
And I would fly him vainly.

7

Ah! who in this my strait
Will be mine Advocate?
Will all things leave me friendless?
My wealth and power are dust,
This Judge is ever just,
His righteous doom is endless.

8

Lord Jesus Christ! 't is Thou

Alone canst help me now,

But 't was for this Thou camest,

To save us in this hour;

Then show Thy mercy's power,

For they are safe Thou claimest.

Bid me to Thee ascend,

And love shall age be near Thee.

30.

To you this night is born a child Of Mary, chosen mother mild; This little child, of lowly birth, Shall be the joy of all your earth.

3

'Tis Christ, our God, who far on high Hath heard your sad and bitter cry; Himself will your Salvation be, Himself from sin will make you free.

4

He brings those bleffings, long ago Prepared by God for all below; Henceforth His kingdom open stands To you, as to the angel bands.

5

These are the tokens ye shall mark,
The swaddling clothes and manger dark;
There shall ye find the young child laid,
By whom the heavens and earth were made.

6

Now let us all with gladsome cheer Follow the shepherds, and draw near To see this wondrous gift of God, Who hath His only Son bestow'd.

7

Give heed, my heart, lift up thine eyes! Who is it in you manger lies? Who is this child, fo young and fair? The bleffed Christ-child lieth there.

8

Welcome to earth, Thou noble guest,
Through whom e'en wicked men are blest!
Thou com'st to share our misery,
What can we render, Lord, to Thee!

9

Ah Lord, who hast created all, How hast Thou made Thee weak and small, That Thou must choose Thy infant bed Where as and ox but lately fed!

IC

Were earth a thousand times as fair, Beset with gold and jewels rare, She yet were far too poor to be A narrow cradle, Lord, for Thee.

11

For velvets foft and filken stuff
Thou hast but hay and straw so rough,
Whereon Thou King, so rich and great,
As 'twere Thy heaven, art throned in state.

12

Thus hath it pleased Thee to make plain The truth to us poor fools and vain, That this world's honour, wealth, and might Are nought and worthless in Thy sight.

13

Ah! dearest Jesus, Holy Child, Make Thee a bed, soft, undefiled, Within my heart, that it may be A quiet chamber kept for Thee.

14

My heart for very joy doth leap, My lips no more can filence keep; I too must raise with joyful tongue That sweetest ancient cradle-song—

Glory to God in highest heaven, Who unto man His Son hath given! While angels sing with pious mirth A glad New Year to all the earth.

CHRISTMAS.

3 Conse then, let us hasten yonder;

Here let all,

Weep no more,

For the door

Now is found of gladness.

Cling to Him, for He will guide you

Where no cross,

Pain or loss,

Can again betide you.

5 Hither come, ye heavy-hearted,

Who for fin

Deep within,

Long and fore have smarted;

For the poison'd wounds you're feeling

Help is near,

One is here

Mighty for their healing!

6 Hither come, ye poor and wretched;

Know His will

Is to fill

Every hand outstretched;

Here are riches without measure,

Here forget

All regret,

Fill your hearts with treasure.

7 Thee, dear Lord, with heed I'll cherish,

Live to Thee,

And with Thee

Dying, shall not perish;

But shall dwell with Thee for ever,

Far on high,

In the joy

That can alter never.

"This Child shall be your Friend,
The Father so hath will'd it,
That thus your woes should end;
The Son is freely given,
That in Him ye may have
The Father's grace and blessing,
||: And know He loves to save.:||

3

Nor deem the form too lowly
That clothes Him at this hour;
For know ye what it hideth?
'Tis God's almighty power.
Though now within the manger
So poor and weak He lies,
He is the Lord of all things,
||: He reigns above the skies.:||

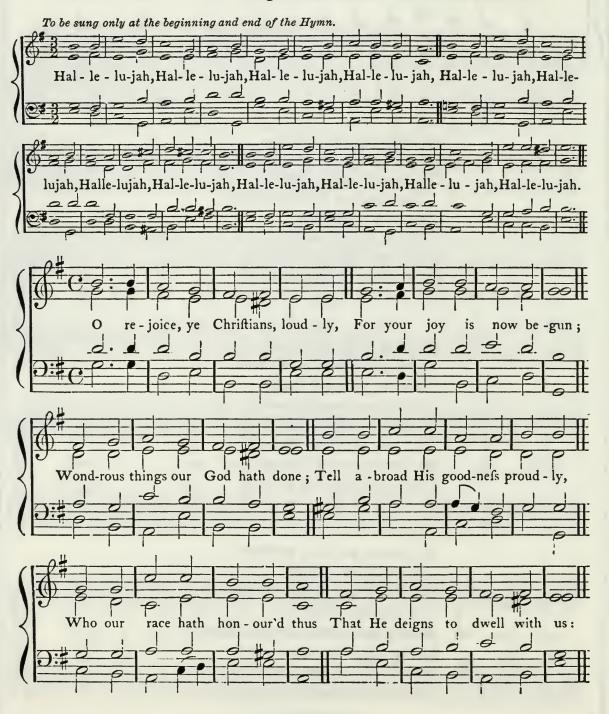

4

Sin, Death, and Hell, and Satan
Have lost the victory;
This Child shall overthrow them,
As ye shall surely see;
Their wrath shall nought avail them,
Fear not, their reign is o'er;
This Child shall overthrow them,—

||: Oh hear and doubt no more.":||

See, my foul, thy Saviour chooses

Weakness here and poverty,

In such love He comes to thee,

Nor the hardest couch refuses;

All He suffers for thy good,

To redeem thee by His blood:

Joy, then, joy beyond all gladness!

Christ hath done away with sadness!

Hence, all forrow and repining,

For the Sun of grace is shining.

Lord, how shall I thank Thee rightly?

I acknowledge that from Thee
Every blessing flows to me.

Let me not forget it lightly,
But to Thee through all things cleave;
So shall heart and mind receive

Joy, yea, joy beyond all gladness!

Christ hath done away with sadness!

Hence, all forrow, all repining,
For the Sun of grace is shining!

Jesu, guard and guide Thy members,
Fill Thy brethren with Thy grace,
Hear their prayers in every place,
Quicken now life's faintest embers;
Grant all Christians, far and near,
Holy peace, a glad New Year!
Joy, O joy, beyond all gladness!
Christ hath done away with fadness!
Hence, all forrow, all repining,
For the Sun of grace is shining!

CHRISTMAS.

2

O wondrous joy, that God most high
Should take our flesh, and thus our race should honour;
A virgin mild hath borne this Child,
Such grace and glory God hath put upon her.

3

Sin brought us grief, but Christ relief,
When down to earth He came for our salvation;
Since God with us is dwelling thus,
Who dares to speak the Christian's condemnation?

4

Then hither throng, with happy fong

To Him whose birth and death are our assurance;

Through whom are we at last set free

From sins and burdens that surpassed endurance.

5

Yes, let us praise our God and raise

Loud hallelujahs to the skies above us.

The bliss bestowed to-day by God,

To ceaseless thankfulness and joy should move us.

(Index of Tunes, XXVIII.)

35.

Tune .- " Ere yet the dawn hath fill'd the skies."

With all Thy faints, Thee, Lord, we fing, Praise, honour, thanks to Thee we bring, That Thou, O long-expected guest, Hast come at last to make us blest!

Hallelujah.

3

Since first the world began to be,

How many a heart hath long'd for Thee;

Long years our fathers hoped of old

Their eyes might yet Thy Light behold:

Hallelujah.

4

The prophets cried; "Ah, would He came
To break the fetters of our shame:
That help from Zion came to men,
Israel were glad, and prosper'd then!"
Hallelujah.

5

Now art Thou here; we know Thee now,
In lowly manger lieth Thou;
A child, yet makest all things great,
Poor, yet is earth Thy robe of state.
Hallelujah.

6

From Thee alone all gladness flows,
Who yet shalt bear such bitter woes;
Earth's light and comfort Thou shalt be,
Yet none shall watch to comfort Thee.

Hallelujah.

7

All heavens are Thine, yet Thou dost come To sojourn in a stranger's home; Thou hangest on Thy mother's breast Who art the joy of spirits blest.

Hallelujah.

8

Now fearless I can look on Thee,
From sin and grief Thou sett'st me free;
Thou bearest wrath, Thou conquerest Death,
Fear turns to joy Thy glance beneath.

Hallelujah.

9

Thou art my Head, my Lord Divine,
I am Thy member, wholly Thine,
And in Thy Spirit's strength would still Serve Thee according to Thy will.

10

Thus will I sing Thy praises here
With joyful spirit year by year;
And they shall sound before Thy throne,
Where time nor number more are known.

Hallelujah.

EPIPHANY.

- Thou here my Comfort, there my Crown,
 Thou King of Heaven, who camest down
 To dwell as man beside me;
 My heart doth praise Thee o'er and o'er,
 If Thou art mine I ask no more,
 Be wealth or fame denied me;
 Thee I seek now; None who proves Thee,
 None who loves Thee
 Finds Thee fail him;
 Lord of life, Thy powers avail him!
- Through Thee alone can I be bleft,
 Then deep be on my heart imprest
 The love that Thou hast borne me;
 So make it ready to fulfil
 With burning zeal Thy holy will,
 Though men may vex or scorn me;
 Saviour, let me Never lose Thee,
 For I choose Thee,
 Thirst to know Thee;
 All I am and have I owe Thee!
- 4 O God, our Father far above,
 Thee too I praise, for all the love
 Thou in Thy Son dost give me;
 In Him am I made one with Thee,
 My Brother and my Friend is He;
 Shall aught affright or grieve me?
 He is Greatest, Best, and Highest,
 Ever nighest
 To the weakest;
 Fear no foes, if Him thou seekest!
- Who conquer'd death and burst the grave;
 Each day new praise resoundeth
 To Him the Lamb who once was slain,
 The Friend whom none shall trust in vain,
 Whose grace for aye aboundeth;
 Sing, ye Heavens, Tell the story
 Of His glory,
 Till His praises
 Flood with light Earth's darkest places.

(xliv .-. ,, 3ch bant' Dir lieber Herre.")

EPIPHANY.

2

The Eastern sages bringing

Their tribute-gifts to Thee,

Bear witness to Thy Kingdom,

And humbly bow the knee;

To Thee the Morning Star doth lead,

To Thee th' inspired Word,

We hail Thee, Saviour in our need,

We worship Thee, the Lord.

3

Ah look on me with pity,

Though I am weak and poor,

Admit me to Thy kingdom

To dwell there bleft and fure.

Oh refeue me from all my woes,

And shield me with Thine arm

From Sin and Death, the mighty foes

That daily feek our harm.

4

And bid Thy Word within us

Shine as the fairest Star;

Keep sin and all false doctrine

From all Thy people far:

Let us Thy name aright confess,

And with Thy Christendom,

Our King and Saviour own and bless

Through all the world to come.

EPIPHANY.

2

Ah, how blindly did we stray,

Ere this sun our earth had brightened!

Heaven we sought not, for no ray

Had our 'wilder'd eyes enlighten'd;

All our looks were earthward bent,

All our strength on earth was spent.

3

But the day-spring from on high

Hath arisen with beams unclouded,

And we see before it fly

All the heavy gloom that shrouded

This sad earth, where sin and woe

Seem'd to reign o'er all below.

4

Thy appearing, Lord, shall fill
All my thoughts in forrow's hour;
Thy appearing, Lord, shall still
All my dread of death's dark power;
Whether joy or tears be mine,
Through them still Thy light shall shine.

5

Let me, when my course is run,

Calmly leave a world of sadness

For the place that needs no sun,

For Thou art its light and gladness,

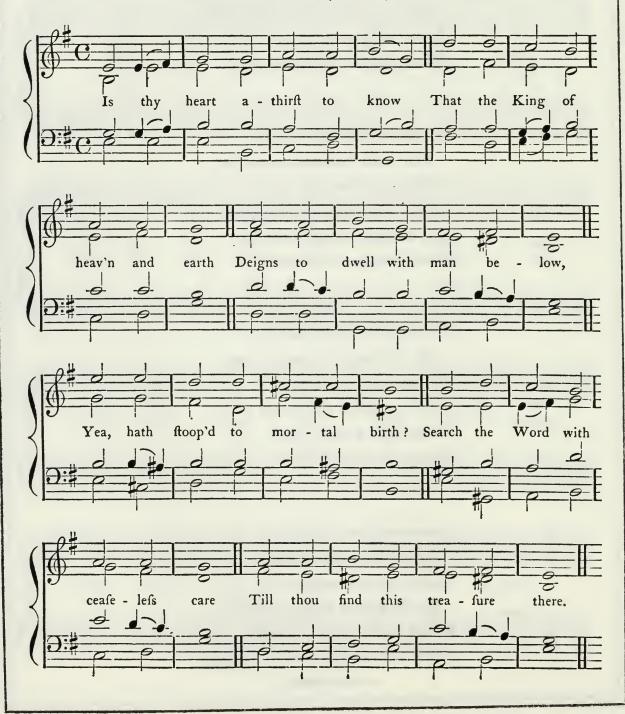

For the mansions fair and bright,

Where Thy saints are crown'd with light.

(Index of Tunes, IV.)

39.

Tune .- "What shall I, a sinner, do?"

EPIPHANY.

2

With the fages from afar
Journey on o'er fea and land,
Till thou fee the Morning Star
O'er thy heart unchanging stand,
Then shalt thou behold His face
Full of mercy, truth, and grace.

3

For if Christ be born within,

Soon that likeness shall appear

Which the heart had lost through sin,

God's own image fair and clear,

And the soul serene and bright

Mirrors back His heavenly light.

4

Jesus, let me seek for nought

But that Thou shouldst dwell in me;

Let this only fill my thought,

How I may grow liker Thee,

Through this earthly care and strife,

Through the calm eternal life.

5

With the wife who know Thee right,

Though the world accounts them fools,

I will praife Thee day and night;

I will order by Thy rules

All my life, that it may be

Fill'd with praife and love of Thee.

(xIII.-,, Aus tiefer Noth schrei ich zu Dir.")

40.

Our pardon is Thy gift, Thy love
And grace alone avail us;
Our works could ne'er our guilt remove,
The strictest life must fail us,
That none may boast himself of aught,
But own in fear Thy grace hath wrought
What in him seemeth righteous.

3

And thus my hope is in the Lord,
And not in mine own merit;
I rest upon His faithful word
To them of contrite spirit;
That He is merciful and just—
Here is my comfort and my trust,
His help I wait with patience.

4

And though it tarry till the night,
And round till morning waken,
My heart shall ne'er mistrust His might,
Nor count itself forsaken.
Do thus, O ye of Israel's seed,
Ye of the Spirit born indeed,
Wait for our God's appearing.

5

Though great our fins and fore our woes,
His grace much more aboundeth;
His helping love no limit knows,
Our utmost need it soundeth;
Our kind and faithful Shepherd, He
Who shall at last set Israel free
From all their fin and forrow.

(xcvii.-,, Straf mich nicht in Deinem Born.")

41.

Show me now a Father's love,

And His tender patience,

Heal my wounded foul, remove

These too fore temptations;

I am weak,

Father, speak

Thou of peace and gladness,

Comfort Thou my sadness.

2

Weary am I of my pain,
Weary with my forrow,
Sighing still for help in vain,
Longing for the morrow;
Why wilt Thou
Tarry now?
Wilt Thou friendless leave me,
And of hope bereave me?

4

Hence, ye foes! He comes in grace,

God hath deign'd to hear me;

I may come before His face,

He is inly near me;

He o'erthrows

All my foes,

Death and hell are vanquish'd

In whose bonds I languish'd.

5

Father, hymns to Thee we raise,

Here and once in heaven;

And the Son and Spirit praise,

Who our bonds have riven;

Evermore

We adore

Thee whose grace hath stirr'd us,

And whose pity heard us.

42.

My fecret prayers and fighs Thou hearest plainly,
My tears are ever known to Thee;
Ah God, my God, and shall I feek Thee vainly?
How long wilt Thou be far from me?

3

Lord, not according to my guilt requite me,

But deal with me in tender grace;

Thy patience and long-fuffering still invite me,

I come: Ah hide Thou not Thy face!

4

Make me to fing once more of joy and gladness,

Father of mercies, hear my voice!

For Thy name's sake, oh raise me from this sadness,

Thou, God, dost love that we rejoice.

5

Teach me Thy law, with spirit glad and servent
Let me go forth upon my way;
Thou art my God, I am Thy willing servant
To do Thy pleasure day by day.

6

Oh haste Thou, my Defence, be now beside me!

Behold, the Lord hath heard my prayer!

Now on a plainer path His hand shall guide me,

My soul is safe beneath His care

(LXXXVII.-Pfalm 8, Goudimel.)

43.

The joyful fun may bring another morning, I wake to care, to conscience' voice of warning; The soft moon comes with silent night and sleep, And bringeth nought to me but time to weep.

3

My heart and foul faint, smitten by Thine arrow, Keen as a fire that pierceth to the marrow; From morn to eventide where'er I flee I find no hiding-place, great God, from Thee.

4

Vain are my prayers, vainly I weep my errors,
While Thou dost strive against me with Thy terrors;
The zeal of Thy just anger and Thy might
Have plunged my soul in blackest depths of night.

5

Oh that I had a dove's swift wings! I'd hie me
To some far mountain-top where none came nigh me!
Yet could I not escape His mighty hand
Before whom all things bare and open stand.

6

Nay, all He sends me let me suffer rather,
Though still His angry storms around me gather;
A willing heart and patient mind, O God,
I bring to Thy severe but righteous rod.

7

Much have I sinn'd, and utterly I perish,
If memory of my sin Thou still will cherish;
Yet, Lord of Hosts, doth not Thy Word proclaim
The Merciful is Thy most glorious name!

LENT.

(xxxv1.-., herr, ich habe mißgehandelt.")

44.
Original Tune.

But from Thee how can I hide me,
Thou, O God, art everywhere;
Refuge from Thee is denied me,
Or by land or fea or air;
Nor death's darkness can enfold me
So that Thou shouldst not behold me.

3

Yet though conscience' voice appall me,
Father, I will seek Thy face;
Though Thy child I dare not call me,
Yet accept me to Thy grace;
Do not for my sins forsake me,
Let not yet Thy wrath o'ertake me.

4

For Thy Son hath suffer'd for me,
And the blood He shed for sin,
That can heal me and restore me,
Quench this burning fire within;
"Tis alone His cross can vanquish
These dark fears and soothe this anguish.

5

Then on Him I cast my burden,
Sink it in the depths below!
Let me feel Thy inner pardon,
Wash me, make me white as snow.
Let Thy Spirit leave me never,
Make me only Thine for ever!

(Index of Tunes, LXXXVII.)

45.

Tune. - " Am I on earth alone, a friendless stranger?"

My heart hath cherish'd sin, and fear'd no morrow, Loved the broad, easy road that ends in sorrow; Till now I learn, O sin, how keen thy sinart, O wrath of God, how terrible thou art!

3

Can I escape no more? will no one find me
Some help to break the heavy chains that bind me?
Will man nor creature show me any place
Where I may slee and hide me from God's face?

4

Nay, I must slee to Him who can deliver, In whom our life and hope are hid for ever; What all the world must unaccomplish'd leave, Thou, for Thou art Almighty, canst achieve.

5

Think on the covenant Thou hast never broken,
Think on the steadfast word Thyself hast spoken,
Know that I am a God, Thy promise saith,
Who hath no pleasure in a sinner's death.

6

Then let the arms of love be thrown around me; Have pity on me, Thou who thus hast found me, Call back Thy sheep that, wandering far astray, Was lost in sin, nor knew the homeward way.

7

O God, most merciful! my thankful spirit
Adores the goodness that I did not merit;
'T is meet in praising Thee my time I spend,
Here, and above, where praise shall never end.

(LXXXIII.-,, D Lamm Gottes unschuldig.")

O Lamb of God most stainless!

Who on the cross didst languish,

Patient through all Thy forrows,

Though mock'd amid Thine anguish;

Our sins Thou barest for us,

Else had despair reign'd o'er us:

Have mercy upon us, O Jesu!

3

O Lamb of God, most stainless!

Who on the cross didst languish,

47.

Tune.—" Deal with me, God, in mercy now."

- O Love, who ere life's earliest dawn On me Thy choice hast gently laid;
- O Love, who here as man wast born And like to us in all things made;
- O Love, I give myself to Thee, Thine ever, only Thine to be.

3

- O Love, who once in Time wast slain, Pierced through and through with bitter woe;
- O Love, who wrestling thus didst gain That we eternal joy might know;
- O Love, I give myself to Thee, Thine ever, only Thine to be.

4

O Love, of whom is truth and light,
The Word and Spirit, life and power,
Whose heart was bared to them that simite,
To shield us in our trial hour;
O Love, I give myself to Thee,
Thine ever, only Thine to be.

5

O Love, who thus hast bound me fast,
Beneath that gentle yoke of Thine;
Love, who hast conquer'd me at last
And rapt away this heart of mine;
O Love, I give myself to Thee,
Thine ever, only Thine to be.

6

O Love, who lovest me for aye,
Who for my soul dost ever plead;
O Love, who didst my ransom pay,
Whose power sufficeth in my stead;
O Love, I give myself to Thee,

Thine ever, only Thine to be.

- O Love, who once shalt bid me rise From out this dying life of ours;
- O Love, who once above yon skies Shalt set me in the fadeless bowers:
- O Love, I give myself to Thee, Thine ever, only Thine to be.

48.

Tune-" O Thou, of God the Father."

Then let Thy woes, Thy patience,
My heart with strength inspire
To vanquish all temptations,
And spurn all low desire;
This thought I fain would cherish most—
What pain my soul's redemption
To Thee, O Saviour, cost!

Whate'er may be the burden,

The cross here on me laid;

Be shame or want my guerdon,

I'll bear it with Thine aid;

Give patience, give me strength to take

Thee for my bright example,

And all the world forsake.

4

And let me do to others

As Thou hast done to me,

Love all men as my brothers,

And serve them willingly,

With ready heart, nor seek my own,

But as Thou, Lord, hast help'd us,

From purest love alone.

5

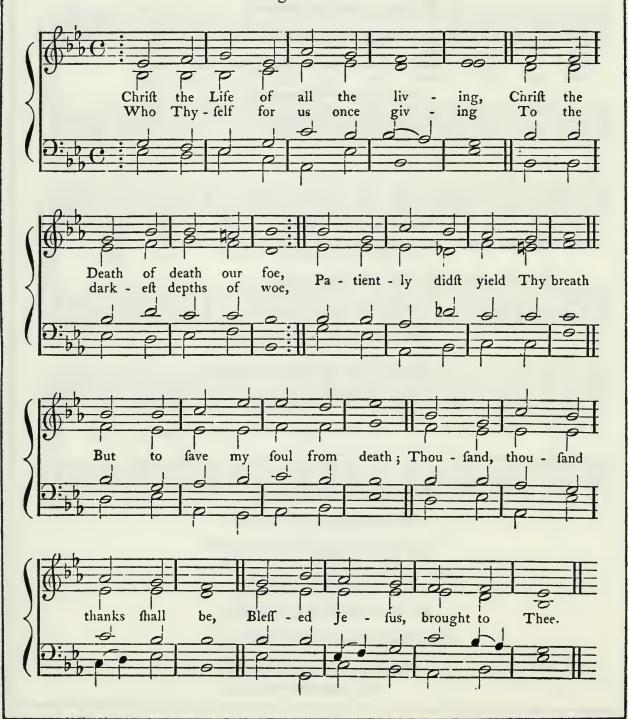

And let Thy cross upbear me
With strength, when I depart;
Tell me that nought can tear me
From my Redeemer's heart,
But since my trust is in Thy grace
Thou wilt accept me yonder,
Where I shall see Thy sace!

PASSION-WEEK.

(Liv .-., Jesu meines Lebens Leben.")

49.

Original Tune.

Thou, ah Thou, hast taken on Thee
Bitter strokes, a cruel rod,
Pain and scorn were heap'd upon Thee
O Thou sinless Son of God,
Only thus for me to win
Rescue from the bonds of sin;
Thousand, thousand thanks shall be,
Blessed Jesus, brought to Thee.

3

Thou didst bear the simiting only
That it might not fall on me;
Stoodest falsely charged and lonely,
That I might be safe and free;
Comfortless that I might know
Comfort from Thy boundless woe;
Thousand, thousand thanks shall be,
Blessed Jesus, brought to Thee.

4

That Thou wast so meek and stainless
Doth atone for my proud mood;
And Thy death makes dying painless,
All Thy ills have wrought our good;
Yea, the shame Thou didst endure
Is my honour and my cure;
Thousand, thousand thanks shall be,
Blessed Jesus, brought to Thee.

5

Then for all that wrought our pardon,
For Thy forrows deep and fore,
For Thine anguish in the garden,
I will thank Thee evermore;
Thank Thee with my latest breath
For Thy sad and cruel death,
For that last most bitter cry,
And shall praise Thee, Lord, on high.

PASSION WEEK.

(III.-,, Ich Befu bein Sterben.")

50.

Original Tune.

Ah then, teach me duly
To worship at Thy cross,
Owning inly, truly,
The Love that bore our loss.

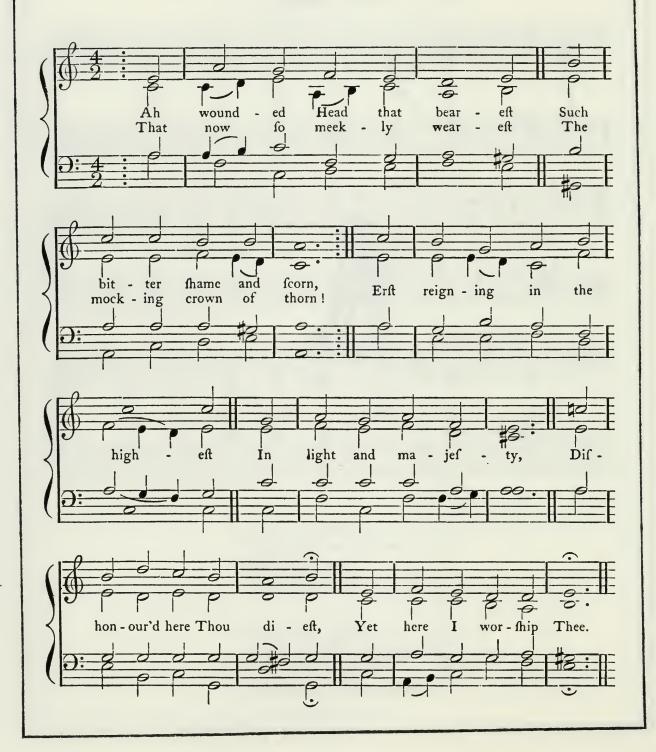

3

To fin, there, oh let me From henceforth daily die; Nor in death forget me, Then grant me life on high.

(xL.—,, Berglich thut mich verlangen."), D hanpt voll Blut und Bunden.")

51.

Thou noble Face, whose anger
Shall make a world to quail,
That glance is quench'd in languor
To which the sun were pale;
How hath its brightness vanish'd!
Those gracious eyes how dim!
What soe their light hath banish'd,
Who dared to scoff at Him?

3

All lovely hues have faded
That glow'd with warmth and life
As He endures unaided
The last and mortal strife;
The Mighty One of valour
Must yield Him as a prey,
Death triumphs in his pallour
O'er all His strength to-day.

4

Ah Lord, this cruel burden
Of right belongs to me;
Of my misdeeds the guerdon
Hath all been laid on Thee;
I cast me down before Thee,
Wrath were my rightful lot,
Yet hear me, I implore Thee,
Redeemer, spurn me not!

5

My Guardian, deign to own me,
My Shepherd, I am Thine;
What goodness hast Thou shown me,
O Fount of Love Divine!
How oft Thy lips have fed me
On earth with angels' food!
How oft Thy Spirit led me
To stores of heavenly good!

6

Ah would that I were bidden
To share Thy cross and woes!
There all true joy lies hidden,
Thence all true comfort flows.
Ah well for me, if lying
Here at Thy feet, my Life,
I too with Thee were dying,
And thus might end my strife!

7

My foul doth melt within me,
O Jesus, dearest Friend,
That Thou shouldst bear to win me
Such woes, for such an end!
Ah make me cling the sirmer
To One so true to me,
And sink without a murmur
To sleep at last in Thee.

8

Yes, when I hence betake me,
Lord, do not Thou depart;
Oh! never more forfake me
When death is at my heart,
And faith and hope are finking,
O'erwhelm'd with dread difmay;
Thou barest all unshrinking,—
Oh chase my fears away!

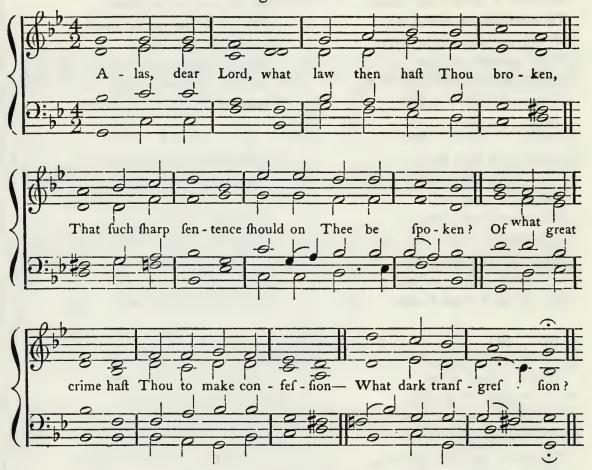

Q

Appear then, my Defender,
My Comfort, ere I die!
This life I can furrender
If but I fee Thee nigh;
My dim eyes shall behold Thee,
Upon Thy cross shall dwell,
My heart by faith enfold Thee;
Who dieth thus, dies well!

GOOD FRIDAY.

(xLI.-,, Bergliebster Jesu mas haft Du verbrochen.")

52.
Original Tune.

- 2 They crown His head with thorns, they smite, they scourge Him, With cruel mockings to the cross they urge Him,

 They give Him gall to drink, they still decry Him,—

 They crucify Him.
- Whence come these sorrows, whence this mortal anguish
 It is my sins for which my Lord must languish;
 Yes, all the wrath, the woe He doth inherit,
 'T is I do merit!
- 4 What strangest punishment is suffer'd yonder!—
 The Shepherd dies for sheep that loved to wander!
 The Master pays the debts His servants owe Him,
 Who would not know Him.

GOOD FRIDAY.

- 5 There was no spot in me by sin untainted, Sick with its venom all my heart had fainted; My heavy guilt to hell had well-nigh brought me, Such woe it wrought me.
- 6 O wondrous love! whose depths no heart hath sounded,
 That brought Thee here by foes and thieves surrounded;
 All worldly pleasures, heedless, I was trying,
 While Thou wert dying!
- 7 O mighty King! no time can dim Thy glory! How shall I spread abroad Thy wondrous story? How shall I find some worthy gift to proffer? What dare we offer?
- 8 For vainly doth our human wisdom ponder—
 Thy woes, Thy mercy still transcend our wonder.
 Oh how should I do aught that could delight Thee!
 Can I requite Thee?
- 9 Yet unrequited, Lord, I would not leave Thee,
 I can renounce whate'er doth vex or grieve Thee,
 And quench with thoughts of Thee and prayers most lowly,
 All fires unholy.
- To crucify defires that still entice me,
 To all good deeds, oh let Thy Spirit win me,
 And reign within me!
- I'll think upon Thy mercy hour by hour,
 I'll love Thee so that earth must lose her power;
 To do Thy will shall be my sole endeavour
 Henceforth for ever.
- I 'll risk for Thee,—no shame, no cross shall daunt me;
 I shall not fear what man can do to harm me,

 Nor death alarm me.
- Yet, Lord, for love's sake Thou wilt not disown it;
 Thou wilt accept my gift in Thy great meekness,
 Nor shame my weakness.
- 14 And when, dear Lord, before Thy throne in heaven
 To me the crown of joy at last is given,
 Where sweetest hymns Thy saints for ever raise Thee,
 I too shall praise Thee!

(xvII.-., Da Jesus an bem Krenze ftund.")

53.

Original Tune.

"Father, forgive these men," He spake;
"For lo! they know not what they do,
Nor of my sufferings vengeance take!"
And when we sin in error too,
For us, dear Lord, this prayer renew!

3

He thought upon the thief, and faid,—
"Thou shalt behold my Paradise
With me, ere yet this day be fled."
Lord, see us too with pitying eyes,
And raise us from our miseries!

4

His mother stood beside Him there;
"Behold thy son! Oh let her find
A son, O John, in thy true care."

Lord, care for those we leave behind,
Nor let the world prove all unkind!

5

Once more He faith,—"I thirst, I thirst!"

O Prince of Life! that we might be Rescued from death, Thou dar'st the worst.

So dost Thou long to set us free!

Not fruitless be that thirst in Thee!

6

Again, "My God, My God," He cried,
"Ah why dost Thou forsake me thus?"
Thou art forsaken at this tide,
To win acceptance, Lord, for us;
Oh comfort deep and marvellous!

7

He faith,—" Lo! it is finish'd now!"
Saviour, Thy perfect work is done!
O make us faithful, Lord, as Thou,
No trial and no cross to shun
Till all Thou lay'st on us be done.

8

And last,—" My Father, to Thine hands
My parting soul I now commend."

Lord, when my spirit trembling stands
Upon life's verge, this cry I send
To Thee, and with Thy words I end.

g

Whoso shall ponder oft these words

When long-past sins his soul alarm,

Shall find the hope Thy cross accords,

And in Thy grace a healing balm

That brings the wounded conscience calm

10

Lord Jesu Christ, who diedst for us,
This one thing grant us evermore;
To ponder o'er Thy passion thus,
Till truer, deeper than before
We learn to love Thee and adore!

EASTER EVE.

(LXXXIV .-., D Traurigfeit, D Bergeleib.")

54.

Original Tune.

O son of man!

It was the ban

Of death on thee that brought Him

Down to suffer for thy sins,

And such woe hath wrought Him.

Behold thy Lord,
The Lamb of God,
Blood-sprinkled lies before thee,
Pouring out His life that He
May to life restore thee.

O Ground of faith
Laid low in death!
Sweet lips now filent fleeping!
Surely all that live must mourn
Here with bitter weeping.

Yea, blest is he
Whose heart shall be
Fix'd here, and apprehendeth
Why the Lord of glory thus
To the grave descendeth.

O Jesu blest!

My help and rest!

With tears I pray—Lord, hear me;

Make me love Thee to the last,

In the grave be near me!

EASTER EVE.

(xx .-. , Der Du herr Jefu Ruh unt Raft.")

55.

Give us the strength, the dauntless faith, That Thou hast purchased with Thy death, And lead us to that glorious place Where we shall see the Father's face.

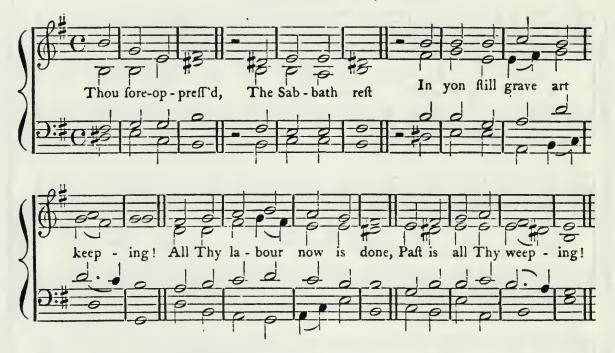

O Lamb of God! who once wast slain, We thank Thee for that bitter pain!
Let us partake Thy death, that we
May enter into life with Thee!

EASTER EVE.

(Index of Tunes, LXXXIV.)

56.

Tune .- " O darkest woe! Ye tears, forth flow!"

The strife is o'er,

Nought hurts Thee more,

The heart at last hath slumber'd,

That in consist fore for us

Bore our sins unnumber'd.

Thou awful tomb,
Once fill'd with gloom!

How bleffed and how holy
Art thou now, fince in the grave
Slept the Saviour lowly!

How calm and blest
The dead now rest
Who in the Lord departed!
All their works do follow them,
Yes, they sleep glad-hearted.

O lead us Thou
To rest e'en now,
With all who, forely anguish'd
'Neath the burden of their sins,
Long in woe have languish'd.

6

O Bleffed Rock!
Soon grant Thy flock
To fee Thy Sabbath morning!
Strife and pain will all be past
When that day is dawning.

(xxvIII.-,, Ericienen ift ber herrlich' Tag.")

57.

- 2 O stronger Thou than Death and Hell,
 Where is the foe Thou canst not quell?
 What heavy stone Thou canst not roll
 From off the prison'd anguish'd soul?
 Hallelujah.
- If Jesus lives, can I be sad?
 I know He loves me, and am glad;
 Though all the world were dead to me,
 Enough, O Christ, if I have Thee!
 Hallelujah.
- 4 He feeds me, comforts and defends, And when I die His angel sends To bear me whither He is gone, For of His own He loseth none.

Hallelujah.

- 5 No more to fear or grief I bow,
 God and the angels love me now;
 The joys prepared for me to-day
 Drive fear and mourning far away;
 Hallelujah.
- 6 Strong Champion! For this comfort fee
 The whole world brings her thanks to Thee;
 And once we too shall raise above
 More sweet and loud the song we love:

Hallelujah.

(xvi.-,, Chrift ift erftanben.")

58.

Original Tune.

He who gave for us His life,
Who for us endured the strife,
Is our Paschal Lamb to-day!
We too sing for joy, and say:
Hallelujah.

3

He who bore all pain and loss Comfortless upon the cross, Lives in glory now on high, Pleads for us and hears our cry: Hallelujah.

4

He whose path no records tell,
Who descended into hell,
Who the strong man arm'd hath bound,
Now in highest heaven is crown'd:
Hallelujah.

5

He who flumber'd in the grave
Is exalted now to fave;
Now through Christendom it rings
That the Lamb is King of kings!
Hallelujah.

K

Now He bids us tell abroad

How the lost may be restored,

How the penitent forgiven,

How we too may enter heaven.

Hallelujah.

7

Thou our Paschal Lamb indeed,
Christ, to-day Thy people feed;
Take our sins and guilt away,
That we all may sing for aye,
Hallelujah.

(1.v.-, Bejus meine Zuverficht.")

59.

Jesus, my Redeemer, lives!

I too unto life must waken;
He will have me where He is,
Shall my courage then be shaken?
Shall I fear? Or could the Head
Rise and leave its members dead?

3

Nay, too closely am I bound
Unto Him by hope for ever;
Faith's strong hand the Rock hath found,
Grasped it, and will leave it never;
Not the ban of death can part
From its Lord the trusting heart.

4

What now fickens, mourns, and fighs,
Christ with Him in glory bringeth;
Earthly is the seed and dies,
Heavenly from the grave it springeth;
Natural is the death we die,
Spiritual our life on high.

5

Then take comfort, nay, rejoice,
For His members Christ will cherish;
Fear not, they will know His voice,
Though awhile they seem to perish,
When the final trump is heard,
And the deaf, cold grave is stirred.

6

Laugh to scorn the gloomy grave,
And at death no longer tremble,
For the Lord, who comes to save,
Round Him shall His saints assemble,
Raising them o'er all their soes,
Mortal weakness, fear, and woes.

7

Only draw away your heart

Now from pleasures base and hollow;

Would ye there with Christ have part,

Here His footsteps ye must follow;

Fix your heart beyond the skies,

Whither ye yourselves would rise!

EASTER.

(xiv .-., Chrift lag in Tobesbanten.")

60.

Original Tune.

No fon of man could conquer Death,
Such mischief sin had wrought us,
For innocence dwelt not on earth,
And therefore Death had brought us
Into thraldom from of old,
And ever grew more strong and bold,
His shadow lay athwart us.—Hallelujah!

3

But Jesus Christ, God's only Son,
Hath come to conquer for us,
Hath put away our fins, and won
Death's power and title o'er us.
Now 'tis but his form is lest,
For of his sting he is bereft
Since Jesus will restore us.—Hallelujah!

4

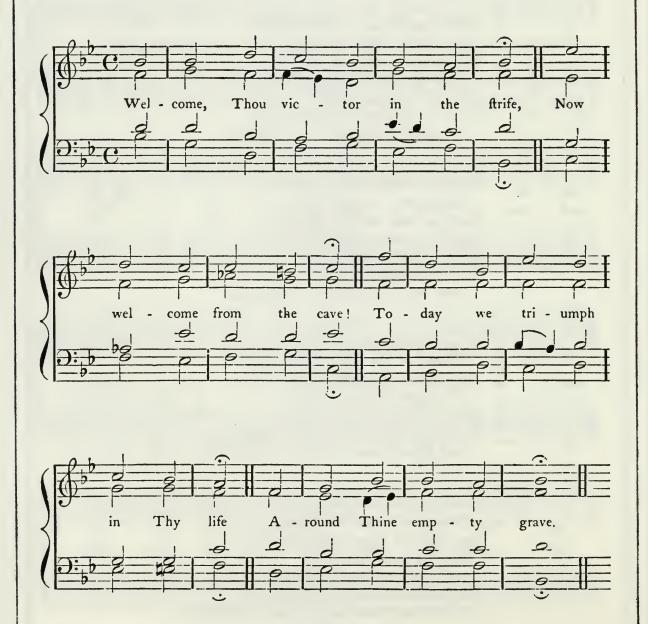

It was a wondrous war, I trow,
When Life and Death contended;
But Life hath triumphed o'er the foe,
The reign of Death is ended;
Yea, 'tis as the Scripture faith,
That Christ in dying conquered Death,
And from his realm ascended.—Hallelujah!

5

Then let us keep the feast to-day
That God Himself hath given;
And His pure Word shall do away
The old and evil leaven;
Christ to-day will meet His own,
And faith will feed on Him alone,
The Living Bread from heaven.—Hallelujah!

(XCII. PSALM 88, Ravenscroft.)

61.

The dwellings of the just resound
With songs of victory;
For in their midst, Lord, Thou art sound,
And bringest peace with Thee.

3

Oh share with us the spoils, we pray,
Thou diedst to achieve;
We meet within Thy house to-day
Our portion to receive:

4

We die with Thee; oh let us live

Henceforth to Thee aright;
The bleffings Thou hast died to give,

Be daily in our fight.

5

Fearless we lay us in the tomb,

And sleep the night away,

If Thou art there to break the gloom,

And call us back to day.

6

Death hurts us not; his power is gone,
And pointless all his darts;
Now hath God's favour on us shone,
And joy fills all our hearts.

62.

Tune .- "Whate'er my God ordains is right."

EASTER.

Oh that to know Thy victory

To us were inly granted,

And these cold hearts might catch from Thee

The glow of faith undaunted;

Thy quenchless light,

Thy glorious might

Still comfortless and lonely leave

The soul that cannot yet believe.

3

Then break through our hard hearts Thy way,
O Jesus, Lord of glory!
Kindle the lamp of faith to-day,
Teach us to sing before Thee
For joy at length,
That in Thy strength
We too may rise whom sin had slain,
And Thine eternal rest attain.

4

And when our tears for fin o'erflow,
Do Thou in love draw near us,
Thy precious gift of peace bestow,
Let Thy bright presence cheer us,
That so may we,
O Christ, from Thee
Drink in the life that cannot die,
And keep true Easter feasts on high.

(Index of Tunes, VII.)

63.

Tune .- " Hark! a voice faith, All are mortal."

2

As I watch Thee far ascending
To the right hand of the throne,
See the host before Thee bending,
Praising Thee in sweetest tone,
Shall not I too at Thy feet
Here the angels' strain repeat,
And rejoice that heaven doth ring
With the triumph of my King?

3

Power and Spirit are o'erflowing,
On me also be they pour'd;
Every hindrance overthrowing,
Make Thy foes Thy footstool, Lord!
Yea, let earth's remotest end
To Thy righteous sceptre bend,
Make Thy way before Thee plain,
O'er all hearts and spirits reign.

4

Lo! Thy presence now is filling
All Thy Church in every place;
Fill my heart too, make me willing
In this season of Thy grace;
Come, Thou King of glory, come,
Deign to make my heart Thy home,
There abide and rule alone,
As upon Thy heavenly throne!

5

Thou art leaving me, yet bringing
God and heaven most inly near;
From this earthly life upspringing,
As though still I saw Thee here,
Let my heart, transplanted hence,
Strange to earth and time and sense,
Dwell with Thee in heaven e'en now,
Where our only joy art Thou!

(Index of Tunes, xxix.)

64.

Tune.-" All praise and thanks."

2

Since Christ hath reached His glorious throne,
And mighty gifts henceforth are His,
My heart can rest in heaven alone,
On earth my Lord I daily miss;
I long to be with Him on high,
And heart and thoughts would hourly fly
Where now my only treasure is.

3

From Thy ascension let such grace,

Dear Lord, be ever found in me,

That steadsast faith may guide my ways

With step unfault'ring up to Thee,

And at Thy voice I may depart

With joy to dwell where Thou, Lord, art:

O Saviour, grant this prayer to me!

(Index of Tunes, LV.)

65.

Tune .- " Jesus Christ, my sure Defence."

2

Heavenward stretch, my soul, thy wings,
Thou canst claim a heavenly nature;
Cleave not to these earthly things,
Thou canst rest not in the creature.
Every soul that God inspires,
Back to Him, its Source, aspires.

3

Heavenward! doth His Spirit cry,
Oft as in His word I hear Him;
Pointing to the rest on high
Where I shall be ever near Him.
When His word fills all my thought,
Oft to heaven my soul is caught.

4

Heavenward still I long to haste,
When Thy supper, Lord, is given;
Heavenly strength on earth I taste,
Feeding on the Bread of Heaven;
Such is e'en on earth our fare,
Who Thy marriage feast will share.

5

Heavenward! To that bleffed home
Death at last will surely lead me;
All my trials overcome,
Christ with life and joy will feed me;
Who Himself hath gone before
That we too might heavenward soar.

6

Heavenward! This shall be my cry
While a pilgrim here I wander,
Passing earth's allurements by
For the love of what is yonder;
Heavenward all my being tends,
Till in Heaven my journey ends.

(Index of Tunes, LIV.)

66.

Tune .- " Christ the Life of all the living."

2

Leave Thy heart still inly near me,

Take mine hence where Thou art gone,

Open heaven to me, and hear me

When to Thee I cry alone;

When I cannot pray, oh plead

With Thy Father in my stead;

Seated now at God's right hand,

Help us here, Thy faithful band.

3

Worldly joys I cast behind me,

Let me choose the better part,

And though mortal chains yet bind me,

Heavenly be my thoughts and heart;

That my time through faith may be

Order'd for eternity;

Till we rise, all perils o'er,

Whither Thou hast gone before.

4

Then return, the promise keeping

That was made to us of old;

Raise the members that are sleeping

Gnaw'd of death beneath the mound.

Judge the evil world that deems

Thy sure words but empty dreams;

And for all our forrows past

Let us know Thy joy at last.

(Lxv.-,, Mein Jefu, bem bie Geraphinen.")

67.

Original Tune.

- 2 Yet grant the eye of faith, O Lord,
 To pierce within the Holy Place,
 For I am faved and Thou adored,
 If I am quicken'd by Thy grace.
 Behold, O King, my foul is bending
 In lowly love before Thy throne,
 Oh fay, "I choose thee for mine own,
 With faithful love thy course befriending."
- My spirit for Thy mercy sighs,
 My inmost soul hath found a tongue,
 "Be merciful, O God," she cries!
 I know Thou wilt not bid me leave Thee,
 Thou canst not show Thyself a foe
 To one for whom Thou bar'st such woe,
 Whose lost estate so fore could grieve Thee.
- 4 Then let Thy wisdom be my guide,
 Nor take Thy light from me away,
 Thy grace be ever at my side,
 That from Thy path I may not stray;
 But feeling that Thy hand is o'er me,
 In steadfast faith my course fulfil,
 And keep Thy word, and do Thy will,
 Thy love within, Thy heaven before me!
- And strengthen me with Thy hand,
 And strengthen me with inner might,
 That I through faith may strive and stand
 Though craft and force against me fight:
 That so may through me and within me
 The kingdom of Thy love be spread,
 That honours Thee, our glorious Head,
 And once a crown of light shall win me.
- 6 To Thee I rise in faith on high,
 O bend Thou down in love to me!
 Let nothing rob me of this joy,
 That all my soul is fill'd with Thee;
 As long as here I live, yea longer,
 Thee will I honour, fear, and love,
 For when this heart hath ceased to move
 Than Death itself Thy Love is stronger.

68.

Tune .- " My life is hid in Jesus."

Draw us to Thee; enlighten
These hearts to find Thy way,
That else the tempests frighten,
Or pleasures lure astray.

Draw us to Thee; and teach us
Even now that rest to find,
Where turmoils cannot reach us,
Nor cares weigh down the mind.

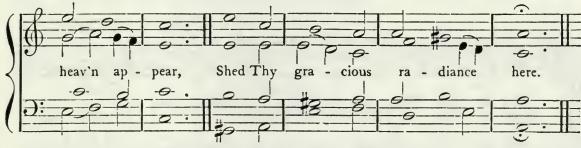

Draw us to Thee; nor leave us
Till all our path is trod,
Then in Thine arms receive us,
And bear us home to God.

(xxxiv .-. , Beil'ger Beift, bu Tröfter mein.")

69.

Original Tune.

2

Come to them who suffer dearth, With Thy gifts of priceless worth, Lighten all who dwell on earth!

3

Thou the heart's most precious guest, Thou of comforters the best, Give to us, th' o'er-laden, rest!

4

Come, in Thee our toil is sweet, Shelter from the noon-day heat, From whom forrow flieth fleet!

5

Bleffed Sun! Oh let Thy rays
Fill with joy and warmth and grace
Every heart that truly prays.

6

What without Thy aid is wrought, Skilful deed or wisest thought, God will count but vain and nought.

7

Cleanse us, Lord, from sinful stain, O'er the parched heart oh rain, Heal the wounded from its pain.

8

Bend the stubborn will to Thine, Melt the cold with fire divine, Erring hearts aright incline.

Q

Grant us, Lord, who cry to Thee, Steadfast in the faith to be, Give Thy gifts of charity:

IC

May we live in holiness, And in death find happiness, And abide with Thee in blis!

(Index of Tunes, CXVII.)

70.

- 2 Left to ourselves we shall but stray;
 O lead us on the narrow way,
 With wisest counsel guide us,
 And give us steadfastness, that we
 May henceforth truly follow Thee,
 Whatever woes betide us;
 Heal Thou gently Hearts now broken,
 Give some token
 Thou art near us,
 Whom we trust to light and cheer us.
- O mighty Rock, O Source of Life,
 Let Thy dear Word, 'mid doubt and strife,
 Be so within us burning
 That we be faithful unto death,
 In Thy pure love and holy faith,
 From Thee true wisdom learning;
 Lord, Thy graces On us shower,
 By Thy power
 Christ confessing,
 Let us win His grace and blessing.
- 4 O gentle Dew, from heaven now fall
 With power upon the hearts of all,
 Thy tenderness instilling;
 That heart to heart more closely bound,
 Fruitful in kindly deeds be found,
 The law of love fulfilling;
 No wrath, no strife Here shall grieve thee,
 We receive Thee,
 Where Thou livest
 Peace and love and joy Thou givest.
- 5 Grant that our days, while life shall last,
 In purest holiness be past;
 Our minds so rule and strengthen
 That they may rise o'er things of earth,
 The hopes and joys that here have birth;
 And if our course Thou lengthen,
 Keep Thou pure, Lord, From offences,
 Heart and senses;
 Blessed Spirit,
 Bid us thus true life inherit!

(CIII.-Cruger's tune: "Bon Gott will ich nicht laffen.")

7 I

O enter, let me know Thee,
And feel Thy power within,
The power that breaks our fetters,
And rescues us from sin;
So wash and cleanse Thou me,
That I may serve Thee truly,
And render honour duly
With persect heart to Thee.

'Tis Thou, O Spirit, teachest
The soul to pray aright;
Thy songs have sweetest music,
Thy prayers have wondrous might;
Unheard they cannot fall,
They pierce the highest heaven,
Till He His help hath given
Who surely helpeth all.

- 4 Joy is Thy gift, O Spirit!

 Thou wouldst not have us pine;
 In darkest hours Thy comfort

 Doth aye most brightly shine;
 Ah then how oft thy voice

 Hath shed its sweetness o'er me,
 And open'd heaven before me,
 And bid my heart rejoice!
- Thou hatest enmity;
 Thou lovest peace and friendship,
 All strife wouldst have us flee;
 Where wrath and discord reign
 Thy whisper inly pleadeth,
 And to the heart that heedeth
 Brings love and light again.
- 6 The whole wide world, O Spirit!
 Upon Thy hands doth rest,
 Our wayward hearts Thou turnest
 As it may seem Thee best;
 Once more Thy power make known!
 As Thou hast done so often,
 Convert the wicked, soften
 To tears the heart of stone.
- 7 With holy zeal then fill us,
 To keep the faith still pure;
 And bless our lands and houses
 With wealth that may endure;
 And make that foe to slee
 Who in us with Thee striveth,
 From out our heart he driveth
 Whate'er delighteth Thee.
- 8 Order our path in all things
 According to Thy mind,
 And when this life is over,
 And must be all resign'd,
 Oh grant us then to die
 With calm and fearless spirit,
 And after death inherit
 Eternal life on high.

(LVII.-,, Romm beiliger Beift, Berre Gott.")

72.

Original Tune.

Thou Strong Defence, Thou Holy Light,
Teach us to know our God aright,
And call Him Father from the heart:
The Word of life and truth impart,
That we may love not doctrines strange,
Nor e'er to other teachers range,
But Jesus for our Master owr,
And put our trust in Him, in Him alone.

Hallelujah, Hallelujah!

3

Thou Sacred Ardeur, Comfort Sweet,
Help us to wait with ready feet
And willing heart at Thy command,
Nor trial fright us from Thy band.
Lord, make us ready with Thy powers,
Strengthen the flesh in weaker hours,
That as good warriors we may force
Through life and death to Thee, to Thee our course.

Hallelujah, Hallelujah!

Tune .- " Christ the Life of all the living."

2

Thou art shed like gentlest showers
From the Father and the Son,
Bringing to us quicken'd powers,
Purest blessing from their throne;
Suffer then, O noble Guest,
That rich gift by Thee possest,
That Thou givest at Thy will,
All my being now to fill.

3

Thou art ever true and holy,
Sin and falsehood Thou dost hate;
But Thou comest where the lowly
And the pure Thy presence wait;
Wash me then, O Well of grace,
Every stain and spot efface,
Let me slee what Thou dost slee,
Grant me what Thou lov'st to see.

4

Well content am I if only
Thou wilt deign to dwell with me;
With Thee I am never lonely,
Never comfortless with Thee;
Thine for ever make me now,
And to Thee, my Lord, I vow
Here and yonder to employ
Every power for Thee with joy.

5

When I cry for help, oh hear me;
When I fink, oh haste to save;
When I die, be inly near me,
Be my hope e'en in the grave;
Bring me when I rise again
To the land that knows no pain,
Where Thy followers from Thy stream
Drink for ever joys supreme!

(LVIII.-,, Romm, D fomm bu Beift bes Lebens.")

74.
Original Tune.

2

Guide us, Lord, from day to day,
Keep us in the paths of grace,
Clear all hindrances away
That might foil us in the race;
When we stumble hear our call,
Work repentance for our fall.

3

Witness in our hearts that God
Counts us children through His Son,
That our Father's gentle rod
Smites us for our good alone;
So when tried, perplex'd, distrest,
In His love we still may rest.

4

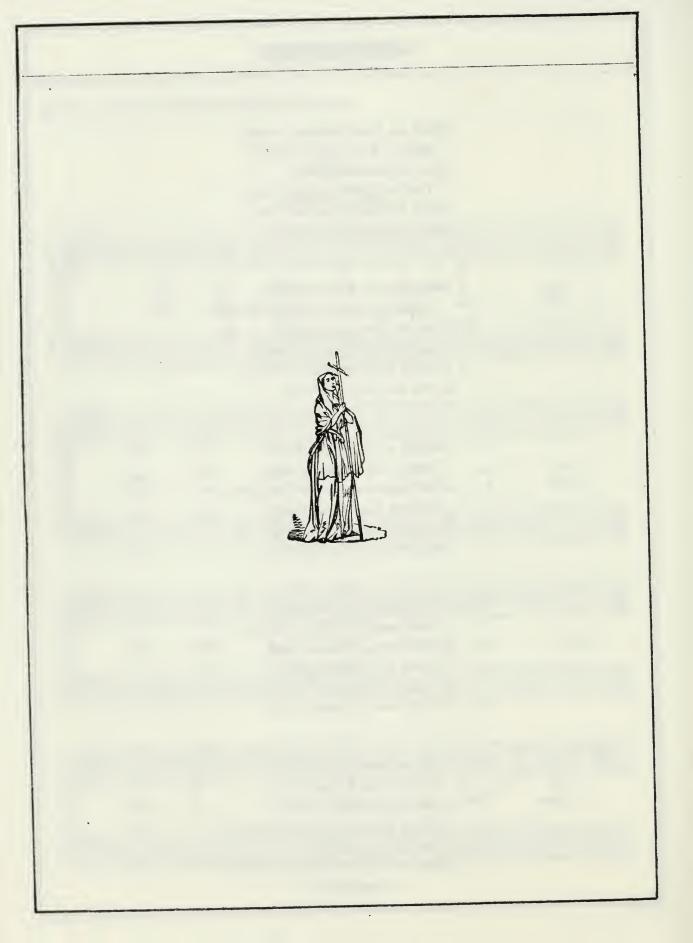

Quicken us to feek His face
Freely, with a trufting heart,
In our prayers oh breathe Thy grace,
Go with us when we depart;
So shall our requests be heard,
And our faith to joy be stirr'd.

5

Lord, preserve us in the faith,
Suffer nought to drive us thence,
Neither Satan, scorn, nor death;
Be our God and our desence;
Though the slesh resist Thy will,
Let Thy word be stronger still.

6

And at last when we must die,
Oh assure the sinking heart
Of the glorious realm on high
Where Thou healest every sinart,
Of the joys unspeakable
Where our God would have us dwell.

TRINITY SUNDAY.

(cxx .-- ,, Wir glauben all an einen Gott, Bater.")

75.

Original Tune.

2

And we believe in Jesus Christ,
Son of man and Son of God;
Who, to raise us up to heaven,
Lest His throne, and bore our load;
By whose cross and death are we
Rescued from our misery.

3

And we confess the Holy Ghost,
Who from both for ever flows;
Who upholds and comforts us
In the midst of fears and woes.
Blest and holy Trinity,
Praise shall aye be brought to Thee!

(XLII.-,, Bochheilige Dreieinigkeit.")

2

Father! replenish with Thy grace
This longing heart that would be Thine,
Make it Thy quiet dwelling-place,
Thy inner consecrated shrine!
Forgive that oft my spirit wears
Her time and strength in trivial cares,
Enfold her in Thy changeless peace,
So she from all but Thee may cease!

3

O God the Son! Thy wisdom's light
Now on my darken'd reason pour;
Forgive that things of sense and sight
Have been her only joy of yore;
Henceforth let every thought and deed
On Thee be fix'd, from Thee proceed;
Draw me to Thee, for I would rise
Above these earthly vanities!

4

O Holy Ghost! Thou fire of love!
Enkindle with Thy stame my will;
Come with Thy strength, Lord, from above
Help me Thy bidding to fulfil:
Forgive that I so oft have done
What I as sinful ought to shun;
Let me with pure and quenchless fire
Thy savour and Thyself desire.

5

Most High and Holy Trinity!

O draw me now away far hence,
And fix upon eternity
All powers alike of soul and sense!

Make me at one within; at one
With Thee on earth; when life is done
Take me to dwell in light with Thee,
Most High and Holy Trinity!

SAINTS' DAYS.

(Index of Tunes, xcvIII.)

77.

Tune .- " Open now Thy gates of beauty."

Who are those array'd in brightness,
Clothed in righteousness divine,
Wearing robes of dazzling whiteness,
That unstain'd shall ever shine,
And can never more decay,—
Whence came all this fair array?

SAINTS' DAYS.

3

They are those whose hearts were riven Here with sorrow, grief, and care, Who by day and night have striven With the mighty God in prayer; Now their warfare finds its close, God hath ended all their woes.

4

They are those who, daily serving
Here as priests before their Lord,
Offer'd up with faith unswerving
Soul and body at His word;
Now within the Holy place
They behold Him face to face.

5

As the hunted hart hath panted
For the river fresh and clear,
So their hearts with longing fainted
For the Living Fountain here.
Now their thirst is quench'd, they dwell
With the Lord they loved so well.

6

I too stretch my hands with longing
Thither, Jesus, day by day,
While my foes are round me thronging,
In Thy house on earth I pray,—
Let me sink not in the war,
Drive for me my foes afar.

7

Thus, O Lord, in earth and heaven
With Thy fervants cast my lot,
Let my sins be all forgiven,
In my need forsake me not;
Near the throne where Thou dost shine
May a place at last be mine!

SAINTS' DAYS.

(Index of Tunes, LXIII.)

78.

- 2 Though heavy it may feem, yet think
 I went before, I still am near,
 I fought the fight, and did not shrink,
 I trod the path of suffering here;
 My banner still is in the field,
 Would ye, faint hearts, then sly or yield?
- 3 For he who feeks to fave his life
 Shall find his care without Me vain;
 Who feems to lose it in the strife
 Shall find it in his God again;
 Who follows not My cross through all,
 He is not worthy of My call.
- 4 Then let us follow Thee, dear Lord,
 As Thy true fervants did of old,
 Forfaking all things at Thy word,
 In fuffering calm, in danger bold;
 'T is only he who wins the fight
 May hope to wear their crown of light.

(Index of Tunes, xc.)

79.

Tune .- "Ye fervants of the Lord, who stand."

We thank Thee for that gracious care, And pray that now and everywhere Thy fervants call'd to preach Thy Word Be faithful shepherds, like their Lord.

Yea, all who own Thee for their Head, Oh let them in Thy footsteps tread, Owning and loving more Thy cross Through persecution, shame, or loss. No better trophy hath this day Than hearts new-kindled to obey The call, for Thee that bids them live, And gladly yield all earth can give.

Nor for ourselves we pray alone, In Thee Thy Church is ever one. Unite us here in faith and love Until we worship Thee above.

80.

Tune .- " Farewell I gladly bid Thee."

- Yes, Lord, Thy fervants meet Thee,
 Ev'n now, in ev'ry place,
 Where Thy true word hath promised
 That they should see Thy face.
 Thou yet wilt gently grant us,
 Who gather round Thee here,
 In faith's strong arms to bear Thee,
 As once that aged seer.
- 3 Be Thou our joy, our brightness,
 That shines 'mid pain and loss,
 Our Sun in times of terror,
 The glory round our cross;
 A glow in sinking spirits,
 A sunbeam in distress,
 Physician, friend in sickness,
 In death our happiness.
- 4 Let us, O Lord, be faithful With Simeon to the end,
 That so his dying song may From all our hearts ascend:
 "O Lord, now let Thy servant Depart in peace for aye,
 Since I have seen my Saviour,
 Have here beheld His day."
- My Saviour, I behold Thee
 Now with the eye of faith;
 No foe of Thee can rob me,
 Though bitter words he faith;
 Within Thy heart abiding,
 As Thou dost dwell in me,
 No pain, no death has terrors
 To part my foul from Thee!

(LXVIII.—,, Mit Fried und Freud fahr ich bahin.")

81.

Original Tune.

2

'T is Christ hath wrought this work for me,
Thy dear and only Son,
Whom Thou hast suffer'd me to see,
And made Him surely known
As my Help when trouble 's rife,
And even in death itself my Life.

3

For Thou in mercy unto all

Hast set this Saviour forth;

And to His kingdom Thou dost call

The nations of the earth

Through His blessed wholesome Word,

That now in every place is heard.

4

He is the heathens' faving Light,
And He will gently lead
Those who now know Thee not aright,
And in His pastures feed;
While His people's joy He is,
Their Sun, their glory, and their bliss.

82.

Original Tune.

ANNUNCIATION.

2

My faith, alas! is weak,
And where it fees not plainly
It strives to grasp but vainly,
And scarcely cares new strength to seek;
Seeing now what God can do,
May my faith grow stronger too!

3

Thou Pearl of women, here
Hast to His will resign'd thee,
Thou wilt not look behind thee;
Thy tender heart, towards one so dear
To thy friends, doth warmly glow,
Loving service fain would show.

4

God! I lament to Thee,

My will towards good is idle,

And yet I scarce can bridle

Its sinful impulses in me;

May my course hereafter prove

Rich in good works and in love!

5

At last thou goest forth,

Most loving soul and fairest,

With thee thy Lord thou bearest,

The Father's Word come down to earth.

Happy thou! that He will be

Thus companion unto thee.

6

The world is such a place,

Where we are pilgrims only,

And we must fear, if lonely

We meet the end that comes apace.

Jesus! let me then by faith

Walk with Thee through life and death!

ST. JOHN THE BAPTIST.

(Index of Tunes, LXXXIX.)

83.

Tune.—" When the Lord recalls the banished."

ST. JOHN THE BAPTIST.

2

Yea, her fins our God will pardon,
Blotting out each dark missed;
All that well deserved His anger
He will no more see nor heed.
She hath suffer'd many a day,
Now her griefs have passed away,
God will change her pining sadness
Into ever-springing gladness.

3

For Elijah's voice is crying

In the defert far and near,

Bidding all men to repentance,

Since the kingdom now is here.

Oh that warning cry obey,

Now prepare for God a way;

Let the valleys rife to meet Him,

And the hills bow down to greet Him.

4

Make ye straight what long was crooked,
Make the rougher places plain,
Let your hearts be true and humble,
As besits His holy reign;
For the glory of the Lord
Now o'er earth is shed abroad,
And all sless shall see the token
That His Word is never broken.

ST. JOHN THE BAPTIST.

84.

Tune .- " From God shall nought divide me."

Oh set your ways in order
When such a guest is nigh;
Make plain the paths before Him
That now deserted lie.
Forsake what He doth hate,
Exalt the lowly valleys,
Bring down all pride and malice,
And make the crooked straight.

3

The heart that's meek and lowly
Is highest with our God;
The heart now proud and lofty
He humbles with His rod;
The heart that's unenticed
By sin, and fears to grieve Him,
Is ready to receive Him,
To such comes Jesus Christ.

4

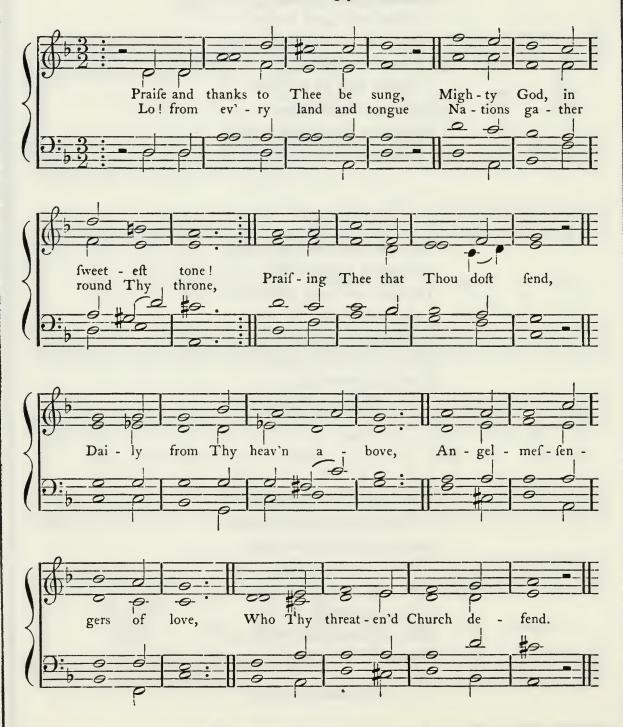

'Twas thus St. John hath taught us,
'Twas thus he preach'd of yore;
And they will feel God's anger
Who lift not to his lore.
Ah God! now let his voice
To Thy true fervice win us,
That Christ may come within us,
And we in Him rejoice!

Tune.—" Shall I not fing praise to Thec."

ST. MICHAEL AND ALL ANGELS.

2

'T is your office, Spirits bright,
Still to guard us night and day,
And before your heavenly might
Powers of darkness flee away;
Ever doth your unseen host
Camp around us, and avert
All that seeks to do us hurt,
Curbing Satan's malice most.
Lord, who then can worthily
For such goodness honour Thee!

3

And ye come on ready wing,

When we drift toward sheer despair,
Seeing nought where we might cling,
Suddenly, lo, ye are there!

And the wearied heart grows strong,
As an angel strengthen'd Him,
Fainting in the garden dim
'Neath the world's vast woe and wrong.

Lord, who then can worthily
For such mercy honour Thee!

4

Right and feemly is it then

We should glory, that our God

Hath such honour put on men,

That He sends o'er earth abroad

Princes of the realm above,

Champions, who by day and night
Shield us with His holy might;

Come, behold how great His love!

Lord, who then can worthily

For such favour honour Thee!

5

Praise and thanks to Thee be sung,
Mighty God, in sweetest tone!

Lo! from ev'ry land and tongue
Nations gather round Thy throne,
Praising Thee that Thou dost send,
Hourly from Thy glorious sphere,
Angels down to help us here,
And Thy threaten'd Church defend.

Let us henceforth worthily,
Lord of angels, honour Thee.

Original Tunc.

2

Thou art the Comforter, the gift
Of God most high; the fire of love,
The everlasting spring of joy,
And holy unction from above.

3

Thy gifts are manifold; Thou writ'st
God's laws in every faithful heart;
The promise of the Father, Thou
Dost heavenly eloquence impart.

Enlighten our dark fouls, till they

Thy love, Thy heavenly love embrace;

And fince we are by nature frail

Affift us with Thy faving grace.

5

Drive far from us the mortal foe,

And grant us to have peace within;

That, with Thy light and guidance bleft,

We may escape the snares of sin.

6

Teach us the Father to confess,

And Son, who from the grave revived;

And, with the Father and the Son,

Thee, Holy Ghost, from both derived.

7

With Thee, O Father, therefore may

The Son, who was from death restor'd,

And sacred Comforter, One God,

To endless ages be adored!

(Index of Tunes, XXIII.)

87.

Tune .- "Jehovah, let me now adore Thee."

Soon may that fire from heaven be lent us,
That swift from land to land its flame may leap!
Soon, Lord, that priceless boon be sent us
Of faithful servants, fit for Thee to reap
The harvest of the soul,—look down and view
How great the harvest, but the labourers sew.

3

Lord, to our earnest prayer now hearken,
The prayer we offer at Thy Son's command,
For, lo! while storms around us darken,
Thy children's hearts are stirr'd in every land,
To cry for help, with fervent soul, to Thee;
O hear us, Lord, and speak: "Thus let it be!"

4

Oh speedily that help be granted!

Send forth evangelists, in spirit strong,

Arm'd with Thy Word, a host undaunted,

Bold to attack the rule of ancient wrong,

And let them all the earth for Thee reclaim,

To be Thy kingdom and to know Thy name!

5

Grant that for which Thy people calleth!

Send down Thy promifed Spirit, Lord, in might,
Before whom every barrier falleth,

And let it thus at evening-time be light;

Oh rend the heavens, and make Thy presence felt,

The chains that bind us at Thy touch would melt.

6

Let Zion's paths lie waste no longer,
Remove the hindrances that there have lain,
And let Thy Word go forth to conquer;
Destroy false dostrine, root out notions vain,
Set free from hirelings, let the Church and school
Bloom as a garden 'neath thy prospering rule.

(xc.-Pfalm 134, Goudimel.)

88.

Original Tune.

Lift up your hands in praise and prayer,
And thank Him in His holy place;
Let heart and voice alike declare
His wondrous glory and His grace.

3

And God who earth and heaven hath made,
And holds in being by His power,
Be now from Zion your constant aid,
And richest blessings o'er you shower!

(Index of Tunes, CIII.)

89.

Tune .- " O enter, Lord, Thy temple."

Wash'd in the blood that gushes
From out His wounded heart,
Wrapp'd in the peace that hushes
All earthly woe and smart,
Begin thy pilgrimage,
And seek, as more thou learnest,
With wisdom glad yet earnest,
Thy proper heritage.

Oh sweet shall sound the voices
That hail thee from above,
Where heaven's bright host rejoices
Before the Eternal Love:
"Now past is all thy strife,
And thou canst wander never,
Then bless the hour for ever
That call'd thee into life!"

(Index of Tunes, LXI.)

90.

Tune .- "Bleffed Jefus, at Thy word."

2

Yes, Thy warning voice is plain,
And we fain would keep it duly,
"He who is not born again,
Heart and life renewing truly,
Born of water and the Spirit,
Will My kingdom ne'er inherit."

3

Therefore hasten we to Thee,

Take the pledge we bring, oh take it!

Let us here Thy glory see,

And in tender pity make it

Now Thy child, and leave it never—

Thine on earth, and Thine for ever.

4

Turn the darkness into light,

To Thy grace receive and save it;

Heal the serpent's venom'd bite,

In the font where now we lave it;

Let Thy Spirit pure and lowly

Banish thought or taint unholy.

5

Make it, Head, Thy member now,
Shepherd, take Thy lamb and feed it,
Prince of Peace, its peace be Thou,
Way of life, to Heaven oh lead it,
Vine, this branch may nothing fever,
Grafted firm in Thee for ever.

6

Now upon Thy heart it lies,

What our hearts so dearly treasure,
Heavenward lead our burden'd sighs,
Pour Thy blessing without measure,
Write the name we now have given,
Write it in the book of Heaven.

CONFIRMATION.

91.

Tune .- " Jesu, day by day."

CONFIRMATION.

2

Thou our hearts prepare,
Shed Thy gladness there,
That we boldly may confess Thee
As our only Lord, and bless Thee
Whose most precious blood
Flow'd to work our good.

3

Draw our hearts above,

Fill them with Thy love,

So to keep the vows we offer,

Scorning all that earth can proffer,

Truly day by day

Walking in Thy way.

4

And as we draw near

For Thy bleffing here,

May Thy grace in heavenly showers

Quicken all our inner powers,

And Thy light and peace

In our hearts increase.

5

Let Thy Spirit, Lord,
Promised in Thy Word,
Keep us steadfastly in union
With Thy faithful saints' communion,
Till in yon blest place
We behold Thy face!

CONFIRMATION.

92.

Tune .- " If thou but fuffer God to guide thee."

2

My loving Father here doth take me
To be henceforth His child and heir;
My faithful Saviour now doth make me
The fruit of all His forrows share;
My Comforter will comfort me
When darkest clouds around I see.

3

And I have vowed to fear and love Thee,
And to obey Thee, Lord, alone;
I felt Thy Spirit inly move me,
And dared to pledge myself Thy own,
Renouncing sin to keep the faith,
And war with evil to the death.

4

My faithful God, Thou failest never,
Thy covenant surely will abide;
Oh cast me not away for ever,
Should I transgress it on my side,
If I have fore my soul defiled,
Yet still forgive, restore Thy child.

5

Yea, all I am and love most dearly
To Thee I offer now the whole;
Oh let me make my vows sincerely,
Take full possession of my soul,
Let nought within me, nought I own,
Serve any will but Thine alone.

6

And never let my purpose falter,
O Father, Son, and Holy Ghost,
But keep me faithful to Thine altar,
Till Thou shalt call me from my post;
So unto Thee I live and die,
And praise Thee evermore on high.

(xciv .-., Schmude bich, o liebe Seele.")

93.
Original Tune.

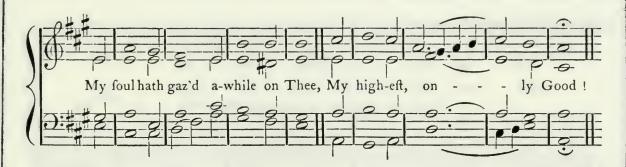

- 2 Hasten as a Bride to meet Him,
 And with loving reverence greet Him,
 For with words of life immortal
 Now He knocketh at thy portal;
 Haste to ope the gates before Him,
 Saying, while thou dost adore Him,
 "Suffer, Lord, that I receive Thee,
 And I never more will leave Thee."
- Ah how hungers all my spirit
 For the love I do not merit!
 Oft have I, with sight fast thronging,
 Thought upon this food with longing,
 In the battle well-nigh worsted,
 For this cup of life have thirsted,
 For the Friend, who here invites us,
 And to God Himself unites us.
- 4 Now I fink before Thee lowly,
 Fill'd with joy most deep and holy,
 As with trembling awe and wonder
 On Thy mighty works I ponder,
 How, by mystery surrounded,
 Depths no man hath ever sounded,
 None may dare to pierce unbidden
 Secrets that with Thee are hidden.
- 5 Sun, who all my life dost brighten,
 Light, who dost my soul enlighten,
 Joy, the sweetest man e'er knoweth,
 Fount, whence all my being sloweth,
 At Thy feet I cry, my Maker,
 Let me be a fit partaker
 Of this blessed food from heaven,
 For our good, Thy glory, given.
- 6 Jesus, Bread of Life, I pray Thee,
 Let me gladly here obey Thee,
 Never to my hurt invited,
 Be Thy love with love requited;
 From this banquet let me measure,
 Lord, how vast and deep its treasure;
 Through the gifts Thou here dost give me
 As Thy guest in heaven receive me.

(Index of Tunes, LXXIV.)

94.

Tune .- " My foul, now praise thy Maker."

2

My God, Thou here hast led me
Within Thy temple's holiest place,
And there Thyself hast sed me
With all the treasures of Thy grace;
Ch boundless is Thy kindness,
And righteous is Thy power,
While I in sinful blindness
Am erring hour by hour;
And yet Thou comest, dost not spurn
A sinner, Lord, like me!
Ah how can I Thy love return,
What gift have I for Thee?

3

A heart that hath repented,
And mourns for fin with bitter fighs,—
Thou, Lord, art well-contented
With this my only facrifice.
I know that in my weakness
Thou wilt despise me not,
But grant me in Thy meekness
The favour I have fought;
Yes, Thou wilt deign in grace to heed
The song that now I raise,
For meet and right is it indeed
That I should sing Thy praise.

Grant what I have partaken

May through Thy grace so work in me,
That sin be all forsaken,

And I may cleave alone to Thee,
And all my soul be heedful
How she Thy love may know,
For this alone is needful,
Thy love should in me glow;

Then let no beauty please mine eyes,

No joy allure my heart,
But what in Thee, my Saviour, lies,
What Thou dost here impart.

5

O well for me that, strengthen'd
With heavenly food and comfort here,
Howe'er my course be lengthen'd,
I now may serve Thee free from sear.
Away then earthly pleasure,
All earthly gifts are vain,
I seek a heavenly treasure,
My home I long to gain,
Where I shall live and praise my God,
And none my peace destroy,
Where all the soul is overslow'd
With pure eternal joy.

(Index of Tunes, xcix.)

95.

Tune .- " Farewell I gladly bid Thee."

2

For ever will I love Him

Who faw my hopeless plight,

Who felt my forrows move Him,

And brought me life and light;

Whose arm shall be around me

When my last hour is come,

And suffer none to wound me,

Though dark the passage home.

3

He gives me pledges holy,
His body and His blood,
He lifts the fcorn'd, the lowly,
He makes my courage good,
For He will reign within me,
And shed His graces there;
The heaven He died to win me
Can I then fail to share?

4

In joy and forrow ever
Shine through me, Blessed Heart,
Who bleeding for us, never
Didst shrink from forest smart!
Whate'er I've lov'd, or striven,
Or borne, I bring to Thee,
Now let Thy heart and heaven
Stand open, Lord, to me.

(LXXIII.-,, Run laff't uns ben Leib begraben.")

2

And so to earth again we trust What came from dust, and turns to dust, And from the dust shall surely rise When the last trumpet fills the skies.

3

His foul is living now in God
Whose grace his pardon hath bestow'd,
Who through His Son redeem'd him here
From bondage unto sin and sear.

4

His trials and his griefs are past,
A blessed end is his at last;
He bore Christ's yoke, and did His will,
And though he died he liveth still.

5

He lives where none can mourn and weep, And calmly shall this body sleep Till God shall Death himself destroy And raise it into glorious joy.

6

He suffer'd pain and grief below, Christ heals him now from all his woe; For him hath endless joy begun; He shines in glory like the sun.

7

Then let us leave him to his rest,
And homeward turn, for he is blest,
And we must well our souls prepare,
When death shall come, to meet him there.

Q

So help us, Christ, our Hope in loss! Thou hast redeem'd us by Thy cross From endless death and misery; We praise, we bless, we worship Thee!

(Index of Tunes, LXXIII.)

97.

Tune .- " Now lay we calmly in the grave."

- 2 Coffin and grave we deck with care, His body reverently we bear, It is not dead but rests in God, And softly sleeps beneath the sod.
- It feems as all were over now,—
 The heavy limbs, the foulless brow,—
 Yet through these rigid limbs once more
 A nobler life, ere long, shall pour.
- 4 These dead dry bones again shall feel
 New warmth and vigour through them steal,
 Reknit and living they shall soar
 On high where Christ lives evermore.
- 5 This body, lying stiff and stark,
 Shall rife unharm'd from out the dark,
 And swiftly mount up through the skies,
 Even as the spirit heavenwards slies.
- 6 The buried grain of wheat must die, Wither'd and worthless long must lie, Yet springs to light all sweet and fair, And proper fruits shall richly bear:
- 7 Even so this body made of dust, To earth we once again entrust, And painless it shall slumber here, Until the Last Great Day appear.
- 8 God breathed into this house of clay
 The spirit that hath pass'd away,
 Christ gave the true courageous mind,
 The noble heart, ye no more find.
- 9 Now earth has hid it from our eyes, Till God shall bid it wake and rise, Who ne'er the creature will forget, On whom His image He hath set.
- When Christ shall once again appear;
 When He shall call, nor one be lost,
 To endless life earth's buried host!

(Index of Tunes, XL.)

98.

Tune .- " Ah wounded Head!"

2

He has what we are wanting,

He sees what we believe,

The sins on earth so haunting

Have there no power to grieve;

Safe in His Saviour's keeping,

Who sent him calm release,—

'Tis only we are weeping,

He dwells in perfect peace.

3

The crown of life he weareth,

He bears the shining palm,

The "Holy, holy," shareth,

And joins the angels' pfalm;

But we poor pilgrims wander

Still through this land of woe,

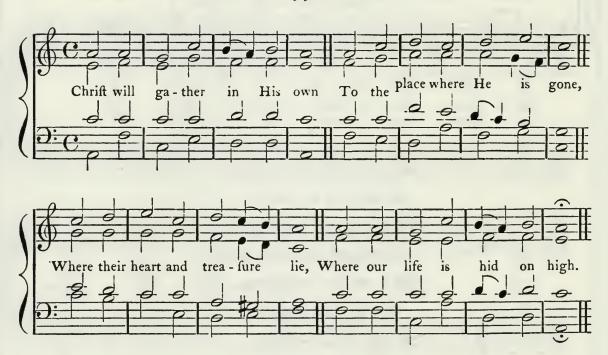

Till we shall meet him yonder,

And all his joy shall know.

12

(LXXII.-,, Run fomm, ber Beiben Beilanb.")

99.

- 2 Day by day the voice faith, "Come, Enter thine eternal home;" Asking not if we can spare This dear soul it summons there.
- 3 Had he ask'd us, well we know
 We should cry, oh spare this blow!
 Yes, with streaming tears should pray,
 "Lord, we love him, let him stay!"
- 4 But the Lord doth nought amiss, And since He hath order'd this, We have nought to do but still Rest in silence on His will.
- 5 Many a heart no longer here, Ah! was all too inly dear; Yet, O Love, 't is Thou dost call, Thou wilt be our All in all.

WORD OF GOD.

(Index of Tunes, LXXXII.)

100.

Tune .- "Lord Jesus Christ, my Life, my Light."

2

Fill with the radiance of Thy grace The fouls now lost in error's maze, And all whom in their fecret minds Some dark delusion hurts and blinds.

3

And all who else have stray'd from Thee, Oh gently seek! Thy healing be To every wounded conscience given, And let them also share Thy heaven. 4

Oh make the deaf to hear Thy word, And teach the dumb to speak, dear Lord, Who dare not yet the faith avow, Though secretly they hold it now.

5

Shine on the darken'd and the cold, Recall the wand'rers from Thy fold, Unite those now who walk apart, Confirm the weak and doubting heart.

6

So they with us may evermore
Such grace with wondering thanks adore,
And endless praise to Thee be given
By all Thy Church in earth and heaven.

(LXXI.-,, Nun freut euch lieben Chrifteng'mein.")

IOI.

2

False teachings now men spread abroad,

Mere schemes of men's invention,

Not grounded on God's own true Word,

And so they breed diffension;

Their outward seeming may be fair,

But one goes here, another there,

And rends the Church afunder.

3

Therefore, faith God, I will arife,

These men my poor are wronging,
I hear my people's bitter sighs,

And I will grant their longing;

My saving Word shall take the field,
Shall be the poor man's strength and shield,

And all my foes shall conquer.

4

As filver that through fire hath passed
Is pure from all its drosses,
So shall God's Word shine forth at last
The brighter for these crosses;
Through trial is its power made known,
Till all men far and near shall own
How pure and strong its glory.

5

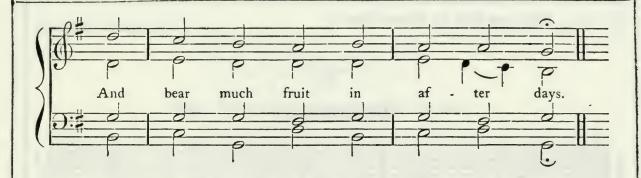

Therefore, O God, preserve it pure
From all that would abuse it,
And in the Faith our hearts secure,
That we may never lose it;
For trouble and rebuke shall be
Among the people,—when we see
Ungodly men exalted.

(Index of Tunes, cix.)

102.

Tune .- "Whate'er my God ordains is right."

2

Thy Word is like a flaming fword,

A sharp and mighty arrow,

A wedge that cleaves the rock, that Word

Can pierce through heart and marrow;

O send it forth

O'er all the earth,

The darken'd heart to cleanse and win,

And shatter all the might of sin.

3

Thy Word, a wondrous Star, supplies

True guidance when we need it,

It points to Christ, it maketh wise

All simple hearts that heed it;

Let not its light

E'er sink in night,

But still in every spirit shine,

That none may miss that light divine.

(xxvII.-., Erhalt une Berr bei Deinem Bort.")

Original Tune.

Lord Jesu Christ, Thy power make known, For Thou art Lord of lords alone; Defend Thy Christendom, that we May evermore sing praise to Thee.

O Comforter, of priceless worth, Send peace and unity on earth, Support us in our final strife, And lead us out of death to life.

104.

Tune.—"Strive aright when God doth call thee."

He His Church hath firmly founded, He will guard what He began; We, by fin and foes furrounded, Build her bulwarks as we can.

Frail and fleeting are our powers, Short our days, our forefight dim,

And we own the choice not ours, We were chosen first by Him. Onward then! for nought despairing, Calm we follow at His word, Thus through joy and sorrow bearing Faithful witness to our Lord.

5

Though we here must strive with weakness,
Though in tears we often bend,
What His might began in meekness
Shall achieve a glorious end.

(Lxxx .-,, O gesegnetes Regieren.")

105.

- 2 Children of His realm, draw near, Make your covenant stronger still, From your hearts allegiance swear Unto Him who conquer'd ill. If your bonds are yet too weak, If but fragile yet they prove, Help from His good Spirit seek Who can steel the chains of love.
- 3 Only such love will suffice,
  As the love that dwells in Him,
  Love that from the cross ne'er slies,
  Love that spares not life or limb:
  'T was for sinners He was slain,
  'T was for foes He shed His blood,
  That His death for all might gain
  Endless life,—the Highest Good.
- 4 Thus, O truest Friend, unite
  All Thy consecrated band,
  That their hearts be set aright
  To sulfil Thy last command.
  Each must onward urge his friend,
  Helping him in word and deed,
  Love's blest pathway to ascend,
  Following where Thou dost lead.
- Thou who dost command that all
  Practise love who bear Thy name,
  Wake the dead, new followers call,
  Touch the slothful with Thy slame.
  Let us live, O Lord, at one,
  As Thou with the Father art,
  That through all the world be none
  Of Thy members left apart.
- 6 Then were given what Thou hast sought,
  In the Son were all men freed,
  And the world at last were taught
  That Thy rule is blest indeed.
  Father of all souls, we praise
  Thee who shinest in the Son;
  Lord, to Thee our hymns we raise,
  Who hast all men to Thee drawn!

(Index of Tunes, IV.)

106.

Tune .- " What shall I, a sinner, do?"

Let Thy living Spirit flow
Through Thy members all below,
With its warmth and power divine;
Scatter'd far apart they dwell,
Yet in every land, full well,
Lord, Thou knowest who is Thine.

3

Those who serve Thee I would serve,

Never from their union swerve,

Here I cry before Thy face,—

Zion, God give thee good speed,

Christ thy footsteps ever lead,

Make thee steadfast in His ways!"

4

Those o'er whom Thy billows roll

Strengthen Thou to leave their soul

In Thy hands, for Thou art Love;

Make them through their bitter pain

Pure from pride and sinful stain,

Fix their hopes and hearts above.

5

And from those I love, I pray,
Turn not, Lord, Thy face away,
Hear me while for them I plead;
Be Thou their Eternal Friend,
Unto each due bleffing send,
For Thou knowest all they need.

6

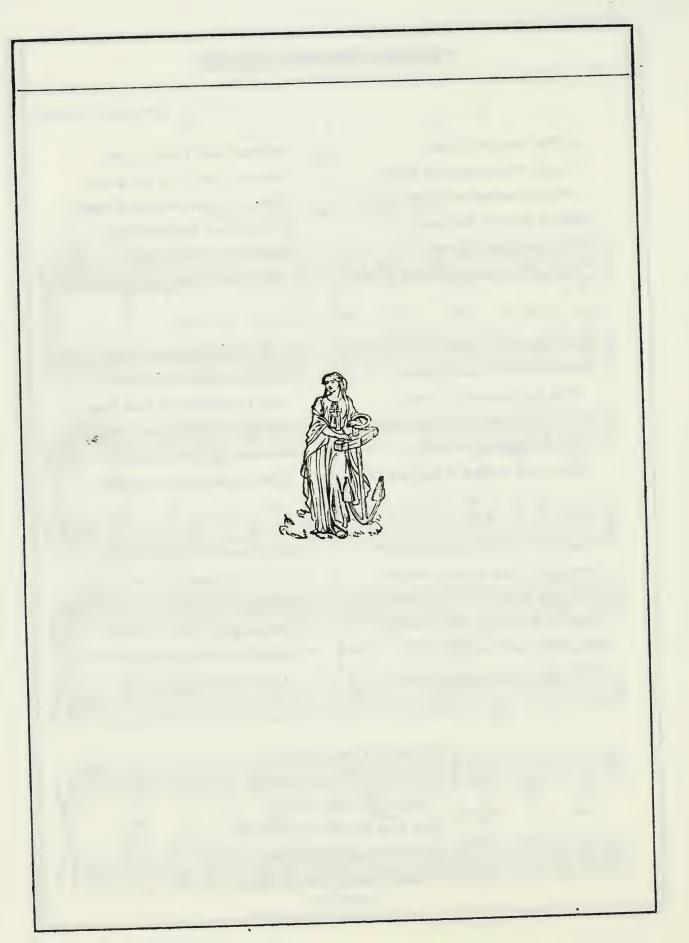

Ah Lord, at this gracious hour
Visit all our souls with power;
Let Thy gladness in them shine;
Draw them with Thy love away.
From vain pleasures of a day,
Make them wholly ever Thine.

7

Dearly were we purchased, Lord,
When Thy blood for us was pour'd;
Think, O Christ, we are Thine own!
Hold me, guide me, as a child,
Through the battle, through the wild,
Leave me never more alone,

3

Till at last I meet on high
With the faithful host who cry
Hallelujah night and day;
Pure from stain we there shall see
Thee in us, and us in Thee,
And be one in Thee for aye.

2

And fled I hence, in my despair,

In some lone spot to hide me,

My griefs would still be with me there,

Thy hand still hold and guide me.

3

Nay, Thee I seek;—I merit nought,
Yet pity and restore me;
Be not Thy wrath, just God, my lot,
Thy Son hath suffer'd for me.

4

If pain and woe must follow sin,

Then be my path still rougher,

Here spare me not; if heaven I win,

On earth I gladly suffer.

5

But curb my heart, forgive my guilt,

Make Thou my patience firmer,

For they must miss the good Thou wilt,

Who at Thy teachings murmur.

6

Then deal with me as seems Thee best,

Thy grace will help me bear it,

If but at last I see Thy rest,

And with my Saviour share it.

(Index of Tunes, XL.)

108.

Tune .- " Ah wounded Head!"

I fee the threatening danger,
And shrink in sore alarm,
As were I yet a stranger
To Thy protecting arm;
As though the woes that grieve me
To Thee were all unknown;
Nor Thou wouldst then relieve me
When other aid is gone.

3

O Father, look upon me,
So tried within, without;
With pitying grace look on me,
Forgive my faithless doubt;
My heart for grief doth languish,
Thou seest it, my God!
O soothe my conscience' anguish,
Lift off my sorrows' load.

4

I know Thy thoughts are ever
Of peace and love towards me,
Thy purpose changes never,
Could I but build on Thee!
That Thou fulfillest surely
Thy promises, dear Lord,
Here I can stand securely,
My life is in Thy Word

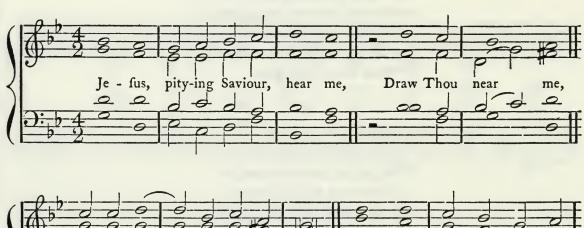

5

Then let thy faith be stronger,
My soul, shake off thy sears;
Thou soon shalt weep no longer
Though bitter now thy tears;
Thy Saviour's love hath sound thee,
He comes, He comes at last;
His light is breaking round thee,
The clouds and storms are past!

(Index of Tunes, LXXXVIII.)

109.

Tune .- "Come, my foul, awake, 'tis morning."

2

Sin of courage hath bereft me,
And hath left me
Scarce a spark of faith or hope;
Bitter tears my heart oft sheddeth
As it dreadeth
I am past Thy mercy's scope.

3

Peace I cannot find, oh take me,
Lord, and make me
From the yoke of evil free;
Calm this longing never-fleeping,
Still my weeping,
Grant me hope once more in Thee.

4

Lord, wilt Thou be wroth for ever?

Oh deliver

Me from all I most deserved;

'Tis Thyself, dear Lord, hast sought me,

Thou hast taught me

Thee to seek from whom I swerved.

5

Thou, my God and King, hast known me,
Yet hast shown me
True and loving is Thy will;
Though my heart from Thee oft ranges,
Through its changes,
Lord, Thy love is faithful still.

6

Bless my trials thus to sever

Me for ever

From the love of self and sin;

Let me through them see Thee clearer,

Find Thee nearer,

Grow more like to Thee within.

7

In the patience that Thou lendest
All Thou sendest
I embrace, I will be still;
Bend this stubborn heart, I pray Thee,
To obey Thee,
Calmly waiting on Thy will.

8

Here I bring my will, oh take it,
Thine, Lord, make it,
Calm this troubled heart of mine;
In Thy strength I too may conquer,
Wait no longer,
Show in me Thy grace Divine.

(Iv .--,, Ach was foll ich Sünber machen.")

IIO.

True, I have transgress'd Thy will,
Oft have grieved Thee by my sin,
Yet I know Thou lov'st me still,
For I hear Thy voice within;
Then, though sin accuses me,
Jesus, I will cleave to Thee.

3

Here the Christians oft must bear Many a cross and bitter smart; If their lot in this I share, Shall I waver or depart? Loyal still my heart shall be, Jesus, still I cleave to Thee.

4

Is but as a fleeting dream;
Round us darkness ever lowers,
Death is nearer than we deem;
Who knows what to-day may see?
Jesus, I will cleave to Thee.

5

If I die, I do but cease
Sooner from this toil and care,
And I rest in perfect peace
In the grave, since Thou wert there;
There Thy light shall comfort me,
There too I will cleave to Thee.

6

Then, Lord Jesu, Thou art mine,
Till Thou bring me to that place
Where I shall for ever shine
In Thy light, and see Thy face:
Blessed will that haven be!
Jesus, I will cleave to Thee.

(Index of Tunes, LXXX.)

III.

Tune .- " Heart and heart together bound."

2 'Tis Thy Father's will towards us
Thou shouldst end Thy work at length;
Hence in Thee are centred thus
Perfect wisdom, love, and strength,
That Thou none shouldst lose of those Whom He gave Thee, though they roam
'Wilder'd here amid their foes,
Thou shouldst bring them safely home.

- 3 Look upon our bonds, and see
  How doth all creation groan
  'Neath the yoke of vanity,
  Make Thy full redemption known.
  Still we wrestle, cry, and pray,
  Held in bitter bondage fast,
  Though the soul would break away
  Into higher things at last.
- 4 Lord, we do not ask for rest
  For the slesh, we only pray
  Thou wouldst do as seems Thee best,
  Ere yet comes our parting day;
  But our spirit clings to Thee,
  Will not, dare not, let Thee go,
  Until Thou have set her free
  From the bonds that cause her woe.
- 5 Ours the fault it is, we own,
  We are flaves to felf and floth,
  Yet oh leave us not alone
  In the living death we loathe!
  Crush'd beneath our burden's weight,
  Crying at Thy seet we fall,
  Point the path, though steep and strait,
  Thou didst open once for all.
- 6 Ah how dearly were we bought
  Not to serve the world or sin;
  By the work that Thou hast wrought
  Must Thou make us pure within,
  Wholly pure and free,—in us
  Be Thine image now restored:
  Fill'd from out Thy sulness thus
  Grace for grace on us is pour'd.
- 7 Draw us to Thy cross, O Love,
  Crucify with Thee whate'er
  Cannot dwell with Thee above;
  Lead us to those regions fair!
  Courage! long the time may seem,
  Yet His day is coming fast;
  We shall be like them that dream
  When our freedom dawns at last.

(vi .-., Allein gu Dir, herr Jefu Chrift.")

II2.

My fin is very fore and great,

I weep and mourn its load beneath;
O free me from this heavy weight,
My Saviour, through Thy precious death;
And with my Father for me plead
That Thou hast suffer'd in my stead;
From me the burden then is roll'd,
And I lay hold
On Thy dear promises of old.

3

And of Thy mercy now bestow
True Christian faith on me, O Lord!
That all the sweetness I may know
That in Thy holy cross is stored;
Love Thee o'er earthly pride or pelf,
And love my neighbour as myself;
And when at last is come my end,
Be Thou my Friend,
From all assaults my soul defend.

4

Glory to God in highest heaven,
The Father of eternal love;
To His dear Son, for sinners given,
Whose watchful grace we daily prove;
To God the Holy Ghost on high;
Oh ever be His comfort nigh,
And teach us, free from sin and fear,
To please Him here,
And serve Him in the sinless sphere!

(Index of Tunes, LXV.)

113.

Since but the pure in heart are bleft
With promised vision of their God,
Sore fear and anguish fill my breast,
Rememb'ring all the ways I trod;
Mourning I see my lost estate,
And yet in faith I dare to cry,
Oh let my evil nature die,
Another heart in me create!

3

Enough, Lord, that my foe too well

Hath lured me once away from Thee;

Henceforth I know his craft how fell,

And all his deep-laid snares I flee.

Lord, through the Spirit whom Thy Son

Hath bidden us in prayer to ask,

Arm us with might that every task,

Whate'er we do, in Thee be done.

4

Unworthy am I of Thy grace,
So deep are my transgressions, Lord,
And yet once more I seek Thy face;
My God, have mercy, nor reward
My sins and sollies, dark and vain;
Reject, reject me not in wrath,
But let Thy sunshine now beam forth,
And quicken me with hope again.

5

The Holy Spirit Thou hast given,

The wondrous pledge of love divine,

Who fills our hearts with joys of heaven,

And bids us earthly toys resign;

Oh let His seal be on my heart,

Oh take Him nevermore away,

Until this slessly house decay,

And Thou shalt bid me hence depart.

6

But ah! my coward spirit droops,

Sick with the fear that enters in

Whene'er a soul to bondage stoops,

And wears the shameful yoke of sin;

Oh quicken with the strength that slows

From out the Eternal Fount of Life,

My soul half-fainting in the strife,

And make an end of all my woes.

7

I cling unto Thy grace alone,

Thy steadsast oath my only rest;

To Thee, Heart-searcher, all is known

That lieth hidden in my breast;

Thy joy, O Spirit, on me pour,

Thy fervent will my sloth inspire,

So shall I have my heart's desire,

And serve and praise Thee evermore.

8

(c .- ,, Bater unfer im himmelreich.")

114.

All hallow'd be Thy name, O Lord!
Oh let us firmly keep Thy Word,
And lead, according to Thy name,
A holy life, untouch'd by blame;
Let no false teachings do us hurt—
All poor deluded souls convert.

3

Thy kingdom come! Thine let it be
In time, and through eternity!
Oh let Thy Holy Spirit dwell
With us, to rule and guide us well;
From Satan's mighty power and rage
Preserve Thy Church from age to age.

4

Thy will be done on earth, O Lord,
As where in heaven Thou art adored!
Patience in time of grief bestow,
Obedience true through weal and woe;
Strength, tempting wishes to control
That thwart Thy will within the soul.

5

Give us to-day our daily bread,
Let us be duly clothed and fed,
And keep Thou from our homes afar
Famine and pestilence and war,
That we may live in godly peace,
Unvex'd by cares and avarice.

6

Forgive our fins, that they no more May grieve and haunt us as before, As we forgive their trespasses Who unto us have done amiss; Thus let us dwell in charity, And serve each other willingly.

7

Into temptation lead us not,
And when the foe doth war and plot
Against our souls on every hand,
Then, arm'd with faith, oh may we stand
Against him as a valiant host,
Through comfort of the Holy Ghost.

Q

Deliver us from evil, Lord,
The days are dark and foes abroad;
Redeem us from the fecond death,
And when we yield our dying breath,
Confole us, grant us calm release,
And take our souls to Thee in peace.

Q

Amen! that is, so let it be!

Strengthen our faith and trust in Thee,
That we may doubt not, but believe
That what we ask we shall receive;
Thus in Thy name and at Thy word
We say Amen, now hear us, Lord!

(LXXXI.-,, D Gott bu frommer Gott.")

115.

And grant me, Lord, to do,
With ready heart and willing,
Whate'er Thou shalt command,
My calling here sulfilling,
And do it when I ought,
With all my strength, and bless
The work I thus have wrought,
For Thou must give success.

3

And let me promise nought
But I can keep it truly,
Abstain from idle words,
And guard my lips still duly;
And grant, when in my place
I must and ought to speak,
My words due power and grace,
Nor let me wound the weak.

4

If dangers gather round,
Still keep me calm and fearless;
Help me to bear the cross
When life is dark and cheerless;
To overcome my foe
With words and actions kind;
When counsel I would know,
Good counsel let me find.

5

And let me be with all
In peace and friendship living,
As far as Christians may.
And if Thou aught art giving
Of wealth and honours fair,
Oh this refuse me not,
That nought be mingled there
Of goods unjustly got.

6

And if a longer life

Be here on earth decreed me,

And Thou through many a strife

To age at last wilt lead me,

Thy patience in me shed,

Avert all sin and shame,

And crown my hoary head

With pure untarnish'd fame.

7

Let nothing that may chance,
Me from my Saviour sever;
And dying with Him, take
My soul to Thee for ever;
And let my body have
A little space to sleep
Beside my fathers' grave,
And friends that o'er it weep

8

And when the Day is come,
And all the dead are waking,
Oh reach me down Thy hand,
Thyfelf my flumbers breaking;
Then let me hear Thy voice,
And change this earthly frame,
And bid me aye rejoice
With those who love Thy name.

(xLv1.-,, 3ch ruf' zu Dir Herr Jesu Chrift.")

116.

Yet more from Thee I dare to claim,
Whose goodness is unbounded;
Oh let me ne'er be put to shame,
My hope be ne'er confounded;
But e'en in death still find Thee true,
And in that hour, else lonely,
Trust Thee only,
Not aught that I can do,
For such false trust I sore should rue.

3

Oh grant that from my very heart
My foes be all forgiven,
Forgive my fins and heal their smart,
And grant new life from heaven;
Thy word, that blessed food, bestow,
Which best the soul canst nourish;
Make it sourish
Through all the storms of woe
That else my faith might overthrow.

4

Then be the world my foe or friend,
Keep me to her a stranger,
Thy steadfast soldier to the end,
Through pleasure and through danger;
From Thee alone comes such high grace,
No works of ours obtain it,
Or can gain it;
Our pride hath here no place,
'Tis Thy free promise we embrace.

5

Help me, for I am weak; I fight,
Yet scarce can battle longer;
I cling but to Thy grace and might,
'Tis Thou must make me stronger;
When sore temptations are my lot,
And tempests round me lower,
Break their power.
So, through deliverance wrought,
I know that Thou forsak'st me not!

(xxIII.—,, Dir dir Jehovah will ich singen.")

117.

- Yes, draw me to the Son, O Father,
  That so the Son may draw me up to Thee.
  Let every power within me gather,
  To own Thy sway, O Spirit,—rule in me,
  That so the peace of God may in me dwell,
  And I may sing for joy and praise Thee well.
- Grant me Thy Spirit; then my praises
  Will sound aright, no jarring tone or word;
  Sweet are the songs the heart then raises,
  Then I can pray in truth and spirit, Lord;
  Thy Spirit bears mine up on eagles' wing,
  To join the psalms the heavenly choirs now sing.
- For He can plead for me with fighings
  That are unutterable to lips like mine;
  He bids me pray with earnest cryings,
  Bears witness with my soul that I am Thine,
  Co-heir with Christ, and thus may dare to say,
  O Abba, Father, hear me when I pray.
- When thus Thy Spirit in me burneth,
  And makes this cry to break from out my heart,
  Thy heart, O Father, toward me yearneth,
  And longs all precious bleffings to impart,
  Thy ready love rejoiceth to fulfil
  The prayer breathed out according to Thy will.
- And what Thy Spirit thus hath taught me
  To feek from Thee, must needs be such a prayer
  As Thou wilt grant, through Him who bought me,
  And raised me up to be Thy child and heir;
  In Jesu's name fearless I seek Thy face,
  And take from Thee, my Father, grace for grace.
- O joy! our hope and trust are founded
  On His sure Word, and witness in the heart;
  I know Thy mercies are unbounded,
  And all good gifts Thou freely wilt impart,
  Nay, more is lavish'd by Thy bounteous hand,
  Than we can ask or seek or understand.
- O joy! In His name we draw near Thee,
  Who ever pleadeth for the fons of men;
  I ask in faith and Thou wilt hear me,
  In Him Thy promises are all Amen.
  O joy for me! and praise be ever Thine,
  Whose wondrous love has made such blessings mine!

PRAYER.

(Index of Tunes, xxxvII.)

118.

Tune .- " Lord Jesus Christ, be present now."

As toward her fun the funflower turns, Towards Thee, my Sun, my spirit yearns; Oh would that free from sin I might Thus follow evermore Thy Light!

3

But fin hath so within me wrought, Such deadly sickness on me brought, My languid soul sits drooping here And cannot reach the heavenly sphere.

Ah how shall I my freedom win? How break this heavy yoke of sin? My fainting spirit thirsts for Thee, Come, Lord, to help and set me free.

5

My heart is fet to do Thy will, But all my deeds are faulty still; My best attempts are nothing worth, But soil'd with cleaving taint of earth.

6

Remember that I am Thy child, Forgive whate'er my foul defiled, Blot out my fins, that I may rife Freely to Thee beyond the skies.

7

Help me to love the world no more, Be Master of my house and store, The shield of faith around me throw, And break the arrows of my soe.

8

Fain would my heart henceforward be Fix'd, O my God, alone on Thee, That heart and foul, by Thee possess, May find in Thee their perfect rest.

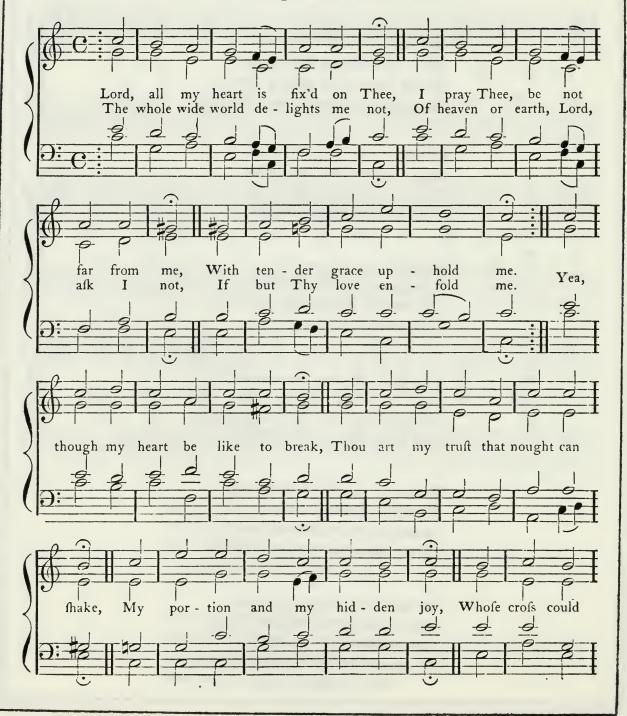

Q

Begone, ye pleasures false and vain, Untasted, undesired remain! In heaven alone those joys abound, Where all my true delight is found.

10

Oh take away whate'er has stood Between me and the Highest Good; I ask no better boon than this, To find in God my only bliss. (xxxix .-- ,, Herzlich lieb hab' ich Dich.")

119.

Rich are Thy gifts! 'Twas God that gave Body and foul, and all I have In this poor life of labour; Oh grant that I may through Thy grace Use all my powers to show Thy praise,

And serve and help my neighbour;
From all false doctrine keep me, Lord;
All lies and malice from me ward;
In every cross uphold Thou me,
That I may bear it patiently;
Lord Jesus Christ!

My God and Lord! My God and Lord! In death Thy comfort still afford.

Ah Lord, let Thy dear angels come At my last end, to bear me home, That I may die unfearing;

And in its narrow chamber keep My body fafe in painless sleep

Until my Lord's appearing;
And then from death awaken me,
That these mine eyes with joy may see,
O Son of God, Thy glorious face,
My Saviour, and my Fount of Grace!
Lord Jesus Christ!

Receive my prayer, receive my prayer, Thy love will I for aye declare. (xlix.—, In Dich hab' ich gehoffet, herr.")

I 20.

Incline a gracious ear to me,
And hear the prayers I raise to Thee,
Show forth Thy power and haste to save!
For woes and fear
Surround me here,
Oh swiftly send the help I crave!

3

My God and Shield, now let Thy power
Be unto me a mighty tower,
Whence I may freely, bravely, fight
Against the foes
That round me close,
For fierce are they and great their might.

4

Thy Word hath faid, Thou art my Rock,
The Stronghold that can fear no shock,
My help, my safety, and my life,
Howe'er distress
And dangers press;
What then shall daunt me in the strife?

5

The world for me hath falsely set
Full many a secret snare and net,
Dark lies, delusions sweet and vain;
Lord, hear my prayers,
And break these snares,
And make my path before me plain.

6

With Thee, Lord, would I cast my lot;
My God, my God, for sake me not,
O faithful God, for I commend
My soul to Thee;
Deliver me
Both now, and when this life must end.

PRAYER.

(Index of Tunes, XVII.)

I2I.

Tune.—" When on the cross the Saviour hung."

It stands not in the power of man
To bring to pass the wisest plan
So surely that it cannot fail;
Thy counsel, Highest, must ensure
That our poor wisdom shall avail.

3

A man oft thinks within his breast,
That lot for him were surely best,
This, that his Father may ordain,
Were hurtful;—yet, behold, it proves
This is his blessing, that his bane.

4

Then, O my Father, hear my cry,
Grant me true judgment from on high,
On my own will I would not build;
Be Thou my Friend and Counfellor,
So what is best shall be fulfilled.

5

And if this work be Thine, oh bless
Our poor weak efforts with success;
If not, deny it, change our mind,—
Whate'er Thou workest not will soon
Disperse like sand before the wind.

6

Grant us what is our truest good,
And not what pleases sless and blood;
Our inmost spirits do Thou prove,
Our highest aim, our best delight,
Shall be Thy glory and Thy love.

PRAYER.

(xcvi .-. , Sieh, hier bin ich, Ehren-Rönig.")

122.

- Look upon me, Lord, I pray Thee,
  Let Thy Spirit dwell in mine;
  Thou hast fought me, Thou hast bought me,
  Only Thee to know I pine;
  Let me find Thee—let me find Thee!
  Take my heart and grant me Thine.
- 3 Nought I ask for, nought I strive for,
  But Thy grace so rich and free,
  That Thou givest whom Thou lovest,
  And who truly cleave to Thee;
  Let me find Thee—let me find Thee!
  He hath all things who hath Thee.
- 4 Earthly treasure, mirth and pleasure,
  Glorious name, or richest hoard,
  Are but weary, void and dreary,
  To the heart that longs for God;
  Let me find Thee—let me find Thee!
  I am ready, mighty Lord.

CHRISTIAN FAITH AND RESOLVE.

(Index of Tunes, XXVII.)

123.

Tune.—" Lord, keep us steadfast in Thy Word."

- 2 Faith finds in Christ whate'er we need To save or strengthen us indeed, Receives the grace He sends us down, And makes us share His cross and crown.
- 3 Faith in the conscience worketh peace, And bids the mourner's weeping cease; By Faith the children's place we claim, And give all honour to One Name.
- 4 Faith feels the Spirit's kindling breath In love and hope that conquer death; Faith worketh hourly joy in God, And trusts and blesses e'en the rod.
- 5 We thank Thee then, O God of heaven, That Thou to us this faith hast given In Jesus Christ Thy Son, who is Our only Fount and Source of bliss
- 6 Now from His fulness grant each soul The rightful faith's true end and goal, The blessedness no foes destroy, Eternal love and light and joy.

CHRISTIAN FAITH AND RESOLVE.

(xxvi .-., Gin' feste Burg ift unser Gott.")

124.

2

Through our own force we nothing can,
Straight were we lost for ever;
But for us fights the proper Man,
By God sent to deliver.
Ask ye who this may be?
Jesus Christ is He,
Of Sabaoth Lord,
Sole God to be adored—
'T is He must win the battle.

3

And were the world with devils fill'd,
All eager to devour us,
Our fouls to fear should little yield,
They cannot overpower us.
Their dreaded Prince no more
Harms us as of yore;
Look grim as he may,
Doom'd is his ancient sway,
A word can overthrow him.

4

Still shall they leave that Word His might And yet no thanks shall merit;
Still is He with us in the fight,
Ey His good gifts and Spirit.
E'en should they take our life,
Wealth, name, child, or wife—
Though all these be gone,
Yet nothing have they won,
God's kingdom ours abideth!

(Index of Tunes, xcvII.)

125.

Tune .- " Not in anger, Mighty God."

2

Wake and watch, or else thy night
Christ can ne'er enlighten;
Far off still will seem the light
That thy path should brighten;
God demands
Willing hands,
Hearts His love confessing,—
Such He fills with blessing.

3

Watch against the world that frowns
Darkly to dismay thee;
Watch, when she thy wishes crowns,
Smiling to betray thee;
Watch and see
Thou art free
From false friends that charm thee,
While they seek to harm thee.

4

Watch against thyself, my soul,
See thou do not stifle
Grace that should thy thoughts control,
Nor with mercy trisle;
Pride and sin
Lurk within,
All thy hopes to scatter;
List not, when they slatter.

5

But while watching, also see
That thou pray unceasing,
For the Lord must make thee free,
Strength and faith increasing,
So to do
Service true;
Let not sloth enslave thee,
Pray, and He will save thee.

6

Courage then, for He will give
All that we are needing,
Through the Son, in whom we live,
Who for us is pleading.
Day by day
Watch and pray,
While the tempests lower,
Till He comes with power.

(Index of Tunes, xxvIII.)

126.

Tune .- " Ere yet the dawn hath fill'd the skies."

2

His arms are open, thither flee!
There rest and peace are waiting thee,
The deathless crown of righteousness,
The entrance to eternal bliss;
He gives thee this!

3

Then combat well, of nought afraid, For thus His follower thou art made, Each battle teaches thee to fight, Each foe to be a braver knight,

Arm'd with His might.

4

If storms of sierce temptation rise, Unmoved I'll face the frowning skies; If but the heart is true indeed, Christ will be with me in my need,— His own could bleed.

5

I flee away to Thy dear cross,
For hope is there for every loss,
Healing for every wound and woe,
There all the strength of love I know,
And feel its glow.

6

Before the Holy One I fall,
The Eternal Sacrifice for all;
His death has freed us from our load,
Peace on the anguish'd soul bestow'd,
Brought us to God.

7

How then should I go mourning on?
I look to Thee,—my fears are gone,
With Thee is rest that cannot cease,
For Thou hast wrought us full release,
And made our peace.

8

Thy word hath still its glorious powers,
The noblest chivalry is ours;
O Thou, for whom to die is gain,
I bring Thee here my all, oh deign
T'accept and reign!

しょうかいかんしゃ

(xLv.-,, 3d hab' mein' Sach' Gott heimgestellt.")

127.

Original Tune.

2

My fins are more than I can bear,
Yet not for this will I despair,
I know to death and to the grave
The Father gave
His dearest Son, that He might save.

3

To Him I live and die alone,

Death cannot part Him from His own;

Living or dying, I am His

Who only is

Our comfort, and our gate of bliss.

4

This is my folace, day by day,
When fnares and death befet my way,
I know that at the morn of doom
From out the tomb
With joy to meet Him I shall come.

5

Then I shall see God face to face,
I doubt it not, through Jesu's grace,
Amid the joys prepared for me!
Thanks be to Thee
Who givest us the victory!

6

Amen, dear God! now fend us faith,
And at the last a happy death;
And grant us all ere long to be
In heaven with Thee,
To praise Thee there eternally.

(xciii .-. , Ringe recht wenn Gottes Gnabe.")

128.

- And thy love is glowing warm,
  All that earth can give thee spurning:

  Half love will not bide the storm.
- 3 Combat, though thy life thou givest, Storm the kingdom, but prevail; Let not him with whom thou strivest Ever make thee faint or quail.
- 4 Perfect truth will never waver,
  Wars with evil day and night,
  Changes not for fear or favour,
  Only cares to win the fight.

- 5 Perfect truth will love to follow Watchfully our Master's ways; Seeks not comfort poor and hollow, Looks not for reward or praise.
- 6 Perfect truth from worldly pleasure, Worldly turmoil, stands apart; For in heaven is hid our treasure, There must also be the heart.
- 7 Soldiers of the Cross, take courage!
  Watch and war 'mid fear and pain;
  Daily conquering sin and sorrow,
  Till our King o'er earth shall reign.

(xLIII .-., Bedifter Briefter, ber Du Did.")

129.

Original Tune.

2

Love I know accepteth nought, Save what Thou, O Love, hast wrought; Offer Thou my sacrifice, Else to God it cannot rise.

3

Slay in me the wayward will, Earthly fense and passion kill, Tear self-love from out my heart, Though it cost me bitter smart. 4

Kindle, Mighty Love, the pyre, Quick consume me in Thy fire, Fain were I of self berest, Nought but Thee within me left.

- 5

So may God, the Righteous, brook On my facrifice to look, In whose fight no gift has worth Save a Christ-like life on earth.

(viii.-,, Alles ift an Gottes Segen.")

130.

Original Tune.

2

He who hitherto hath fed me,
And to many a joy hath led me,
Is and shall be ever mine;
He who did so gently school me,
He who still doth guide and rule me,
Will not leave me now to pine.

3

Shall I weary me with fretting
O'er vain trifles, and regretting
Things that never can remain?
I will strive but that to win me
That can shed true rest within me,
Rest the world must seek in vain.

4

When my heart with longing sickens,
Hope again my courage quickens,
For my wish shall be fulfill'd,
If it please His love most tender;
Life and soul I all surrender
Unto Him on whom I build.

5

Well He knows how best to grant me
All the longing hopes that haunt me;
All things have their proper day;
I would dictate to Him never,
As God wills so be it ever,
When He wills I will obey.

6

If on earth He bids me linger,
He will guide me with His finger
Through the years that now look dim;
All that earth has fleets and changes
As a river onward ranges,
But I rest in peace on Him.

(Index of Tunes, IV.)

Tune .- " What shall I, a sinner, do?"

2

Hath my heart been wavering long,
Have I dallied oft with wrong,
Now at last I firmly say,—
All my will to this I give,
Only to my God to live,
And to serve Him night and day.

3

Lord, I offer at Thy feet

All I have most dear and sweet,

Lo! I keep no secret hoard:

Try my heart, and lurks there aught

False within its inmost thought,

Take it hence this moment, Lord!

4

I will shun no toil or wo,

Where Thou leadest I will go,

Be my pathway plain or rough;

If but every hour may be

Spent in work that pleases Thee,

Ah, dear Lord, it is enough!

5

Thee I make my choice alone,

Make for ever, Lord, Thine own

All my powers of foul and mind;

Here I give myself away,

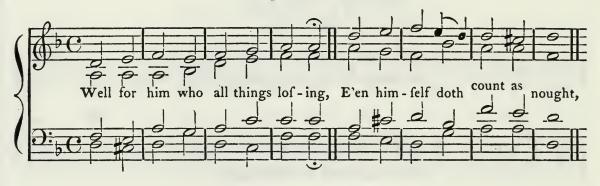

Let the cov'nant stand for aye

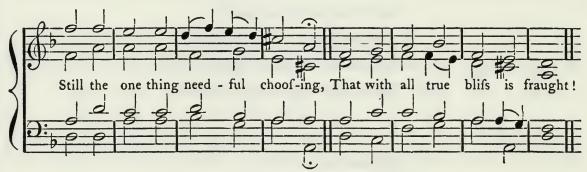

That my hand to-day hath sign'd.

(LXXIX.-,, D ber Alles hätt' verloren.")

132.

Original Tune.

2

Well for him who nothing knoweth
But his God, whose boundless love
Makes the heart wherein it gloweth
Calm and pure as saints above!

3

Well for him who all forfaking
Walketh not in shadows vain,
But the path of peace is taking
Through this vale of tears and pain!

4

Oh that we our hearts might fever From earth's tempting vanities, Fixing them on Him for ever In whom all our fulness lies!

5

Oh that ne'er our eyes might wander
From our God, so might we cease
Ever o'er our sins to ponder,
And our conscience be at peace!

_

Thou abysis of love and goodness,
Draw us by Thy cross to Thee,
That our senses, soul, and spirit,
Ever one with Christ may be!

(Index of Tunes, LXIII.)

133.

- 2 Thou seest whatsoe'er I need,
  Thou seest it, and pitiest me;
  Thy swift compassions hither speed,
  Ere yet my woes are told to Thee;
  Thou hearest, Father, ere we cry,
  Shall I not still before Thee lie?
- 3 I leave to Thee whate'er is mine,
  And in Thy will I calmly rest;
  I know that richest gifts are Thine,
  Thou canst and Thou wilt make me blest,
  For Thou hast promised, and our Lord
  Will never break His promised word.
- 4 Thou lov'st me, Father, with the love
  Wherewith Thou lovedst Christ Thy Son,
  And so a brightness from above
  Still glads me though my tears may run,
  For in Thy love I find and know
  What all the world could ne'er bestow.
- 5 Then I can let the world go by,
  And yet be still and rest in Thee,
  I sit, I walk, I stand, I lie,
  Thou ever watchest over me,
  And when the yoke is pressing sore
  I think, my God lives evermore!

(cxv .-., Wer nur ben lieben Gott läßt walten.")

134.
Original Tune.

2

What can these anxious cares avail thee,
These never-ceasing moans and sighs?
What can it help, if thou bewail thee
O'er each dark moment as it slies?
Our cross and trials do but press
The heavier for our bitterness.

3

Only be still and wait His leisure
In cheerful hope, with heart content
To take whate'er thy Father's pleasure
And all-deserving love hath sent,
Nor doubt our inmost wants are known
To Him who chose us for His own.

4

He knows the time for joy, and truly
Will send it when He sees it meet,
When He has tried and purged thee throughly
And finds thee free from all deceit,
He comes to thee all unaware
And makes thee own His loving care.

4

Nor think amid the heat of trial
That God hath cast thee off unheard,
That he whose hopes meet no denial
Must surely be of God preferred;
Time passes and much change doth bring,
And sets a bound to everything.

6

All are alike before the Highest.
'Tis easy to our God, we know,
To raise thee up though low thou liest,
To make the rich man poor and low;
True wonders still by Him are wrought
Who setteth up and brings to nought.

7

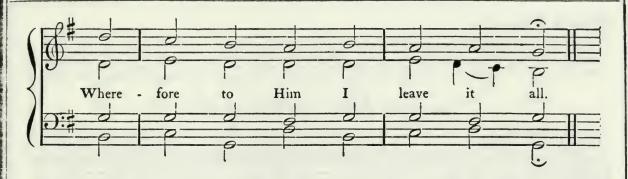

Sing, pray, and keep His ways unswerving,
So do thine own part faithfully,
And trust His Word, though undeserving,
Thou yet shalt find it true for thee;
God never yet forsook at need
The soul that trusted Him indeed.

Original Tune.

- Whate'er my God ordains is right,
  He never will deceive me;
  He leads me by the proper path,
  I know He will not leave me,
  And take content
  What He hath fent;
  His hand can turn my griefs away,
  And patiently I wait His day.
- 3 Whate'er my God ordains is right,
  His loving thought attends me;
  No poison'd draught the cup can be
  That my Physician sends me,
  But medicine due;
  For God is true,
  And on that changeless truth I build,
  And all my heart with hope is fill'd.
- 4 Whate'er my God ordains is right,
  Though now this cup in drinking
  May bitter seem to my faint heart,
  I take it all unshrinking;
  Tears pass away
  With dawn of day,
  Sweet comfort yet shall fill my heart,
  And pain and sorrow shall depart.
- 5 Whate'er my God ordains is right,
  Here shall my stand be taken;
  Though sorrow, need, or death be mine,
  Yet am I not forsaken,
  My Father's care
  Is around me there,
  He holds me that I shall not fall,
  And so to Him I leave it all.

Tune .- "Our Father, Thou in heaven above."

- 2 Ah whither now for comfort turn?
  For Thee, my Jesus, do I yearn,
  In Thee have I, howe'er distrest,
  Found ever counsel, aid, and rest;
  I cannot all forsaken be
  While still my heart can trust in Thee.
- 3 Jesus, my only God and Lord,
  What sweetness in Thy name is stored!
  So dark and hopeless is no grief
  But Thy sweet Name can bring relief,
  So keen no forrows' rankling dart
  But Thy sweet Name can heal my heart.
- 4 The world can show no truth like Thine,
  And therefore will I not repine;
  I know Thou wilt forsake me not,
  Thy truth is fix'd, though dark my lot;
  Thou art my Shepherd, and Thy sheep
  From every real harm Thou wilt keep.
- 5 Jefus, my boaft, my light, my joy,
  The treasure nought can e'er destroy,
  No words, no song that I can frame
  Speak half the sweetness of Thy name;
  They only all its power shall prove
  Whose hearts have learnt Thy faith and love.

- 6 How many a time I've fadly faid,
  Far better were it I were dead,
  Far better ne'er the light to fee
  If I had not this joy in Thee;
  For he who hath not Thee in faith,
  His very life is merely death.
- 7 Jesus, my Bridegroom and my crown,
  If Thou but smile, the world may frown
  In Thee lie depths of joy untold,
  Far richer than her richest gold;
  Whene'er I do but think of Thee,
  Thy dews drop down and solace me;
- 8 Whene'er I hope in Thee, my Friend
  Thy comfort and Thy peace descend;
  Whene'er in grief I pray and sing,
  I feel new courage in me spring;
  Thy Spirit witnesses that this
  Is foretaste of the eternal bliss.
- 9 Then while I live this life of care
  The cross for Thee I'll gladly bear
  Grant me a patient, willing mood,
  I know that it shall work my good;
  Help me to do my task aright,
  That it may stand before Thy sight
- From fin and shame preserve my soul,
  And keep me steadfast in the faith,
  Then I am Thine in life and death;
  Jesus, Consoler, bend to me,
  Ah would I were e'en now with Thee!

(xcix.—,, Balet will ich Dir geben.")

Original Tunc.

- 2 Do with me as it pleases
   Thy heart, O Son of God;
   When anguish on me seizes,
   Help me to bear my load;
   Nor then my forrows lengthen,
   But take me hence on high;
   My fearful heart, oh strengthen,
   And let me calmly die.
- When all around is darkling,
  Thy name and cross, still bright,
  Deep in my heart are sparkling,
  Like stars in blackest night;
  Appear Thou in Thy forrow,
  For Thine was woe indeed,
  And from Thy cross I borrow
  All comfort heart can need.
- 4 Thou diedst for me,—oh hide me
  When tempests round me roll;
  Through all my foes, oh guide me,
  Receive my trembling foul:
  If I but grasp Thee firmer,
  What matters pain when past?
  Hath he a cause to murmur
  Who reaches heaven at last?
- Now in the book of life;

  So let me here obey Thee,

  And there, where joys are rife,

  For ever bloom before Thee,

  Thy perfect freedom prove,

  And tell, as I adore Thee,

  How faithful was Thy love.

(Index of Tunes, Lv.)

2

And my foul repineth not,

Well content whate'er befall her;

Murmurs, wishes, of self-will,

Doom'd to death, no more enthrall her;

Restless thoughts, that fret and crave,

Slumber in her Saviour's grave.

3

And my foul doth cease from cares,

From the thoughts that sore perplex us,
That destroy the inner peace,

For like sharpest thorns they vex us;
He who made her careth well,
She but seeks in peace to dwell.

4

And my soul despaireth not,

Loves Him most when sad and lonely;
Grief that wrings and breaks the heart

Comes to those who hate Him only;
They who love Him still possess
Comfort in their worst distress.

5

And my foul complaineth not,

For no pain or fears difmay her,

Still she clings to God in faith,

Trusts Him though He seem to slay her.

'T is when slesh and blood repine,

Sun of joy, Thou canst not shine.

6

Thus my foul is still and waits,

Every murmuring word she hushes,

Conquering thus the pain or wrong

That the restless spirit crushes;

Like a silent ocean, bright

With her Maker's praise and light.

Tune .- " Heart and heart together bound."

2

God! Thou art my rock of strength,
And my home is in Thine arms,
Thou wilt send me help at length,
And I feel no wild alarms.
Sin nor Death can pierce the shield
Thy defence has o'er me thrown,
Up to Thee myself I yield,
And my sorrows are Thine own.

3

Thou my shelter from the blast,
Thou my strong defence art ever;
Though my sorrows thicken fast,
Yet I know Thou leav'st me never;
When my foe puts forth his might,
And would tread me in the dust,
To this rock I take my flight,
And I conquer him through trust.

4

When my trials tarry long,
Unto Thee I look and wait,
Knowing none, though keen and strong,
Can my faith in Thee abate.
And this faith I long have nurst,
Comes alone, O God, from Thee;
Thou my heart didst open first,
Thou didst set this hope in me.

5

Christians! cast on Him your load,
To your tower of refuge fly;
Know He is the Living God,
Ever to His creatures nigh.
Seek His ever-open door
In your hours of utmost need;
All your hearts before Him pour,
He will send you help with speed.

6

But hast thou some darling plan,
Cleaving to the things of earth?
Leanest thou for aid on man?
Thou wilt find him nothing worth.
Rather trust the One alone
Whose is endless power and love,
And the help He gives His own
Thou in very deed shalt prove.

7

Yea, on Thee, my God, I rest,
Letting life float calmly on,
For I know the last is best,
When the crown of joy is won.
In Thy might all things I bear,
In Thy love find bitters sweet,
And with all my grief and care
Sit in patience at Thy feet.

Q

O my foul, why art thou vex'd?

Let things go as e'en they will;

Though to thee they feem perplex'd,

Yet His order they fulfil.

Here He is Thy strength and guard,

Power to harm thee here has none;

Yonder will He each reward

For the works he here has done.

9

Let Thy mercy's wings be spread
O'er me, keep me close to Thee,
In the peace Thy love doth shed,
Let me dwell eternally:
Be my All; in all I do
Let me only seek Thy will,
Where the heart to Thee is true,
All is peaceful, calm, and still.

(cir .- ,, Bon Gott will ich nicht laffen.")

Original Tune.

2

If forrow comes, He fent it,
In Him I put my trust;
I never shall repent it,
For He is true and just,
And loves to bless us still;
My life and soul, I owe them
To Him who doth bestow them,
Let Him do as He will.

3

Whate'er shall be His pleasure
Is surely best for me;
He gave His dearest treasure
That our weak hearts might see
How good His will t'ward us;
And in His Son He gave us
Whate'er could bless and save us;—
Praise Him who loveth thus!

4

Oh praise Him, for He never
Forgets our daily need;
Oh blest the hour whenever
To Him our thoughts can speed;
Yea, all the time we spend
Without Him is but wasted,
Till we His joy have tasted,
The joy that hath no end.

5

For when the world is passing
With all its pomp and pride,
All we were here amassing
No longer may abide;
But in our earthy bed,
Where softly we are sleeping,
God hath us in His keeping,
To wake us from the dead.

6

Then though on earth I suffer

Much trial, well I know
I merit ways still rougher,

And 'tis to heaven I go;

For Christ I know and love,

To Him I now am hasting,

And gladness everlasting

With Him this heart shall prove

7

For fuch His will who made us,

The Father feeks our good;

The Son hath grace to aid us,

And fave us by His blood;

His Spirit rules our ways,

By faith in us abiding,

To heaven our footsteps guiding;

To Him be thanks and praise.

(xci. Pfalm 140, Goudimel. ,, Wenn wir in höchsten Röthen senn.")

141.

2

Then this our comfort is alone,
That we may meet before Thy throne,
And cry, O faithful God, to Thee
For rescue from our misery:

3

To Thee may raise our hearts and eyes, Repenting sore with bitter sighs, And seek Thy pardon for our sin, And respite from our griefs within:

4

For Thou hast promised graciously

To hear all those who cry to Thee,

Through Him whose Name alone is great,

Our Saviour and our Advocate.

5

And thus we come, O God, to-day, And all our woes before Thee lay, For tried, forfaken, lo! we stand, Perils and foes on every hand.

6

Ah! hide not for our fins Thy face,
Absolve us through Thy boundless grace,
Be with us in our anguish still,
Free us at last from every ill,

7

That so with all our hearts we may
Once more our glad thanksgivings pay,
And walk obedient to Thy word,
And now and ever praise the Lord.

(cxi.-,, Wenn ich in Angst und Noth.")

Original Tune.

2

My help and my defence come, faithful God, from Thee,

By whom were fix'd the heavens, and laid the earth's foundation;

Man cannot fuccour me,

Before Thy throne alone is refuge and falvation.

3

Thou watchest that my foot should neither slip nor stray,

Thou guidest me Thyself, though dark the course I travel;

Thou pointest me the way,

The snares of sin and earth for me Thou dost unravel

4

Guardian of Israel, Thou no rest or sleep dost know,
Thy watchful eye beholds in earth's obscurest regions
Who bravely meets Thy soe,
And bears the Cross on high, still true to our allegiance.

5

And when Thou bidd'st me leave this world of strife and pain,

A steadfast hope in Thee, a quick release, oh grant me,

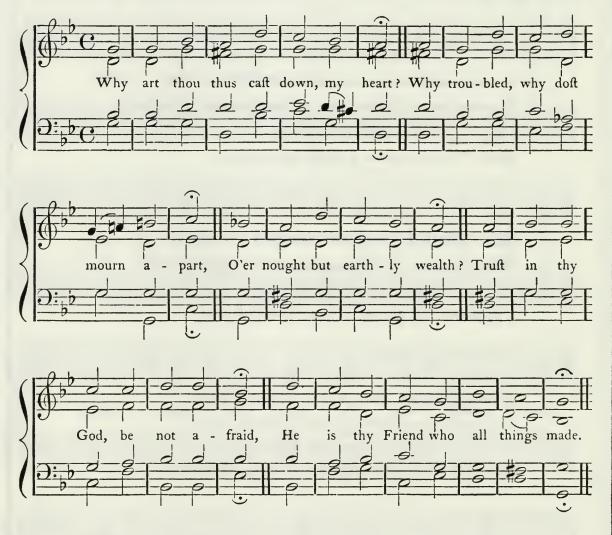

And let me rise again,

To dwell where death and war no more shall vex and haunt me.

(cvii.-,, Warum betrübst bu bid).")

2

Dost think thy prayers He doth not heed?
He knows full well what thou dost need,
And heaven and earth are His;
My Father and my God, who still
Is with my soul in every ill.

3

Since Thou my God and Father art,
I know Thy faithful loving heart
Will ne'er forget Thy child;
See I am poor, I am but dust,
On earth is none whom I can trust.

4

The rich man in his wealth confides,
But in my God my trust abides;
Then laugh ye as ye will,
I hold this fast that He hath taught,—
Who trusts in God shall want for nought.

5

Yes, Lord, Thou art as rich to-day
As Thou hast been and shalt be aye,
I rest on Thee alone;
Thy riches to my soul be given,
And 't is enough for earth and heaven.

6

What here may shine I all resign,
If the eternal crown be mine,
That through Thy bitter death
Thou gainedst, O Lord Christ, for me—
For this, for this, I cry to Thee!

7

All wealth, all glories, here below,
The best that this world can bestow,
Silver or gold or lands,
But for a little time is given,
And helps us not to enter heaven.

8

I thank Thee, Christ, Eternal Lord,
That Thou hast taught me by Thy word
To know this truth and Thee;
O grant me also steadfastness
Thy heavenly kingdom not to miss.

Q

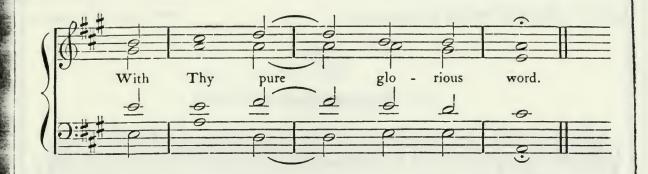

Praise, honour, thanks, to Thee be brought,
For all things in and for me wrought
By Thy great mercy, Christ.
This one thing only still I pray,
Oh cast me ne'er from Thee away.

2

O Jesus, Comfort of the poor,

I lift my heart to Thee,
I know Thy mercies still endure
And Thou wilt pity me;
I trust alone to Thee.

3

I cannot rest, I may not sleep,
No joy or peace I know,
My soul is torn with anguish deep
And sears a deeper woe;
O Christ, Thy pity show!

4

For Thou didst suffer for my soul,

Her burdens to remove;

Oh make me through Thy sorrows whole,

Refresh me with Thy love;

Lord, help me from above.

5

Then, Jesus, glory, honour, praise,

I'll ever sing to Thee;
Increase my faith that Thou wilt raise

Me once where I shall see

Eternal joys with Thee!

Original Tune.

Though fiercest foes my course oppose,
A dauntless front I'll show them;
My champion Thou, Lord Christ, art now,
Who soon shalt overthrow them!
And if but Thee I have in me
With Thy good gifts and Spirit,
Nor death nor hell, I know full well,
Shall hurt me, through Thy merit.

I test me here without a fear,
By Thee shall all be given
That I can need, O Friend indeed,
For this life or for heaven.
O make me true, my heart renew,
My soul and sless deliver!
Lord, hear my prayer, and in Thy care
Keep me in peace for ever.

Tune.—" Christ will gather in His own."

- 2 Though awhile it be delay'd, He denieth not His aid; Though it come not oft with speed, It will surely come at need.
- 3 As a father not too foon
  Grants his child the long'd-for boon,
  So our God gives when He will;
  Wait His leifure and be still.
- 4 I can rest in thoughts of Him, When all courage else grows dim, For I know my soul shall prove His is more than father's love.
- 5 Would the powers of ill affright, I can smile at all their might; Or the cross be pressing fore, God, my God, lives evermore!

- 6 Man may hate me causelessly,
  Man may plot to ruin me,
  Foes my heart may pierce and rend;
  God in heaven is still my Friend.
- 7 Earth may all her gifts deny, Safe my treasure still on high, And if heaven at last be mine, All things else I can resign.
- 8 I renounce thee willingly,
  World, I hate what pleases thee,
  Baneful every gift of thine,
  Only be my God still mine.
- 9 Ah Lord, if but Thee I have, Nought of other good I crave, Bright is even death's dark road, If but Thou art there, my God.

2

My fins affail me fore,
But I despair no more;
I build on Christ who loves me,
From this Rock nothing moves me,
Since I can all furrender
To Him, my soul's Desender.

3

If death my portion be,
Then death is gain to me,
And Christ my life for ever,
From whom death cannot sever;
Come when it may, He'll shield me,
To Him I wholly yield me.

4

Ah, Jesus Christ, my Lord,
So meek in deed and word,
Thou diedst once to save us,
Because Thou fain wouldst have u
After earth's life of sadness
Heirs of Thy heavenly gladness.

5

'So be it,' then I fay,
With all my heart each day;
Guide us while here we wander,
Till fafely landed yonder,
We too, dear Lord, adore Thee,
And fing for joy before Thee.

148.

Tune .- "Lord Jefus, King of Glory."

2

For what hath life been giving,
From youth up till this day,
But constant toil and striving?
Far back as thought can stray,
How many a day of toil and care,
How many a night of tears,
Hath pass'd in grief that none could share,
In lonely anxious fears!

3

How many a storm hath lighten'd
And thunder'd round my path!
And winds and rains have frighten'd
My heart with siercest wrath:
And cruel envy, hatred, scorn,
Have darken'd oft my lot,
And patiently reproach I've born,
Though I deserved it not.

4

Then through this life of dangers
I onward take my way;
But in this land of strangers
I do not think to stay.
Still forward on the road I fare
That leads me to my home,
My Father's comfort waits me there,
When I have overcome.

5

Ah yes, my home is yonder,
Where all the angelic bands
Praise Him with awe and wonder,
In whose Almighty hands
All things that are and shall be, lie,
By Him upholden still,
Who casteth down and lists on high
At His most holy will.

6

That home have I defired,
 'Tis there I would be gone;
Till I am well-nigh tired,
 O'er earth I've journey'd on;
The longer here I roam, I find
 The less of real joy
That e'er could please or fill my mind,
 For all hath some alloy.

7

The lodging is too cheerless,
The forrow is too much;
Ah come, my heart is fearless,
Release it with Thy touch,
When Thy heart wills, and make an end
Of all this pilgrimage,
And with Thine arm and strength defend,
When foes against me rage.

8

Where now my spirit stayeth
Is not her true abode;
This earthly house decayeth,
And she will drop its load,
When comes the hour to leave beneath
What now I use and have;
And when I've yielded up my breath
Earth gives me but a grave.

9

But Thou, my Joy and Gladness,
O Thou, my Life and Light,
Wilt raise me from this sadness,
This long tempestuous night,
Into the perfect gladsome day,
Where bathed in joy divine,
Among Thy saints, and bright as they,
I too shall ever shine.

10

There shall I dwell for ever,
Not as a guest alone,
With those who cease there never
To worship at Thy throne;
There in my heritage I rest,
From baser things set free,
And join the chorus of the blest
For ever, Lord, to Thee!

(cxvii .-., Wie schön leucht' une ber Morgenstern.")

149.

2

Thou Heavenly Brightness! Light Divine!

O deep within my heart now shine,
And make Thee there an altar!

Fill me with joy and strength to be
Thy member, ever join'd to Thee
In love that cannot falter;

Toward Thee longing Doth possess me,
Turn and bless me,
For Thy gladness

Eye and heart here pine in sadness.

3

But if Thou look on me in love,
There straightways falls from God above
A ray of purest pleasure;
Thy word and Spirit, slesh and blood,
Refresh my soul with heavenly food,
Thou art my hidden treasure;
Let Thy grace, Lord, Warm and cheer me.
O draw near me;
Thou hast taught us
Thee to seek since Thou hast sought us!

4

Here will I rest, and hold it fast,
The Lord I love is First and Last,
The End as the Beginning!
Here I can calmly die, for Thou
Wilt raise me where Thou dwellest now,
Above all tears, all sinning:
Amen! Amen! Come, Lord Jesus,
Soon release us,
With deep yearning,
Lord, we look for Thy returning!

(xLvIII.-,, 3ch will bich lieben, meine Stärke.")

2

Alas! that I so late have known Thee,
Who art the Fairest and the Best;
Nor sooner for my Lord could own Thee,
Our highest Good, our only Rest!
Now bitter shame and grief I prove
O'er this my tardy love.

3

I wander'd long in willing blindness,
I sought Thee, but I sound Thee not,
For still I shunn'd Thy beams of kindness,
The creature light fill'd all my thought;
And if at last I see Thee now,
'T was Thou to me didst bow!

4

I thank Thee, then, true Sun of heaven,
Whose shining hath brought light to me;
I thank Thee, who hast richly given
All that could make us glad and free;
I thank Thee that my soul is heal'd
By what Thy lips reveal'd.

5

Oh keep me watchful, then, and humble,
And suffer me no more to stray;
Uphold me when my feet would stumble,
Nor let me loiter by the way;
Fill all my nature with Thy light,
O Radiance strong and bright!

6

Thee will I love, my Crown of gladness,
Thee will I love, my God and Lord,
Amid the darkest depths of sadness,
Not for the hope of high reward,
For Thine own sake, O Light Divine,
So long as life is mine.

2

In Thine arm I rest me,
Foes who would molest me
Cannot reach me here;
Though the earth be shaking,
Every heart be quaking,
Jesus calms my fear;
Sin and hell in conflict fell
With their bitter storms assail me,
Jesus will not fail me.

3

Wealth, I will not heed thee,
For I do not need thee,
Jesus is my choice;
Honours, ye may glisten,
But I will not listen
To your tempting voice;
Pain or loss, nor shame nor cross,
E'er to leave my Lord shall move me,
Since He deigns to love me.

4

Farewell, thou who choosest

Earth, and heaven refusest,

Thou wilt tempt in vain;

Farewell, sins, nor blind me,

Get ye all behind me,

Come not forth again:

Past your hour, O Pride and Power;

Worldly life, thy bonds I sever,

Farewell now for ever!

5

Hence, all fears and fadness,
For the Lord of gladness,
Jesus, enters in;
They who love the Father,
Though the storms may gather,
Still have peace within;
Yea, whate'er I here must bear,
Still in Thee lies purest pleasure,
Jesu, priceless treasure!

Tune .- "Light of Light, enlighten me."

2

See how in this wilderness

Lost amid its wastes I wander;

Take me hence to dwell in bliss

With the flock who, gather'd yonder,

Now Thy glory, Lord, behold,

Safe within the heavenly fold.

3

For I fain would gaze on Thee,

With the lambs, to whom 't is given

That they feed from danger free
In the happy fields of heaven,

Praising Thee, all terrors o'er,

Never can they leave Thee more.

4

Here I live in fore distress,

Watching, fearing hour by hour,

For my foes around me press,

And I know their craft and power;

Lord, Thy lamb can never be

Safe one moment but with Thee,

5

Then, Lord Jesus, let me not

Fall amid the wolves, but hear me,

As the faithful shepherd ought;

Help me, keep me ever near Thee,

Till Thou bear me in Thy breast

Homeward to my endless rest.

Tune .- "When the Lord recalls the banished."

2

For I shrink beneath the terrors
Of the law's tremendous sway;
All my countless crimes and errors
Stand before me night and day.
Oh the heavy, fearful load
Of the righteous wrath of God!
Oh the awful voice of thunder
Cleaving heart and soul assumer!

3

Would I then, to foothe my forrow,
And my pain awhile forget,
From the world a comfort borrow,
I but fink the deeper yet;
She hath comforts that but grieve,
Joys that stinging memories leave,
Helpers that my heart are breaking,
Friends that do but mock its aching.

4

All delight, all confolation

Lies in Thee, Lord Jefus Christ,

Feed my soul with Thy salvation,

O Thou Bread of Life unpriced.

Blessed Light, within me glow,

Ere my heart breaks in its woe;

Oh refresh me and uphold me,

Jesus, come, let me behold Thee.

5

Joy, my foul, for He hath heard thee,

He will come and enter in;

Lo! He turns and draweth toward thee,

Let thy welcome-fong begin;

Oh prepare thee for fuch guest,

Give thee wholly to thy rest,

With an open'd heart adore Him,

Pour thy griefs and fears before Him.

6

What would feem to hurt or shame thee
Shall but work thy good at last;
Since that Christ hath deign'd to claim thee,
And His truth stands ever fast;
And if thine can but endure,
There is nought so fixed and sure,
As that thou shalt hymn His praises
In the happy heavenly places.

154.

Tune .- " O God, Thou faithful God."

- 2 Come, self-existent Word,
  And speak Thou in my spirit!
  The soul where Thou art heard
  Doth endless peace inherit.
  Thou Light that lighteness all,
  Abide through faith in me,
  Nor let me from Thee fall,
  And seek no guide but Thee.
- Ah! what hath stirred Thy heart,
  What cry hath mounted thither,
  And reached Thy heavenly throne,
  And drawn Thee, Saviour, hither?
  It was Thy wondrous love,
  And my most utter need,
  Made Thy compassions move,
  Stronger than Death indeed.
- Then let me give my heart
  To Him who loved me, wholly;
  And live, while here I dwell,
  To show His praises solely:
  Yes, Jesus, form anew
  This stony heart of mine,
  Make it till death still true
  To Thee, for ever Thine.
- 5 Let nought be left within
  But what Thy hand hath planted;
  Root out the weeds of fin,
  And quell the foe who haunted
  My foul, and fet the tares;
  From Thee comes nothing ill,
  O fave me from his fnares,
  Make plain my pathway still.
- Thou art the Life, O Lord,
  And Thou its Light art only!
  Let not Thy bleffed rays
  Still leave me dark and lonely.
  Star of the East, arise!
  Drive all my clouds away,
  Till earth's dim twilight dies
  Into the perfect day!

Original Tune.

O let us in Thy knowledge
And in Thy love increase,
That we in faith be steadfast
And serve Thee here in peace;
That so Thy sweetness may be known
To these cold hearts, and teach them
To thirst for Thee alone.

Maker of all! who showest

The Father's love and might,
In heaven and earth Thou reignest
Of Thine own power and right;
So rule our hearts and minds, that we
Be wholly Thine, and never
May turn aside from Thee!

(L .- ,, In Dir ift Freude.")

Original Tune.

If He is ours
We fear no powers,
Nor of earth, nor fin, nor death;
He fees and bleffes
In worst distresses,
He can change them with a breath!

Wherefore the story tell of His glory
With heart and voices; all heaven rejoices
In Him for ever: Hallelujah!
We shout for glodness triumph over stodness

We shout for gladness, triumph o'er sadness, Love Thee and praise Thee, and still shall raise Thee Glad hymns for ever: Hallelujah!

2

On, still onward, mounting nigher
On the wings of faith to Him;
On, still onward, ever higher,
Till the mournful earth grows dim!
God is thy Rock;
Christ thy Champion cannot fail,
Though thy foes thy life assail,
Fear not their shock.

3

Hide thee, in His chamber hide thee,
Christ hath open'd now the door;
Tell Him all that doth betide thee,
All thy sorrows there outpour;
He hears thy cry;
Men may hate thee and deceive,
Christ His own will never leave,
He still is nigh.

4

High, oh high, o'er all things earthy,
Raise thy thoughts, my soul, to heaven;
One alone of thee is worthy,
All thou hast to Him be given;
Thy Lord He is
Who so truly pleads for thee,
Who in love hath died for thee;
Then thou art His.

5

Up then, upwards! feek thou only

For the things that are above;

Sin thou hatest, earth is lonely,

Rise to Him whom thou dost love,—

There art thou blest;

All things here must change and die,

Only with our Lord on high

Is perfect rest.

Tune.—" Let the earth now praise the Lord."

On Thy light I think at morn, With the earliest break of dawn; Think what glories lie in Thee, Light of all Eternity!

2

When I watch the moon arise
'Mid heaven's thousand golden eyes,
Then I think, more glorious far
Is the Maker of yon star.

4

Or I cry in fpring's sweet hours, When the fields are gay with flowers, As their varied hues I see,— What must their Creator be! -5

When along the brook I wander, Or beside the fountain ponder, Straight my thoughts take wing and mount Up to Thee, the purest Fount.

6

Sweetly all the air is stirr'd When the Echo's call is heard; But no sounds my heart rejoice Like to my Beloved's voice.

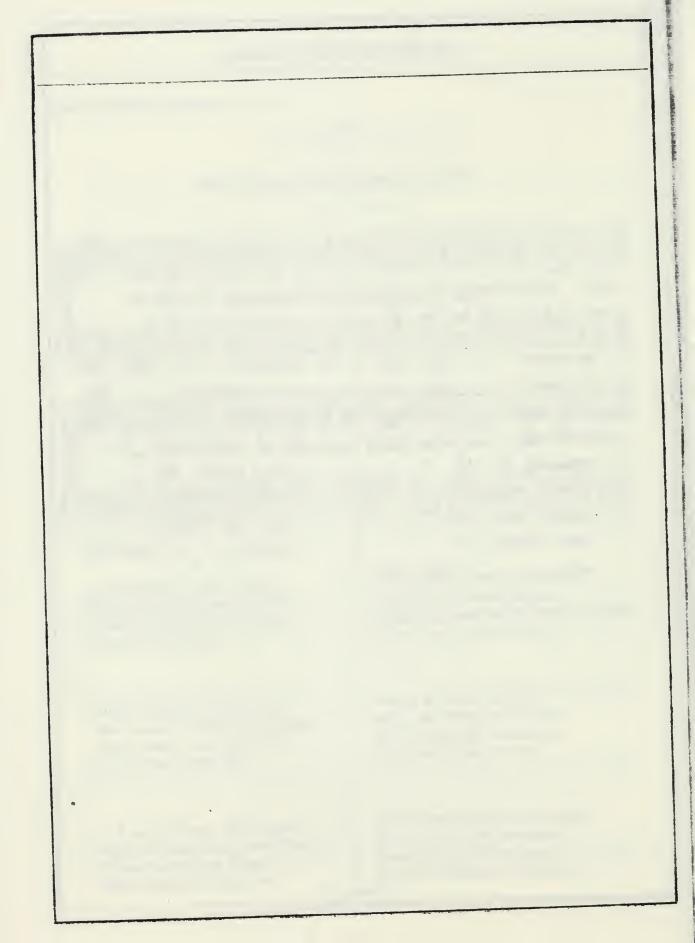

7

Take away then what could blind Unto Thee my foul and mind; Henceforth ever let my heart See Thee, Saviour, as Thou art!

2 Let Thy mercies' morning dew
Rouse our conscience from its blindness:
Gladden life's dry plains anew
With the rivers of Thy kindness;
Water daily us Thy flock
From the rock.

3 Let the glow of love destroy
Cold obedience faintly given,
Wake our hearts to love and joy
With the slushing eastern heaven;
Let us truly rife ere yet
Life hath set.

4 Brightest Star of eastern skies!

Grant that at Thy last appearing
These frail bodies may arise,
Joyfully Thy summons hearing,
Strong their heavenward course to run
As the sun.

5 Through this dark and tearful place
Never be Thy light denied us,
O Thou glorious Sun of grace,
To you world of gladness guide us,
When to joys that never end
We ascend!

God, I thank Thee! In Thy keeping Safely have I flumber'd here; Thou hast guarded me while sleeping From all danger, pain, and fear: And the cunning of my foe Hath not wrought my overthrow.

3

Let the night of fin that shrouded
All my life, with this depart;
Shine on me with beams unclouded,
Jesu! In Thy loving heart
Is my help and hope alone,
For the evil I have done.

4

Help me as the morn is breaking,
In the spirit to arise,
So from careless sloth awaking,
That when o'er the aged skies
Shall the morn of Doom appear,
I may see it free from sear.

4

Lead me, and forfake me never,
Guide my wand'rings by Thy Word;
As Thou hast been, be Thou ever
My defence, my refuge, Lord.
Never safe except with Thee,
Thou my faithful Guardian be!

6

O my God, I now commend me
Wholly to Thy mighty hand;
All the powers that Thou dost lend me
Let me use at Thy command;
Thou my boast, my strength divine,
Keep me with Thee, I am Thine.

7

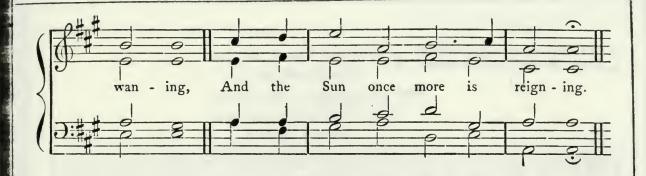

Thus afresh with each new morning
Save me from the power of sin,
Hourly let me feel Thy warning
Ruling, prompting me within,
Till my final rest be come,
And Thine angel bear me home.

Tune.—" Sink not yet my foul to flumber."

2

Sun of Love, when Thou dost greet me
All my heart with joy is stirr'd;
And it upward slies to meet Thee,
Gladsome as you little bird.
Shine Thou in me clear and bright,
Till I learn to praise Thee right;
On the narrow way now speed me,
Let not darkness e'er mislead me.

3

Bless to-day what I am doing,

Bless whate'er I have and love;

With the morn my powers renewing,

Let me ne'er from virtue rove;

By Thy Spirit strengthen me

In the faith that leads to Thee,

So through life to journey fearless,

Heir of heaven, to glories peerless.

2

Soul, thy incense also proffer;
Thou shouldst offer
Praise to Him, who from thy head
Kept afar the storms of sorrow,
And the morrow
Finds the night in peace hath sled.

3

Bid Him bless what thou art doing,
If pursuing
Some good aim; but if there lurks
Ill intent in thine endeavour,
May He ever
Thwart and turn thee from thy works.

4

From God's glances shrink thou never,
Meet them ever;
Who submits him to His grace,
Finds that earth no sunshine knoweth
Such as gloweth
O'er his pathway all his days.

5

Wakenest thou again to sorrow,
Oh! then borrow
Strength from Him, whose sun-like might
On the mountain-summit tarries,
And yet carries
To the vales their mirth and light.

6

Pray that when thy life is closing,
Calm reposing
Thou mayst die, and not in pain;
That, the night of death departed,
Thou, glad-hearted,
Mayst behold the Sun again.

Guardian of Israel, hear me,

Watch o'er me through the day,

In all I do be near me:

For others too I pray,

Our Church, our youth, our land,

Direct them and defend them

When dangers are at hand.

3

O gently grant Thy bleffing,
That we may do Thy will,
No more Thy ways transgressing,

With Peter's full affiance
Let down our nets again,
If Thou art our reliance
Our toil will not be vain.

And let His gifts of grace

Original Tune.

For Thou from me hast warded
All perils of the night;
From every harm hast guarded
My soul till morning's light;
Humbly to Thee I cry,
Do Thou in grace the sins forgive
That anger Thee each day I live,
Have mercy, Lord most High!

3

And keep me of Thy kindness
From every harm to-day;
Nor let me in my blindness
To Satan fall a prey.
My cup with good o'erflows,
My soul and body, goods and life,
My home and friends, my child and wife,

4

And so to Thy good pleasure

My all I now commend,

And most, what most I treasure;

O Thou Almighty Friend,

Order my course for me,

And bless whate'er I undertake,

Since I in all my choice would make

As seemeth best to Thee.

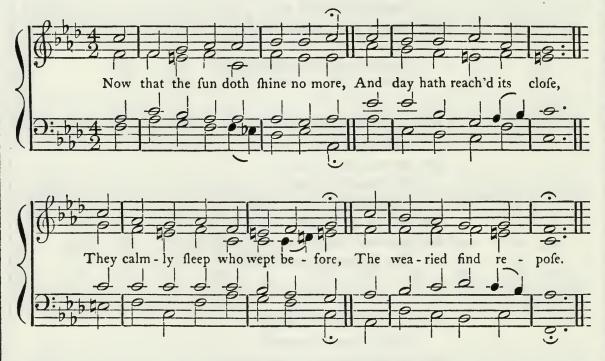

5

That God rejects my prayer,

And serve Him through the day.

But Thou, my God, no rest dost know In Thy unslumb'ring might; Thou hatest darkness as Thy soe, For Thou Thyself art Light.

4

I know the evil I have done
Doth cry aloud to Thee;
But, ah! the mercy of Thy Son
Hath made amends for me.

5

And therefore now I close my eyes,
And sleep with tranquil breast;
Why waste the time in fears or sighs?
God watches o'er my rest.

6

Hence, vain and evil thoughts, depart!
Roam not, my foul, abroad,
For now I build within my heart
A temple to my God.

Tune .- "Lord Jesus Christ, my Life, my Light."

We thank Thee, Father, that this day Thy angels watch'd around our way, And free from harm and vexing fear, Have led us on in fafety here. Lord, have we anger'd Thee to-day, Remember not our fins, we pray, But let Thy mercy o'er them sweep, And give us calm and restful sleep.

Thy angels guard our fleeping hours, And keep afar all evil Powers; And Thou all pain and mischief ward From soul and body, faithful Lord! (CXIII.-,, Werbe munter mein Gemüthe.") 167.

Original Tune.

Father, merciful and holy,

Thee to-night I praife and blefs,

Who to labour true and lowly

Grantest ever meet success;

Many a fin and many a woe,

Many a fierce and subtle foe,

Hast Thou check'd that once alarm'd me,

So that nought to-day has harm'd me.

3

Now the light, that nature gladdens,
And the pomp of day is gone,
And my heart is tired and faddens
As the gloomy night comes on;
Ah then, with Thy changeless light
Warm and cheer my heart to-night,
As the shadows round me gather
Keep me close to Thee, my Father.

4

Now I feek Thy face again,

And Thy Son, the loving-hearted,

Made our peace through bitter pain.

Yes, far greater than our fin,

Though it still be strong within,

Is the Love that fails us never,

Mercy that endures for ever.

5

Brightness of the eternal city!

Light of every faithful soul!

Safe beneath Thy sheltering pity,

Let the tempests past me roll:

Now it darkens far and near,

Still, my God, still be Thou here;

Thou canst comfort, and Thou only,

When the night is long and lonely.

6

E'en the twilight now hath vanish'd,
Send Thy blessing on my sleep,
Every sin and terror banish'd,
Let my rest be calm and deep.
Soul and body, mind and health,
Wise and children, house and wealth,
Friend and soe, the sick, the stranger,
Keep Thou safe from harm and danger.

7

O Thou mighty God, now hearken
To the prayer Thy child hath made;

Jesus, while the night-hours darken
Be Thou still my hope, my aid;

Holy Ghost, on Thee I call,

Friend and Comforter of all,

Hear my earnest prayer, oh hear me!

Lord, Thou hearest, Thou art near me.

(Index of Tunes, LXXXIV.)

Tune.—"O darkest woe, ye tears, forth flow!"

2

The night is here,
Oh! be Thou near,
Christ, make it light within me;
Chase the darkness from my heart
That to ill might win me.

The sun's sweet light
Is sunk in night;
Oh Brightness uncreated,
Shine with joy on us who here
Long for Thee have waited.

Each living thing
Is flumbering,
While darkness round is closing;
Work Thou silently in me
While I lie reposing.

5
Ah when shall day
Have perfect sway,
By night no more attended?
When that sairest morn shall break
That shall ne'er be ended.

For Salem then
Shall ne'er again
Behold her brightness vanish,
Since the Lamb shall be her light,
And all night shall banish.

7
Oh were I there!
Where all the air
With lovely founds is ringing,
Where the faints Thee, Holy Lord,
Evermore are finging!

Lord Jefus, Thou
My rest art now;
Grant me to stand before Thee,
Radiant with Thy light to shine,
And for aye adore Thee!

(Index of Tunes, LXXXV.)

169.

Tune.-" O World, I now must leave thee."

O Sun, where art thou vanish'd?

The Night thy reign hath banish'd,

Thy ancient foe, the Night.

Farewell, a brighter glory

My Jesus sheddeth o'er me,

All clear within me shines His light.

3

The last faint beam is going,

The golden stars are glowing

In yonder dark-blue deep;

And such the glory given

When called of God to heaven,

On earth no more we pine and weep.

4

The body hastes to slumber,

These garments now but cumber,

And as I lay them by

I ponder how the spirit

Puts off the flesh t' inherit

A shining robe with Christ on high.

ξ

Now thought and labour ceases,

For Night the tired releases

And bids sweet rest begin:

My heart, there comes a morrow

Shall set thee free from sorrow

And all the dreary toil of sin.

6

Ye aching limbs! now rest you,

For toil hath sore oppress'd you,

Lie down, my weary head:

A sleep shall once o'ertake you

From which earth ne'er shall wake you,

Within a narrower, colder bed.

7

My heavy eyes are closing;
When I lie deep reposing,
Soul, body, where are ye?
To helpless sleep I yield them,
Oh let Thy mercy shield them,
Thou sleepless Eye, their guardian be!

8

My Jesus, stay Thou by me,
And let no soe come nigh me,
Safe shelter'd by Thy wing;
But would the soe alarm me,
Oh let him never harm me,
But still Thine angels round me sing!

9

My loved ones, rest securely,
From every peril surely
Our God will guard your heads;
And happy slumbers send you,
And bid His hosts attend you,
And golden-arm'd watch o'er your beds.

Original Tune.

Let evil thoughts and spirits flee before us;
Till morning cometh, watch, O Master, o'er us;
In soul and body Thou from harm desend us,
Thine angels send us.

3

Let pious thoughts be ours when sleep o'ertakes us,

Our earliest thoughts be Thine when morning wakes us;

All day serve Thee, in all that we are doing

Thy praise pursuing.

4

As Thy beloved foothe the fick and weeping,
And bid the captive lose his griefs in sleeping;
Widows and orphans, we to Thee commend them,
Do Thou befriend them.

5

We have no refuge; none on earth to aid us,

Save Thee, O Father, who Thine own hast made us;

But Thy dear presence will not leave them lonely,

Who seek Thee only.

6

Father, Thy name be praifed, Thy kingdom given,
Thy will be done on earth as 'tis in heaven;
Keep us in life, forgive our fins, deliver
Us now and ever.—Amen.

NEW YEAR.

We pray Thee, O Eternal Son,
Who with the Father reign'st as One,
To guard and rule Thy Christendom
Through all the ages yet to come.

3

Take not Thy faving Word away,
Our fouls' true comfort and their stay;
Abide with us, and keep us free
From errors, following only Thee.

4

Oh help us to forsake all sin,

A new and holier course begin,

Mark not what once was done amis,

A happier, better year be this:

5

Wherein as Christians we may live,
Or die in peace that Thou canst give,
To rise again when Thou shalt come,
And enter Thine eternal home.

6

There shall we thank Thee, and adore,
With all the angels evermore;
Lord Jesus Christ, increase our faith
To praise Thy name through life and death

NEW YEAR.

(Index of Tunes, cxv.)

172.

Tune .- " If thou but fuffer God to guide thee."

May every plan and undertaking
This year be all begun with Thee,
When I am fleeping or am waking,
Still let me know Thou art with me;
Abroad do Thou my footsteps guide,
At home be ever at my side.

3

Be this a time of grace and pardon,
Thy rod I take with willing mind,
But suffer nought my heart to harden,
Oh let me now Thy mercy find;
In Thee alone, my God, I live,
Thou only canst my sins forgive.

4

And may this year to me be holy,
Thy grace so fill my ev'ry thought
That all my life be pure and lowly
And truthful, as a Christian's ought;
So make me while yet dwelling here
Pious and blest from year to year.

5

Jesus, be with me and direct me;
Jesus, my plans and hopes inspire;
Jesus, from tempting thoughts protect me;
Jesus, be all my heart's desire;
Jesus, be in my thoughts all day,
Nor suffer me to fall away!

6

And grant, Lord, when the year is over,
That it for me in peace may close;
In all things care for me, and cover
My head in time of fear and woes;
So may I, when my years are gone,
Appear with joy before Thy throne.

NEW YEAR.

(Index of Tunes, LXXI.)

173.

Tune.—" Ah! God, from heaven look down and fee."

Yet I would leave it to Thy choice,
The hour when we shall meet Thee;
Though Thou dost love that heart and voice
Should daily thus entreat Thee,
And henceforth all my course should be
Still looking on and up to Thee,
With heart prepared to greet Thee.

3

I joy that from Thy love divine
No power my foul can fever;
That I may dare to call Thee mine,
My Lord, my Friend, for ever;
That I, O Prince of Life, shall be Made wholly one in heaven with Thee,
In life that endeth never.

4

And therefore do my thanks o'erflow

That one more year is ended,
And of this Time, fo poor, fo flow,
Another step ascended;
And with a heart that may not wait
I hasten towards the golden gate
Where long my hopes have tended.

5

And when the wearied hands give way,
And wearied knees are failing,
Then make Thy mighty arm my stay,
Though faith and hope seem quailing;
That so my heart drink in new strength,
And sear no more the journey's length,
O'er doubt and pain prevailing.

6

Then on, my foul, with fearless faith,

Let nought to terror move thee,

Nor list what earthly pleasure faith,

When she would lure and prove thee;

The eagles' wings of love and prayer

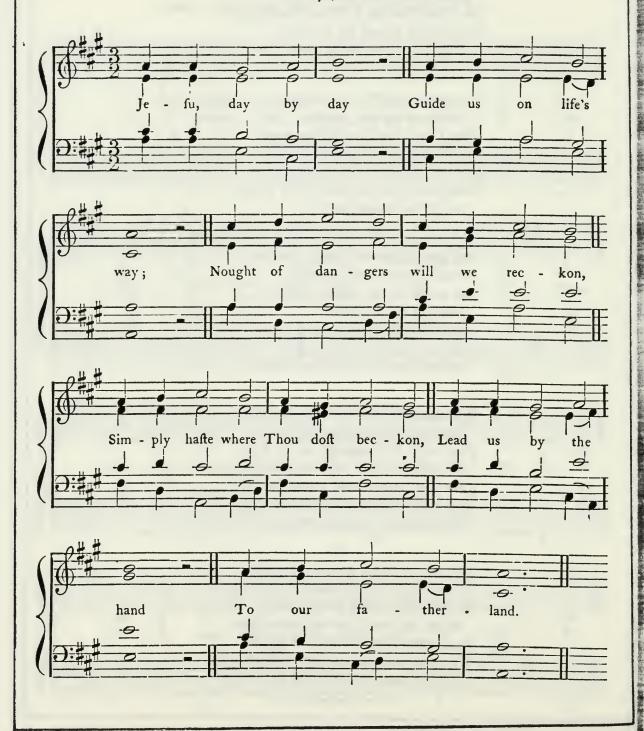

Will bear thee through life's toil and care

To Him who still doth love thee.

MARRIAGE.

(xcv .--,, Seelenbräutigam.")

174.

Hard should seem our lot,

Let us waver not,

Never murmur at our crosses

In dark days of grief and loss;

'Tis through trial we

Here must pass to Thee.

3

When the heart must know
Pain for others' woe,
When beneath its own 'tis sinking,
Give us patience, hope unshrinking,
Fix our eyes, O Friend,
On our journey's end.

4

Thus our path shall be
Daily traced by Thee;
Draw Thou nearer when 'tis rougher,
Help us most when most we suffer,
And when all is o'er,
Ope to us Thy door!

MARRIAGE. OR THE HOUSE.

(cxxi .-., Be Gett zum Saus nicht giebt fein' Bunft.")

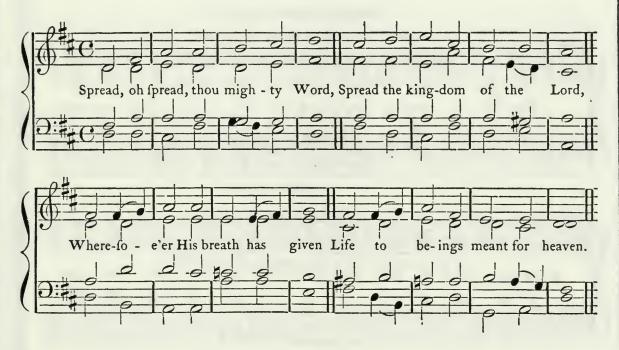

- 2 Oh blest that house where faith ye find, And all within have set their mind To trust their God and serve Him still, And do in all His holy will.
- 3 Blest, where their prayers shall daily rise
  As fragrant incense to the skies,
  While in their lives the world is taught
  That forms without the heart are nought.
- 4 Blest, where the busy hands fulfil
  Their proper task with ready skill,
  While through their different works ye see
  One spirit run of unity.
- 5 Blest such a house, it prospers well, In peace and joy the parents dwell, And in their children's lot is shown How richly God can bless His own.
- 6 Then here will I and mine to-day
  A folemn covenant make, and fay,—
  Though all the world forfake Thy Word,
  I and my house will serve the Lord.

Tune .- " Ere yet the dawn hath fill'd the skies."

And Christ, be Thou our Friend and Guide, Through all our wanderings at our side, Help us all evil to withstand That wars against Thy least command. Hallelujah

3

The Holy Spirit o'er us brood
With all His gifts of richest good,
With hope and strength when dark our road,
And bring us home again in God!
Hallelujah.

HARVEST.

(Index of Tunes, LXXVIII.)

181.

Tune.—" Oh would, my God, that I could praise Thee."

Accept, O Lord, our thankful praises

For all our Father's bleffing gives;

May it increase our faith, and lead us

To praise Thee by obedient lives,

That every deed and word may prove

We feel and trust our Father's love.

3

Thou feedest us in pure compassion;

Teach us to care for others' need;

Let each, as he is able, comfort

The sick and poor, the hungry feed:

O Father Thou of all below,

On each, what most he needs, bestow.

4

Open Thy bounteous hands in bleffing
Thus to refresh us, year by year;
Provide for us through all life's journey,
And make us faithful stewards while here
Of all that to our care is given,
That greater gifts be ours in heaven.

5

Preserve to us what Thou hast sent us,

And grant us calm and peaceful days

And grateful hearts, that we may use it

In quiet gladness to Thy praise:

And while our bodies thus are fed,

O grant our souls the Living Bread!

(xxiv .-. ,, Du Friedefürft, Berr Jefn Chrift.")

182.

The times are fore and perilous
With heavy woes and wars,
Whence no man can deliver us
But Thou! Oh plead our cause,
That God may lay His wrath away,
Nor deal with us in anger!

2

3

We have deserved, and patiently
Would bear, whate'er Thou wilt,
But grace is mightier far with Thee
Than all our sin and guilt;
Forgive us then, dear Lord, again,
Thy love is ever faithful.

4

(Danger and grief around us stand,

When plagues are in the air;

But far more wretched is the land

When cruel war is there;

Men scorn the good, in reckless mood

All holy things despising.

5

There law and judgment yield to force,

None asketh what is right;

Thy Word is hinder'd in its course,

And quench'd its blessed light;

Then drive asar this harmful war,

Help, save us from its terrors.)

6

And let Thy grace, O Lord, control
Our minds and hearts, that none
Should make a sport, that kills the soul,
Of evils war hath done.
'T is Thou alone who from Thy throne
Canst rule us thus, and save us!

Tune .- " Now thank we all our God."

Lord God, we worship Thee!

For Thou our land defendest,
Thou pourest down Thy grace,
And strife and war Thou endest;
Since golden Peace, O Lord,
Thou grantest us to see,
Our land with one accord,
Lord God, gives thanks to Thee!

3

Lord God, we worship Thee!
Thou didst indeed chastise us,
Yet still Thy anger spares,
And still Thy mercy tries us;
Once more our Father's hand
Doth bid our forrows slee,
And Peace rejoice our land;
Lord God, we worship Thee.

4

Lord God, we worship Thee!

And pray Thee, who hast blest us,
That we may live in peace,
And none henceforth molest us;
O crown us with Thy love;
Fulfil our cry to Thee,
O Father, grant our prayer;
Lord God, we worship Thee!

(Index of Tunes, LXXIV.)

Tune .- " My foul, now praise thy Maker."

O welcome day, that brought us
This precious noble gift of Peace!
For war hath deeply taught us
What forrows come where she doth cease;
In her our God now layeth
All hope, all happiness;
Who woundeth her, or slayeth,
Doth, like a madman, press
The arrow to his own heart's core,
And quench with impious hand
The golden torch of Peace once more,

3

That glads at last our land.

This ye could teach us only,

So dull and hard these hearts of ours,
Ye homes, now stripp'd and lonely,
Ye wasted cities, ruin'd towers;
Ye fields, once fairly blooming,
With golden harvest graced,
Where forests now are glooming,
Or spreads a dreary waste;
Ye graves, with corpses piled, where lies
Full many a hero brave,
Whose like no more shall meet our eyes,
Who died, yet could not save.

4

O man, with bitter mourning
Remember now the by-gone years,
When thou hast met God's warning
With careless scoff, not contrite tears;
Yet like a loving Father
He lays aside His wrath,
And seeks with kindness rather
To lure thee to His path;
He tries if love may yet constrain
The heart that hath withstood
His rod,—oh let Him not in vain
Now strive with Thee for good

5

Thou careless world, awaken!

Awake, awake, all ye that sleep,
Ere yet ye be o'ertaken

With ruin sudden, swift, and deep!
But he who knows Christ liveth,
May hope and fear no ill,
The Peace that now He giveth
Hath deeper meaning still,

For He will surely teach us this:
"The end is nigh at hand,
When ye in persect rest and peace
Before your God shall stand."

Tune-" If thou but fuffer God to guide thee."

2

Lord, let me die to felf each hour,
And at the last Thy presence give,
Then Death may try his utmost power,
He can but make me truly live;
Then welcome my last hour shall be
When, where, and how it pleases Thee.

(xv.-,, Chriftus ber ift mein Leben.")

186.

- 2 For Christ, my Lord and Brother, I leave this world so dim, And gladly seek that other Where I shall be with Him.
- 3 My woes are nearly over,
  Though long and dark the road;
  My fins His merits cover,
  And I have peace with God.
- 4 Then when my powers are failing,
  My breath comes heavily,
  And words are unavailing,
  Oh hear my fighs to Thee!

- 5 When mind, and thought, O Saviour,
  Are flickering like a light,
  That to and fro doth waver
  Ere 'tis extinguished quite;
- 6 In that last hour, oh grant me To slumber soft and still, No doubts to vex or haunt me, Safe anchor'd on Thy will;
- 7 And so to Thee still cleaving
  Through all death's agony,
  To fall asleep believing,
  And wake in heaven with Thee.

(cxvi .-., Wer weiß wie nabe mir mein Ente.")

Original Tune.

The world that smiled when morn was come
May change for me ere close of eve;
So long as earth is still my home
In peril of my death I live;
||: My God,:|| for Jesu's sake I pray
Thy peace may bless my dying day.

1

Teach me to ponder oft my end,
And ere the hour of death appears,
To cast my soul on Christ her Friend,
Nor spare repentant cries and tears;
My God, for Jesu's sake I pray
Thy peace may bless my dying day.

4

And let me now so order all,

That ever ready I may be
To say with joy, whate'er befall,

Lord, do Thou as Thou wilt with me;
My God, for Jesu's sake I pray
Thy peace may bless my dying day.

5

Let heaven to me be ever fweet,
And this world bitter let me find,
That I, 'mid all its toil and heat,
May keep eternity in mind;
My God, for Jefu's fake I pray
Thy peace may blefs my dying day.

6

O Father, cover all my fins
With Jefu's merits, who alone
The pardon that I covet wins,
And makes His long-fought rest my own;
My God, for Jesu's sake I pray
Thy peace may bless my dying day.

7

His forrows and His cross I know
Make death-beds soft, and light the grave,
They comfort in the hour of woe,
They give me all I fain would have;
My God, for Jesu's sake I pray
Thy peace may bless my dying day.

8

From Him can nought my foul divide,

Nor life nor death can part us now;
I lay my hand upon His fide,

And fay, My Lord and God art Thou;
My God, for Jesu's sake I pray
Thy peace may bless my dying day.

9

In holy baptism long ago
I join'd me to the living Vine,
Thou lovest me in Him, I know,
In Him Thou dost accept me Thine;
My God, for Jesu's sake I pray
Thy peace may bless my dying day.

10

And I have eaten of His flesh
And drunk His blood,—nor can I be
Forsaken now, nor doubt asresh,
I am in Him and He in me;
My God, for Jesu's sake I pray
Thy peace may bless my dying day.

11

Then death may come or tarry yet,

I know in Christ I perish not,

He never will His own forget,

He gives me robes without a spot;

My God, for Jesu's sake I pray

Thy peace may bless my dying day.

12

And thus I live in God at peace,
And die without a thought of fear,
Content to take what God decrees,
For through His Son my faith is clear,
His grace shall be in death my stay,
And peace shall bless my dying day.

Tune .- " Jesus Christ, my sure Desence."

2

Go and dig my grave to-day!

Homeward now my journey tendeth,
And I put my staff away,

Here where all earth's labour endeth,
And I lay my weary head
In the only painless bed.

- What is there I yet should do
  If in this dark vale I linger?
  Proud our schemes, and fair to view,
  Yet they melt beneath Time's finger
  Like the sand before the wind,
  That no power of man can bind.
- Farewell earth, then! I am glad
  That I now in peace may leave thee;
  For thy very joys are fad,
  And thy hopes do but deceive thee;
  Fading is thy beauty's gleam,
  False and transient as a dream.
- 5 Sun and moon and stars so bright,
  Farewell all your golden splendour!
  Here I loved you, but your light
  Gladly will I now surrender
  For the glories of that day,
  Where ye all must fade away.
- 6 Farewell, O ye friends I love!

  Though awhile ye journey grieving,
  Comfort cometh from above

  To the hearts in Christ believing;
  Weep not o'er a passing show,
  To th' eternal world I go.
- 7 Weep not that this earth I leave,
  Mourn not that I am exchanging
  Errors that here closely cleave,
  Empty ghosts and shadows ranging
  Through a world of nought and night,
  For a land of truth and light.
- 8 Weep not! dearest to my heart
  Is my Saviour, He doth cheer me;
  And I know that I have part
  In His pains, and He is near me;
  For He shed His precious blood
  For the whole world's highest good.
- 9 Weep not, my Redeemer lives!
  From the dust, Hope ever vernal
  Looks to Heaven and upward strives;
  Fearless Faith and Love eternal
  Now are softly whispering nigh,
  "Child of God, fear not to die!"

(LXXXV.—,, D Welt ich muß bich laffen.")

189.

2

So on His Word relying,

I know while I am dying

I foon shall see His face

Through Christ whose death hath bought me,

The Father's love He brought me,

And now prepares for me a place.

3

The grave hath lost its terrors
Since for my sins and errors
My Saviour doth atone:
My works can nought avail me,
But His work cannot fail me,
I rest in faith on Him alone.

4

My fervice cannot merit
That I should e'er inherit
Eternal life with Christ:
But He hath freely given
A share with Him in heaven
Of that fair heritage unpriced.

5

And so I hence am going
In peace, full surely knowing
With Him is perfect rest;
I feel Death's icy finger,
My soul here cannot linger,
Nor would I stay—to go is best.

6

O world, I yet would teach thee
That Death will furely reach thee,
That thou must follow me;
Then while thy days are lengthen'd,
Pray that thy faith be strengthen'd,
That God have mercy too on thee!

(LxxxII.-,, D Jesu Christ mein Lebenslicht.")

190.

2

Far off I see my fatherland,
Where through Thy grace I hope to stand,
But ere I reach that Paradise
A weary way before me lies.

3

My heart finks at the journey's length, My wasted sless has little strength, Only my soul still cries in me, Lord, fetch me home, take me to Thee!

4

Oh let Thy sufferings give me power
To meet the last and darkest hour;
Thy cross the staff whereon I lean,
My couch the grave where Thou hast been.

5

Since Thou hast died, the Pure, the Just, I take my homeward way in trust, The gates of heaven, Lord, open wide, When here I may no more abide.

6

And when the last great Day is come, And Thou our Judge shalt speak the doom, Let me with joy behold the light, And set me then upon Thy right.

7

Renew this wasted slesh of mine, That like the sun it there may shine Among the angels pure and bright, Yea, like Thyself in glorious light.

8

Ah then I have my heart's defire, When finging with the angels' choir, Among the ransomed of Thy grace, For ever I behold Thy face!

(LXIII.-,, Mache mit mir Gett nach Deiner Gut'.")

191.
Original Tune.

2

Now, O my Lord, I follow Thee,
Safe where Thy steps I plainly trace;
Ah, now Thou art not far from me,
Though Death is with me face to face,
And I must leave the friends most dear
Who loved me well and truly here.

3

The body calmly fleeps in earth,

To Thee the spirit spreads her wings,
And in Thy hands, a second birth

She finds in death, to life she springs;
Here was a land of tears and woe,

Where toil and care are all we know.

4

Now Death and Satan, hell and fin,

And this world, all have loft their power,
The grace and hope Thou, Lord, didst win
For me, uphold me in this hour;
For on the Son my debts were laid,
And He my ransom freely paid.

5

Why mourn, then, that I now go hence?

Surely a bleffed lot is mine;

Clothed in His spotless innocence,

Before Him as a bride I shine;

Farewell, thou evil world, farewell!

With God I rather choose to dwell.

(Index of Tunes, c.)

192.

Tune .- "Our Father, Thou in heaven above."

O Jesu Christ, Thou Lamb of God,
Once slain to take away our load,
Now let Thy cross, Thine agony,
Avail to save and solace me,
Thy death to open heaven, and there
Bid me the joy of angels share.

3

O Holy Spirit, at the end,

Sweet Comforter, be Thou my Friend!

When death and hell affail me fore,

Leave me, oh leave me, nevermore,

But bear me fafely through that strife,

As Thou hast promised, into life!

(CXII.-,, Wenn ich in Tobesnöthen bin.")

My fins, dear Lord, difturb me fore,
My confcience cannot flumber,
But I will cleave to Thee the more,
Though they the fands outnumber;
I will remember Thou didft die,
Will think on Thy most bitter cry,
Thy sufferings shall uphold me.

3

That I was graft into the Vine,

Hence will I comfort borrow;

For Thou wilt furely keep me Thine

Through fear, and pain, and forrow;

Yea, though I die, I die to Thee,

And Thou through death didst win for me

The right to life eternal.

4

Since Thou didst leave the grave again,

It cannot be my dwelling;

Thou art in heaven—this foothes my pain,

All fear of death dispelling,

For Thou wilt have me where Thou art,

And so with joy I can depart

To be with Thee for ever.

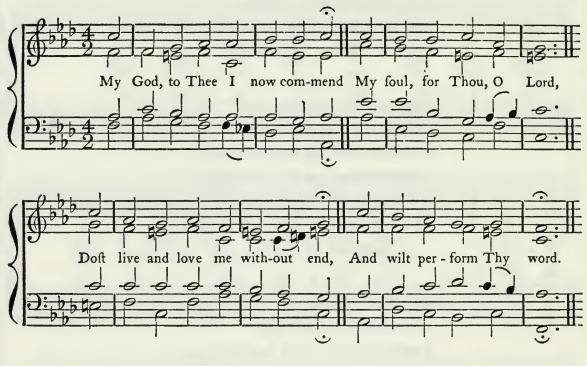

5

To Thee I now stretch out mine arms,
And gladly hence betake me;
I sleep at peace from all alarms,
No human voice can wake me.
But Christ is with me through the strife,
And He will bear me into life,
And open heaven before me.

(Index of Tunes, LXXVI.)

194.

Tune.-" Now that the fun doth shine no more."

To whom else should I make my plea, That heavenly life be mine? All souls, my God, belong to Thee, My soul is also Thine.

3

Thou gav'st my spirit at my birth,
Take back what Thou hast given;
And with the Lord I served on earth
Grant me to live in heaven.

4

Faith spreads her wings, she sees reveal'd The shining walls above; My spirit knows that she is seal'd, Redeem'd from death by love

5

Thou my Deliverer wast of yore,
From sin Thou mad'st me free,
Now, faithful God, dost Thou once more
In death deliver me.

6

Thou liv'st and lovest without end, And dost perform Thy word; My passing soul I now commend To Thee, my God and Lord!

(LII.-,, Jerusalem, bu hochgebaute Stadt.")

195.

- 2 Oh happy day, and yet far happier hour,
  When wilt thou come at last? [er,
  When fearless to my Father's love and powWhose promise standeth fast,
  My soul I gladly render,
  For surely will His hand
  Lead her with guidance tender
  To heaven her satherland.
- A moment's space, and gently, wondrously,
  Released from earthly ties,
  The fiery car shall bear her up to thee
  Through all these lower skies,
  To yonder shining regions,
  While down to meet her come
  The blessed angel legions,
  And bid her welcome home.
- 4 Oh Zion, hail! Bright city, now unfold
  The gates of grace to me!
  How many a time I long'd for thee of old,
  Ere yet I was fet free
  From yon dark life of fadness,
  Yon world of shadowy nought,
  And God had given the gladness,
  The heritage I sought.

- 5 Oh what the tribe, or what the glorious host,
  Comes sweeping swiftly down? [most,
  The chosen ones on earth who wrought th
  The Church's brightest crown,
  Our Lord hath sent to meet me,
  As in the far-off years
  Their words oft came to greet me
  In yonder land of tears.
- 6 The Patriarchs' and Prophets' noble train,
  With all Christ's followers true,
  Who bore the cross, and could the worst
  That tyrants dared to do, [disdain.
  I see them shine for ever,
  All-glorious as the sun,
  'Mid light that sadeth never,
  Their perfect freedom won.
- 7 And when within that lovely Paradise
  At last I safely dwell, [rise,
  From out my soul what songs of bliss shall
  What joy my lips shall tell,
  While holy saints are singing
  Hosannas o'er and o'er,
  Pure Hallelujahs ringing
  Around me evermore.
- 8 Innumerous choirs before the shining throne
  Their joyful anthems raise,
  Till heaven's glad halls are echoing with the tone
  Of that great hymn of praise,
  And all its host rejoices,
  And all its blessed throng
  Unite their myriad voices
  In one eternal song!

(vii.-., Alle Menschen müffen fterben.")

196.

- 2 Therefore, fince my God doth choose it, Willingly I yield my life, Nor I grieve that I should lose it, For with forrows it was rife; And my Saviour suffer'd here That I might not faint nor fear, Since for me He bore my load And hath trod the same dark road.
- 3 For my sake He went before me,
  And His death is now my gain;
  Peace and hope He conquer'd for me,
  So without regret or pain
  To His lovely home I go,
  From this land of toil and woe,
  Glad to reach that blest abode
  Where I shall behold my God.
- There is joy beyond our telling
  Where so many saints are gone;
  Thousand thousands there are dwelling,
  Worshipping before the throne,
  There the seraphim on high
  Brightly shine, and ever cry
  "Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord!
  Three in One for aye adored!"
- Dost Thou shine, Thou city fair!
  Lo! I hear the tones more nearly,
  Ever sweetly sounding there!
  Oh what peace and joy hast thou!
  Lo the sun is rising now,
  And the breaking day I see
  That shall never end for me!
- 6 Yea, I see what here was told me,
  See that wondrous glory shine,
  Feel the spotless robes enfold me,
  Know a golden crown is mine;
  So before the throne I stand
  One amid that glorious band,
  Gazing on that joy for aye
  That shall never pass away!

(LXXXVI.-,, D wie feelig feid ihr boch ihr Frommen.")

197.

2

Here as in a dungeon grief hath bound us,

Cares and fear and terrors still furround us,

Our best endeavour

But in toil and heart-ache issues ever.

3

While that ye are in your mansions resting,
Safe and free at last from all molesting,
No cross or fadness
There can hinder your untroubled gladness.

4

Christ doth wipe away all tears and crying,
Ye possess what we must seek with sighing;
To you are chanted
Songs that ne'er to mortal ears were granted.

5

Oh who would not for that home of joyance
Gladly leave a land of dark annoyance?
Who loves delaying
'Mid a world of shadows and decaying?

6

Come, we pray Thee, from our post release us;

Quickly guide us to Thy heaven, Lord Jesus:

In Thee the spirit

Can alone true joy and rest inherit!

- majkara

(cx .-- , Welt abe, ich bin bein mübe.")

198.

- When I reach that home of gladness
  I shall feel no more this load,
  Feel no sickness, want, or sadness,
  Resting in the arms of God.
  In the world woes follow fast,
  And a bitter death comes last,
  But in heaven shall nought destroy
  Endless peace and love and joy.
- 3 Here is nought but care and mourning,
  Comes a joy, it will not stay;
  Fairly shines the sun at dawning,
  Night will soon o'ercloud the day;
  World, with thee we weep and pine,
  Gnawing care and grief are thine;
  But in heaven is no alloy,
  Only peace and love and joy.
- 4 Well for him whom death has landed Safely on yon bleffed shore, Where, in joyful worship banded, Sing the faithful evermore; For the world hath strife and war, All her works and hopes they mar, But in heaven is no annoy, Only peace and love and joy.
- 5 Time, thou speedest on but slowly,
  Hours, how tardy is your pace,
  Ere with Him, the High and Holy,
  I hold converse face to face:
  World, with partings thou art rise,
  Fill'd with tears and storms and strife;
  But in heaven can nought destroy
  Endless peace and love and joy.
- 6 Therefore will I now prepare me,
  That my work may stand His doom,
  And when all is sinking round me,
  I may hear not "Go"—but "Come!"
  World, the voice of grief is here,
  Outward seeming, care, and fear,
  But in heaven is no alloy,
  Only peace and love and joy!

(LXXXIX. PSALM 42, Goudinel.)

199.

2

Lift Thy hand to aid us, Father,

Look on us who widely roam,

And Thy scatter'd children gather

In their long'd-for promised home.

Steep and weary is the way,

Shorten Thou the sultry day:

Faithful warriors hast Thou sound us,

Let Thy peace for aye surround us.

3

In that peace we reap in gladness

What was sown in tearful showers:

There the fruit of all our sadness

Ripens,—there the palm is ours;

There our God upon His throne
Is our full reward alone.

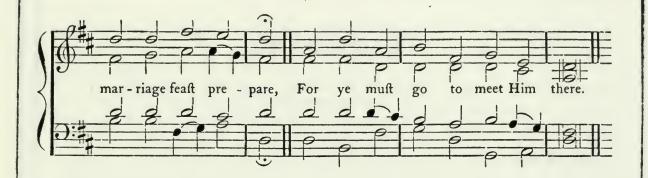

They who all for God surrender,

Bring their sheaves in heavenly splendour.

(cvi.-,, Bachet auf ruft une bie Stimme.")

2

Zion hears the watchmen finging,
And all her heart with joy is springing,
She wakes, she rises from her gloom;
For her Lord comes down all-glorious,
The strong in grace, in truth victorious,
Her Star is risen, her Light is come!
Ah come, Thou blessed Lord,
O Jesus, Son of God,
Hallelujah!
We follow till the halls we see
Where Thou hast bid us sup with Thee.

3

Now let all the heavens adore Thee,
And men and angels sing before Thee,
With harp and cymbal's clearest tone;
Of one pearl each shining portal,
Where we are with the choir immortal
Of angels round Thy dazzling throne;
Nor eye hath seen, nor ear
Hath yet attain'd to hear
What there is ours,
But we rejoice, and sing to Thee
Our hymn of joy eternally.

Psalm exxxiv. (in England called the Old 100th). The Melody is given below, as it is found on its first appearance (without harmonies) in the work: "Les Pseaumes mis en rime Française par Cl. Marot et Theodor de Bèze; à Lyon par Jan de Tournes pour Antoine Vincent, MDLXIII." * (Preface dated Geneva, June 10, 1543.)

PSEAUME CXXXIIII.—Th. de BE (Theo. de Beza),

Subsequently this tune (as above, without any alteration) appears to "Psalm C. Jubilate Deo, J. H." in Sternhold and Hopkins' edition of the Whole Book of Psalms, London, 1604, and later in Ravenscroft's "Whole Booke of Psalmes, London, 1621; "set for four parts, once on the words of the 100th Psalm, and a second time to harmonies by Ravenscroft, as given below. The melody is assigned to the Tenor, as was usually done at that period.

VI.

Luther's tune and hymn, Bir glauben all an Einen Gott," as it appears for the first time in Johann Walter's, Geistliches Gesangbiichsein." Wittemberg, 1524. The harmonies are taken from the tune book published by command of the, Gisenach Kirchenconserend," by G. v. Tucher and others (Stuttgart, 1854), and are probably selected from old editions.

This hymn and tune was intended by Luther to be fung as the Creed during the morning fervice, and remained in use as such for a long time. Though omitted by the Editors in the body of this work, being considered by them unsuitable for England, they have inserted it here as an interesting specimen of hymnology.

And we believe in Jesus Christ,

His Only Son, our Lord, possessing
An equal Godhead, throne and might,

Through whom descends the Father's blessing;
Conceived of the Holy Spirit,

Born of Mary, virgin mother;
That lost man might life inherit
Made true man, our Elder Brother,
Was crucified for sinful men,
And raised by God to life again.

And we confess the Holy Ghost, Who from Son and Father floweth, The Comforter of fearful hearts,

Who all precious gifts bestoweth; In whom all the Church hath union, Who maintains the Saints' Communion; We believe our fins forgiven,

And that life with God in heaven,
When we are raised again, shall be
Our portion in eternity.

TITLES IN FULL, ETC.

- 1649." (From it No. XXXVI, LXX, LXXXVI, XCIV in this book.) Crüger's ,, Geistschenmesobien," just named, is preceded in 1640 by his ,, Neues Bollsomussiches Gesangbuch Augsburgischer Consession," and followed in 1658 by his "Praxis pietatis melica," the titles of both of which, being rather lengthy and bombastic, are not given here at full length. Of hymnological works of that period these are among the most important, and before the close of the 17th century the last-named had gone through nearly 30 editions. From these three works No. VII, XXIV, XXXVI, LIII, CIII, and others in this book.
- fannten Melodien und 123 Liebern vermehret, wie auch von vielen im vorigen gefundenen Druckschlern verbesser; zur Ermunterung glänbiger Seesen, mit einer von guten Freunden verlangten Vorrede Eberhard Phillip Zuchlens, jüngeren Stadtpredigers daselbst u. s. w. Darmstadt, im Drucke Sebastian Griebels. 1698." This book is generally quoted by the name of Zuehlen, who wrote the preface. No copy, and consequently no title, is known of the work to which it refers as its predecessor, and as having been printed at Halle. From it No. LXXVI, LXXIX, XCV, XCVI in this book.
  - a. "Geistreiches Gesangbuch, ber Kern alter und neuer Lieder. Wie auch die Noten ber unbekannten Melodepen, und dazu gehörige nützliche Register in sich haltend, samt einer Borrede zur Erweckung heiliger Andacht u. s. w. Heransgegeben von Joh. Anast. Freylinghausen. Halle, im Waisenhause. 1704."
  - b. "Neues geistreiches Gesangbuch, auserlesene, so alte als neue, geistliche und siebliche Lieber, nebst den Noten der unbekannten Melodeien in sich haltend n. s. w. Herausgegeben von Joh. Anast. Frensinghausen. Halle, im Waisenhause. 1714." b forms the 2nd part of a, and after having separately gone through many editions their contents were united into one, and published together in 1741—two years after the death of the original editor—by his son-in-law G. A. Francke. From that period it appeared under the name, Joh. Anast. Frehsinghausen's 2c. Geistreiches Gesangbuch n. s. w.," and contained about 1600 hymns to 600 tunes; it was reprinted at as late a date as 1771, and must doubtless be considered as the most important hymnological book of the 18th century. On its appearance it was looked upon as typisying the spirit pervading the class of Christians at that period, designated in Germany as the "Pietisten," and consequently became much attacked by the orthodox party, to the extent of the theological faculty of Wittenberg issuing an official warning against the use of the book (1716). From the different editions of Freylinghausen No. X, XXIII, XXXIII, XLII, LVIII, and several others in the present work are taken.
